

Read This, Consumptives

"From the way my wife coughed for six months, I knew she had consumption. She showed it in her face, too, and her body wasted away to a mere skeleton. After she got down in bed the doctors couldn't do any good. I called in both Dr. T. A. Shannon and Dr. N. L. Hawson, each of whom is a first-class physician, but they had nothing that would reach the trouble in her lungs. My wife's father came to see her one day, when she got very low. He lives in Cedar Lake, Wis., while we live in Rice Lake, Wis. He said he knew what was needed, and made me get a bottle of Acker's English Remedy for Consumption. I went to Schmidt's, our local druggist, and got a bottle, and it helped her right away. She took eight soc. bottles, and they put her back on her feet and made her as sound and well as any woman in town. She has taken on flesh again, she doesn't cough, and if any one who doesn't know the facts was to be told she was so near death with consumption, he wouldn't believe it. My wife does all her housework, and at night sleeps as soundly as you please. Her stomach no longer gives her any trouble at all. Maybe you doubt what I am telling. If so, I advise you to see J. N. Schmidt, the druggist who sold me Acker's English Remedy for Consumption. He'll tell you the same thing. He says Acker's English Remedy is wonderful in all throat and lung troubles; that it is sold on a guarantee to cure, or money returned, and he never yet had a bottle come back to his store, although he has sold hundreds of them. My name is Luther Bedell, Rice Lake, Wis."

Acker's English Remedy is sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee that your money will be refunded in case of failure. See sec. and $1 a bottle in United States and Canada. In England 1s. 6d., 2s. 6d., and 4s. 6d.

MISSISSIPPI JETTIES.

They Cost $50,000,000, and Now Are to Be Turned Over to the Government.

"The Eads jetties in the south pass of the Mississippi delta are now ready to be taken over by the government," said Estell McHenry, of St. Louis, one of the administrators of the Eads estate, to a Washington Post man. "The 20 years that the contractor was required to keep 26 feet of water flowing through the south pass have now expired, and every condition of the contract has been complied with. By the terms of the recent act of congress the government may assume control of the works by paying over to the Eads estate the $50,000,000 yet remaining of the contract price. This will be done as soon as a purchase price for the plant has been agreed upon and other details cleared up. It is not likely that any obstacles will come in the way of a final settlement, as it is provided that the price to be paid for the plant, which is outside the contract price for building the jetties, is to be fixed by arbitration in case of a failure to agree.

"The Mississippi jetties are among the most gigantic engineering feats of the world, costing in the neighborhood of $50,000,000, and making a 26-foot channel out of a stream where there was formerly but eight feet of water. This has made of New Orleans a port for the largest among ocean-going vessels, where otherwise only the smallest of craft could have crossed the bars.

"The Eads jetties, however, while they are up to the specifications of the contract, will not meet the needs of the future. They are already building vessels that draw 30 feet of water. It is now proposed that the government shall build jetties in the southwest pass that will make of it a channel with water for even larger than 30-foot draught vessels. The southwest pass has now only about eight feet of water, the silt the Mississippi brings down having filled up eight feet of it since the Eads jetties were built, 20 years ago."

A SILVER BEDROOM.

Pretty Creation in White of One of Newport's Smart Set.

Recently I went to a very "smart" luncheon given by one of Newport's richest women, writes Edith Lawrence, in Ledger Monthly. Her house is a dream of beauty and good taste. Her bedroom is the loveliest thing I ever saw. The whole room had the effect of white and silver. The wood-work was white, the wall paper white and silver. Her bedstead was white enamel, with bars and posts and knobs of silver. Her dressing table was white, with a beautiful old-fashioned standing oval mirror on it. In a carved silver frame. Instead of a small pin-cushion in the middle and trays for pins and stick pins, she had two good-sized sensible triangular pin-cushions, covered with white satin embroidered in silver, and fitted into two upper corners of her dressing table; of course, her complete toilet set was silver. Then on her writing desk she had some things I had never seen before. A solid silver blotting book, a pad of blotting paper, with a silver back, as it were. Such an improvement on the pads with silver corners, which are always coming off. And she had a small silver bowl filled with sand, where her pins were stuck, to keep them from rusting. Her silver inkstand had a small tank attached, which her maid filled every day, and moullage pot, sponge holder and paper-cutter, all in silver. In her dressing-room, off from her bedroom, we saw the loveliest toilet outfit imaginable, and so many new things. She had a silver-tooth-powder bottle, which had a sliding top, and was filled from the bottom; and a most attractive silver rack, with a place for a tooth brush for every day in the week. The tooth brushes were of ivory and were numbered, with tiny silver figures. There were silver pegs over the washstand, as well, to hang sponges, etc., and silver stands for toilet waters. Altogether I never saw such a complete outfit. The articles were all made to order for the lady in Vienna, but probably they can be duplicated here with slight variation in form and ornament, if one can afford the luxury.

Cold Steel or Death.
 "There is but one small chance to save your life and that is through an operation," was the awful prospect set before Mrs. I. B. Hunt, of Lane Ridge, Wis., by her doctor after vainly trying to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jaundice. He didn't count on the marvellous power of Electric Bitters to cure stomach and liver troubles, but she heard of it, took seven bottles, was wholly cured, avoided surgeon's knife, now weighs more and feels better than ever. It is positively guaranteed to cure stomach, liver, and kidney troubles and never disappoints. Price 50c at Blakeley's drug store. 1
