Roseburg is growing so rapidly, spreading to new territory so fast, that the one lone bridge spanning the river and connecting West Roseburg with the city is becoming inadequate for the travel, besides it is too far to the south to accommodate the northern portion of the town and the west side. Since the city has passed the one bridge stage of its existence, the probable site of a second structure across the Umpqua is being discussed by many interested people, and the opinion is that a bridge from the foot of Douglas street to Mercy Hospital would be a welcome improvement.

A CARD OF THANKS.

We hereby express our appreciation and thanks to all who manifested their sympathy and sorrow by their helpfulness and kindness unto us and Mr. Penny during his last late illness and funeral services.

MR. N. BEVIER, MRS. TAYLOR and other of his relatives.

The former prime minister of China has been sent the yellow cord which is a polite way the Chinese have of telling him to go off and Ostrize himself.

A Tennessee man and woman have lived together for twenty years, and during that time have only spoken to one another twice. Apparently there are yet a few happy marriages.

OBITUARY.

Mr. Robert Penny, the subject of this sketch, as born in Pope county, Minnesota, in March 1876, and died in Roseburg, Oregon, October 22, at the home of his uncle, Mr. John Penny.

The principal cause of his disease was constitutional stomach trouble from childhood. He was member of the Congregational church, having been converted in his young days, and in a personal conversation with him on the evening previous to his decease he expressed his faith in God and hopes of an eternity of bliss through Jesus' merits.

Mr. Penny was of a genial disposition and wherever he went won many friends to him by his sunny, bright character and care free life. He leaves his father, four sisters, three brothers and many friends who regret his early decease.

The remains were prepared by undertaker Hammitt for the long journey across the plains to the old home in Minnesota and the old home cemetery where lies the remains of his mother to await the sound of the trumpet that shall call the world to judgment.

Quite a company of friends and neighbors attended the funeral services held in the Free Methodist church of West Roseburg. The services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. E. H. Dollard, assisted by Rev. E. D. Blackman. Funeral text Job 14-14; the truth listened to by an attentive audience.
