THE BABIES

There are all kinds of babies.

There are good babies and bad babies, squalling babies and smiling babies, pretty babies and homely babies, smart babies and dull babies, your own babies and your neighbor's babies.

The good babies, the pretty babies, smiling babies, and smart babies are usually your own. The bad babies, squalling babies, homely babies and dull babies are always your neighbors' babies.

There is nothing so cute as the things your own baby says, but the things your neighbors' baby says are really tiresome and commonplace.

Without babies fathers and mother would be out of a job and Roosevelt would be shorn of one of his pet hobbies.

No home can be happy where there is unknown the patter of little feet, the artless prattle of baby tongues and childhood's happy laugh that springs from innocent and care-free hearts.

Babies are delicate little tendrils and easily bruised. Deal with them gently and carefully.

Babies are the sunshine of life and no clouds should be allowed to come in and shut off the light.

Childhood has no forebodings. The simple faith of childhood would be worth much to many of maturer years.

Children are human mirrors, in which are reflected the conditions of home.

Babies are told so much nonsense that the wonder is that they ever grow to an intelligent citizenship.

A person that is a fit associate for his children need have no fear of hell.

The great agnostic, Ingersoll, was like the Saviour, in that he loved little children.

GUMPTION ON THE FARM.

Save the beautiful things in nature. Don't cut down a shapely pine or poplar just to see if the axe is sharp; and when gobbling out fields, set the fine straight hardwood shrubs in some forest tract for a future use.

All rubbish about the place that would harbor insects and other pests should be cleaned up and burned. If it has not already been done, hotbeds and cold-frames should be also cleaned up and soil prepared for bedding.

There are life insurance, fire insurance, storm insurance and stock insurance, all of them good enough so far as they go, but none of them quite equal to the industry that insures against unhappiness and want in old age.

Now that the days are shorter you will be doing chores after dark. Make it a rule never to set the lantern down on the floor. Hang it up where it will not be knocked over. It is an awful thing to have the barn burn up. By the way, a harness snap suspended from the ceiling by a bit of old pump chain is a good thing to hang the lantern on. Have it just above the reach of your head.
