FIRST HUNGER STRIKE

This is the Course Adopted By I. W. W. at Spokane

RIOTERS WON'T WORK

And go on Hunger Strike Against Being Fed on Bread and Water—Not Wholesome for the Stomach.

(Special to The Evening News)
SPOKANE, Nov. 6.—A hunger strike, similar to that resorted to by the suffragettes of England, began with the two hundred Industrial Workers in jail this morning. They were convicted of disorderly conduct for street speaking, and given bread and water twice daily because they refused to work. This is the first hunger strike ever made in the United States, and the strikers declare they will not eat until given substantial food. It is thought that the authorities may try a stomach pump if found necessary.

Louis Scamenel weakened in his resolution of abstinence, and volunteered to work for food, whereupon he was kicked about his cell by his companions and denounced as a shirk and traitor.

Habeas corpus proceedings are to be started in the remainder of the cases, according to Vicent St. John, Chicago counsel of the Workers. Three damage suits have already been started by them against the city.

There were fewer arrests made this morning, but the police are showing no signs of relenting.

BLOODY MURDERER KILLS SALOONKEEPER

(Special to The Evening News)
PASCO, Wash., Nov. 6.—Patrick Cavanaugh is dead here with his throat cut from ear to ear. James McDoyle is being pursued by a posse near Wallula. It is said that McDoyle met the dead man in Cavanaugh's saloon early yesterday, and began an argument of some sort. Without warning he grabbed Cavanaugh by the head from the rear and slashed his throat three times with a razor.

CLINGENPEEL, THE JEWELER COLONEL ROOSEVELT IS UNINJURED

(Special to The Evening News)
NAIROBI, Nov. 6.—(By Staff Correspondent.)—Roosevelt and all members of the party are in good health. There was no ground whatever for the rumor announcing the Colonel's death. Roosevelt is today beating the brush in the Eldama ravine, where he is hunting bongo, a rare species of African antelope. While I knew yesterday to practically a certainty there was no ground for the report of the accident, the fact that the Colonel was absent from camp made it impossible to issue an unqualified denial until today, when I got communication through a runner with the Roosevelt party. "No Rhino get Bwana Tumbo; Bwana Tumbo get Rhino," grinned black hero worshipper.

PARIS PAPER SAYS ROOSEVELT HAS FEVER

PARIS, Nov. 6.—The Rome correspondent of Temps declares that Colonel Roosevelt is gravely ill near Nairobi, and says Mrs. Roosevelt is hastily preparing to go to Africa. Her agitation, it is stated by the correspondent, was not caused by yesterday's rumors, but from private information she had received stating that he had fallen a victim to the fever.

Eve Heazlett, the esteemed young wife of Bob McKenzie, of the McKenzie Merry Makers, was pleasantly surprised at her apartments at the Harrington house last evening, when about twenty of her friends assembled in honor of her twentieth birthday. The evening was spent in the playing of games, singing songs and social converse, and it is needless to say that the guests enjoyed the occasion very much. Late in the evening delicious luncheon was served after which the guests departed, feeling well paid for their visit. The young lady was the recipient of many costly remembrances, among them being a diamond ring and a gold watch.

FEARFUL TRAIN WRECK

Five Killed and Two Hundred Passengers Injured

LOCAL PENNSYLVANIA

Was Commutation Train Making up Lost Time When Collision Occurred—Had Over Hundred Million Dollars.

(Special to The Evening News)
JERSEY CITY, Nov. 6.—A most disastrous train wreck occurred here today. Five were instantly killed and two hundred wounded, some seriously, on the inbound passenger train which was wrecked upon entering the Pennsylvania yards, and four passenger cars demolished.

The train was a local on the Pennsylvania railroad out of Philadelphia, and ran into an open switch at Brunswick street Junction and collided with terrific force with a switch engine, which was not moving, and smashing everything including the passenger cars which were virtually crumpled up.

Both engineers, firemen and a trackwalker, who was sitting on the switch engine, were killed.

It was a commutation train, behind its schedule, making up for lost time, and was traveling at the rate of 50 miles an hour, and the train crew did not have time to jump and save themselves.

The mail car contained over one million dollars in specie, which was being transferred to New York by the Adams Express. The company's detectives are guarding the car containing the money.

Quite a number of the injured are not expected to survive their casualties.

The dead are John Monroe, engineer, and John McClure, fireman; John Spille, engineer, and Daniel Mead, fireman; Stenclo Degosie, trackwalker, John Harrington, towerman, was arrested for responsibility for switch being open.

The hospitals report there are no passengers seriously hurt.

Later reports from the wreck show that Fireman Mead was not killed as first reported, but jumped from the engine and escaped death. Towerman Harrington underwent examination on charge of carelessness, and proved he was not responsible for the accident. He has been dismissed from custody.

TOO HORRIBLE TO THINK OF

(Special to The Evening News)
GREENBURG, Pa., Nov. 6.—After shooting his three children—Elizabeth, aged 4 years; Richard, aged 8 years, and Kenneth, aged 6 years, E. J. Berry, formerly mayor of this city, shot himself through the heart, dying instantly. Elizabeth is dead, but his sons will probably recover. No reason is ascribed for the awful deed.

He called them into his rooms and shot them one after another, when believing them dead killed himself. It is believed to have gone insane over business worry.

Employees of an eastern glue factory are evidently not so very badly stuck on their jobs. They want a 50 per cent raise in wages.

GREAT FRENCH WOMAN

Scores Signal Victory Today in Perjudiced Court.

VALET PROVED PERJURER

Makes Marked Impression Upon Immense Crowd in Attendance Upon the Court—Regarded as Signal Victory.

(Special to The Evening News)
PARIS, Nov. 6.—Madame Steinhell is passing her crisis today. 87 witnesses have been summoned by the prosecution in its persistent endeavors to prove the woman guilty, and every opportunity is being seized by the Court to further an opportunity for bulldozing. Another victory was secured today on behalf of the woman when Remy Conillard, her husband's valet, testified to finding the woman lightly bound, indicating that she could have bound herself.

The counsel for the defense immediately presented a written statement made by Conillard immediately following the tragedy in which he swore Madame Steinhell was tightly bound and in a manner that was impossible to do herself.

This prompt conviction of the valet of virtually perjury had a marked effect upon the immense crowd in attendance upon the Court, and was greatly regarded as another signal victory scored in the woman's behalf.

SOUTH CAROLINA ENTERTAINS PRESIDENT

(Special to The Evening News)
CHARLESTON, S. C., Nov. 6.—President Taft started for Columbia and Augusta at 8 o'clock this morning. At Orangeburg he made a ten-minute speech from the rear platform of the train, and his speech was enthusiastically received. At Columbia this afternoon he will sit in the chair used by nearly all of colonial governors of the state.

Dr. Osler's Last Word on Drugs.

"In fact, argumentation as to the value of drugs has been rendered unnecessary by Dr. William Osler, the greatest medical authority of the day. In a speech before the Pathological Society at Philadelphia on May 19, 1907, he declared that in the whole pharmacopoeia there are but four drugs of any positive value at all; and he occasioned great laughter by politely declining to tell what these four drugs that have some value are.

"Dr. Osler, as you know, is now

Regius Professor of Medicine at Oxford University. His many works are replete with revelations of the almost utter worthlessness of drugs." "Why, I have never doubted," declared Mr. A., "that all old school physicians believed thoroughly in the drug system. How did Osteopathy come to completely break away from drugs?" "Dr. A. T. Still, who founded Osteopathy, has the distinction also of guiding the profession in its early days and of preventing internal medication from ever becoming a part of the practice. Away back in the troublous days in Kansas, before the war, a comrade declared his belief that the day would come when drugs would no longer be taken by human beings in the hope of curing disease. The idea took firm root in the mind of Dr. Still and afterwards he began to investigate. He was seeking an efficient treatment that would not include drugs.—Osteopathic Advocate.

B. L. EDDY TO RETIRE

Will Sever Connection With Government Office

TO PRACTICE LAW HERE

Two Vacancies Will Occur in the Local Land Office in January—Bourne to Rule Appointments.

In an interview with a News representative yesterday afternoon Hon. B. L. Eddy, for the past few years Register of the local United States Land Office, stated that he anticipated retiring from the government service in December, and resume the practice of law, with offices in the new Masonic building. With the subsequent resignation of Receiver Lawrence two vacancies will occur in the local land office in January.

As yet nobody seems to have any idea who will succeed these two officers on the government payroll—notwithstanding the fact that several so-called original Bourne men have been mentioned. Before leaving Oregon last week after a brief sojourn, United States Senator Bourne intimated that he intended appointing new men as fast as the terms of the incumbents expired. Notwithstanding this intimation, however, Bourne either did not confide in his faithful lieutenants the names of the men he expected to select, or having confided that information those he took into his confidence are keeping silent.

BRITISH GUNBOAT IS CAPTURED

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 6.—It is reported that the British Honduras gunboat Tatumbla was sunk in the port of Cortez after a desperate fight with smugglers. The gunboat had captured the smugglers and its crew was celebrating their victory, when the smugglers captured the sailors, set them adrift in an open boat and then scuttled the gunboat. The crew nearly all succeeded in reaching the shore.

YOUNG MAN INJURED

William Willett Is Hurt At the Dysinger Mill

FOUR BROKEN RIBS

Also Receives an Injury of The Lung—Is Taken to Mercy Hospital For Treatment—Dr. Houck In Attendance.

While at work at Dysinger's mill shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, William Willett met with a very painful accident, the result of which will necessitate him remaining under the care of the physician for some time.

It appears that the unfortunate young man was in the act of flipping a piece of scuffling with the aid of a circular saw, when in some unexplained manner, the heavy timber was forced back striking him on the left side in the region of the lung. He fell to the floor unconscious, showing evidence of intense pain.

Dr. Houck was summoned immediately, and upon arriving at the scene of the accident found his patient suffering from four broken ribs and an injured lung. The wounds were dressed temporarily and the injured man was carried to Mercy Hospital where he will receive the best of medical treatment.

The attending physician believes the patient will recover should no unforeseen complications set in.

Mr. Willett has been employed at the Dysinger mill for some time and has many friends in the city who regret to learn of the unfortunate accident.
