Michael Maloney died at his home on Grave Creek on the 29th ult. He was the son of Edward and Susan Maloney, who were among the earliest pioneers of Douglas county, their pioneer home being near Myrtle Creek.

Mr. Maloney was buried at the family graveyard at that place. He was brought up in the strictest way according to the Catholic church and his whole life exemplified the beauty of that teaching. He leaves a wife and seven children to mourn their irreparable loss. He had many friends in this city and vicinity, and to all we tender our sympathy in the hour of bereavement.

DRAIN NOTES.

Taken From Yesterday's Issue of That Paper.

We are gathering roses from our lawn now-a-days—beautifully tinted ones, with a perfume fit for the Gods.

M. J. Morton, of Ashland, has been in our city looking over the situation. He is a successful miller, and thinks Drain a very promising place.

M. Mack has sold his farm of 200 acres for $5,000 to a Mr. Haven, a well-to-do merchant of Ashland. Mr. Haven has already moved his family upon it and returned to Ashland to close up his business there and go into that of farming, which includes fruit cultural. We welcome him.

A letter received by the secretary of the Drain Commercial Club, from Tom Richardson informs us that the next six months will see a general revival of work of all kinds throughout the state, and also a great many new organizations. The Portland Club also calls for more of our literature for distribution to which we have responded.

On the evening of November 4th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Clark, a very pretty wedding was solemnized, when Miss Jennie Hager, of Elkton, was joined in wedlock to Mr. Roy Fisher, of Kellogg, in the presence of a few friends and relatives. At the conclusion of the ceremony congratulations were in order. After which the happy couple, accompanied by the guests, repaired to the dining room where they partook of a bounteous supper.
