

PARTNERSHIP FORMED

Geo. M. Brown and B. L. Eddy Are the Principals

EFFECTIVE ON JANUARY 1

Firm Has Secured Offices in the New Masonic Building—Brown to Remain District Attorney For The Present.

Considerable surprise was occasioned among the legal fraternity of our city this morning, when it became known that Geo. M. Brown, for the past twelve years prosecuting attorney for this district, and Hon. B. L. Eddy, for the past four years Register of the local United States land office, had formed a partnership, the title of such firm to be recognized as "Brown & Eddy, Attorneys-at-Law."

The partnership becomes effective on January 1, at which time Mr. Eddy retires from the government payroll. Offices have been reserved in the new Masonic building, where the members of the new firm will at all times be found in readiness to serve in the best interests of their clients.

George M. Brown, the senior member of the firm needs no introduction to the citizens of this county. In fact, it might be said that he is recognized throughout the entire state as one of the most able prosecutors in the West. In late years Mr. Brown has been mentioned frequently as a proper aspirant for the office of United States Prosecuting Attorney, but for various reasons he declined to even consider the urgent requests of his friends.

Mr. Brown is a native of Oregon; he was educated in the public schools of this state, and when but a young man decided to study law. Accordingly he spent his leisure time in study, and late in the year 1888 entered the office of Attorney J. W. Fullerton where he remained until the year 1890 when he was admitted to the bar.

During S. W. Condon's administration as prosecuting attorney of this district Mr. Brown served as his deputy, and in the year 1894, after one of the hardest contested political campaigns ever known in this section, captured the district attorneyship of this district. Since that time he has served the people faithfully—not only in the capacity of his office, but publicly as well.

Hon. B. L. Eddy, the junior member of the new firm, although not a resident of this county as long as his associate, is well known, his connections as Register of the local United States land office having placed him in a position to meet many citizens of the county frequently.

Prior to coming to Roseburg in the year 1905, to assume his duties in the land office, Mr. Eddy resided in Northwestern Oregon for several years.

He concluded his studies in the law department of the University of Oregon in the year 1894, being admitted to practice in the same year. Later he went to Portland where he practiced his favorite profession until late in the year of 1896 when he became dissatisfied and moved to Northwestern Ore., locating at Tillamook. There Mr. Eddy practiced law until the year 1905 when he moved to Roseburg. During his residence at Tillamook Mr. Eddy was twice elected a member of the Oregon legislature, and during the session of 1903 caused to be passed the Corporation tax law, which measure has since returned the state a revenue exceeding $100,000 per year. Mr. Eddy was the author of the bill, and through his efforts it passed both Houses. The measure is similar to the corporation tax clause attached to the United States tariff bill. Mr. Eddy also promoted the organization of the Tillamook County Bank, of which concern he acted as director for several years.

Mr. Eddy's efficiency as an attorney is unquestioned and that he will become one of the leading lights in the local legal circle seems assured.

SENATOR HEYBURN PULLED BUT POOL

(Special to The Evening News)
SEATTLE, Nov. 19.—The name of Senator Heyburn, of Idaho, has been brought into prominence in the hearing of the Alaska coal land cases which are in progress here in connection with the Cunningham claim. From testimony contained in exhibits introduced yesterday it appears that more than two years ago Heyburn had become senator, Cunningham carried a coal land claim in Alaska for him in consideration for legal services.

Throughout his time Senator Heyburn has opposed forest reserve and other conservative policies advocated by Roosevelt.

Following the introduction of the private note book of Cunningham containing the above information, the affidavit given by Cunningham to Glavin containing the above information was presented. The affidavit declares that when Cunningham discovered coal land could not be taken under mining laws Heyburn decided to withdraw from the pool.

BILL BRADLEY INJURED

Is Found a Short Distance From His Lonely Home

PRACTICALLY NAKED

That He Fell From His Horse While Riding Through the Woods—Friends Leave For The Scene.

A telephone message received at the local forestry office shortly before noon today from Peel, conveyed the information that "Old" Bill Bradley, who resides alone on a ranch in the Illebee district, about 30 miles north of Peel on the North Umpqua river, had been found by forest rangers late last evening lying a short distance from his cabin. He appeared to be suffering from internal injuries and was apparently unconscious. The meager message also revealed the information that he was naked, and that aid be dispatched at once. His pack horse, a faithful old animal which Bradley owned for years, was found a short distance from the scene, seemingly possessed of the knowledge that his master was injured. The information received at the forestry office was dispatched by Claud Bartrum, a member of the local field force.

Shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon William Tipton, an uncle of the injured man, accompanied by Thomas Strader and William Allen, left for Bradley's home where they will lend whatever assistance possible.

It is generally supposed that the injured man must have been riding his horse, and in some unexplainable manner fell, frightening the animal to such a degree that it ran dragging its rider through the thicket. It was first supposed that Bradley had been bound, gagged and thrown from his horse by persons bent on robbery, but such does not seem probable inasmuch as he is a man of giant stature and afraid of nothing.

"Old Bill Bradley" as he is familiarly known in this city has practically lived the life of a hermit for the past thirty years. Seldom he comes to town, preferring to remain at his home, a mere shanty, many miles from civilization.

From the general appearance of the surroundings it is supposed that Bradley was injured sometime yesterday. It is expected that more details regarding the occurrence will be received this evening. Up until 3 o'clock this afternoon it has been impossible to get Peel, the telephone wires being out of commission.

INSTITUTE WORKINGS

Profitable Sessions—Live Wire Topics Discussed

EVENING PROGRAM GOOD

Today Closes the Work—Professors L. R. Alderman and E. D. Ressler Are Very Entertaining Speakers.

Everybody was busy at the County Teachers' Institute this morning, and work for the closing day was no less attractive and instructive than that of other days.

Yesterday afternoon two prominent educators from abroad addressed the institute, and the subjects were such as to permit of elaboration.

Prof. E. D. Ressler took "History" for them while Prof. L. R. Alderman, of the State University gave his talk on "Nature Study." Superintendent Chaney devoted his allotted time to a discussion of "High School Campaign," and it was an instructive address, appreciated by all present.

The evening session was held in the circuit court room. A crowded house greeted Prof. L. R. Alderman, of the State University, and his lecture on "Chums, Chumps and Gumps" was one of the enlivening features of the week. The professor is a fluent and entertaining speaker tells a good story, and keeps his audience in best of spirits all the way through. A number of selections by the Roseburg orchestra added much to the pleasure of the evening, as did also the solos and recitations by local talent.

This morning's work was varied a little from the printed schedule, Prof. Chaney using the question period for a talk on "Teachers' Legal Ability," or school law and its application to the work of teachers. Prof. E. D. Ressler took the hour in division A for a discussion of "High School Athletics." Advanced Methods in Number Work" was the topic chosen for Prof. J. W. Groves, of the Roseburg schools.

It will be noticed that in some instances the work outlined in a slight departure from the programme, but was none the less interesting.

Everyone in attendance feels that they have been profitably entertained, and are reinforced for the problems of everyday school life.

The session will close this evening by a musical and literary entertainment at the Court House. Prof. E. D. Ressler will deliver the address and as the professor is a gifted speaker, a treat is in store for all who go to hear him.

HORROR INCREASES ILLINOIS MINE

(Special to The Evening News)
CHERRY, Ill., Nov. 19.—Work of recovering of the bodies in the burned coal mine still continues, but it is a matter of slow and dangerous work. The temperature of the mine is becoming less all the time, but poisonous gases exist there, and they are liable to fatal results.

Rescuers who descended into the mine this morning brought up eight badly charred bodies making a total of nine up to this moment.

The fire has practically burned itself out and will not have to be contended with hereafter. When the recovery party reached the two hundred foot level this morning it was confronted by a number of the bodies of the victims huddled together. Everything indicated that after the accident occurred in the mine this body of miners had climbed to this point from the lower level and died, unable to go further. Imprints of finger nails on the palms of hands showed that they had perished from suffocation and before the flames had reached them.

On account of the gases the rescuers only remain in the mine a few minutes at a time.

The recovery of the bodies, according to later reports, is very slow since fire has begun burning in different parts of the mine. The bodies of the victims are seen in great heaps by firemen in east and west tunnels. On the second level the victims are burned black, but it is said, in most cases the features are intact.
