The Eugen Register has purchased a Cox Duplex printing press, which prints folds and counts complete 8-page papers at the rate of 6000 per hour. This means that business of that able and energetic newspaper is growing to large proportions, and that the Register is prospering. The Evening News is pleased to note the fact.

The Evening News is not only congratulating itself upon the daily increase in its business and circulation for the good benefit of Roseburg, but also upon the many words of commendation from all sources which it is in receipt of. They prove beyond the peradventure of a doubt that the Evening News has not come upon the field of daily journalism in the city as an intruder, but as a daily visitor highly appreciated by everyone.

Secretary Knox has given President Zoyaya, of Nicaragua, a proper calling down and gone as far as he can without infringing on the rights of Congress to declare war. From the news at hand the United States will have the support of all the South American republics, except Honduras, and will be backed by Mexico firmly. The result will be properly punished and any one single general will hereafter think twice before he starts a revolution, or embroils two republics in war. The two greatest powers of the western hemisphere say that there must be less fighting, and the chances are they will have peace if they have to fight to maintain it.

MYRTLE CREEK NEWS

Mrs. Martha Powell, a former resident of this place, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. McKean and Mrs. Neet.

County Superintendent Thurman Chaney visited the Myrtle Creek schools Friday.

Three of our girls away at school were home to eat Thanksgiving turkey; the Misses Vola Selig, Mabel Mayo and Beanie Bond.

A very pleasant family reunion on Thanksgiving was held at the home of J. A. Dunnivan, when all the sons and daughters gathered with their parents, the first time in sixteen years that the family circle had been unbroken. Mrs. Carrie Dunnivan Browning, of Highland, California, and Ed. Dunnivan from Eastern Oregon, being the two present who had been absent so long. Mr. and Mrs. James Rice and five children, Vincent Dunnivan, wife and two children and Thomas Dunnivan completed the party. It was great joy to the invalid mother to have all her dear ones with her again.

The members of the Card Club and their friends had a dinner Thanksgiving at the empty rooms of the brick block formerly used as a primary school room, with card and dancing. Among those present were families of C. O. White, Nete Selig, B. J. Howland, R. A. Preston, H. Pruit, H. Stevenson, Mrs. Griffith, Mrs. Beam, the Misses Alice Sherman, Rose Dickman and Mr. Willis.

A party of young people had a gay time at the Hall Thanksgiving night. Other than these two events the day was spent quietly, there being no church services, there was nothing for the general public to attend.

Dr. DeVore, of Canyonville, was in town Monday.

Miss Sena Hatley, who is down with typhoid fever, is in a critical condition.

S. S. Johns has just installed a furnace to heat his residence the first in town except the one at the school house, but very likely not the last.

The "blind pig" had a fight Monday night in which a young man ran around flourishing a razor, and there was a general "fuss for all," but no one seriously hurt. These scraps are getting disgracefully frequent. A fine chance to revoke their license will not be lost is hoped by

WEDDING AT RIDDLE

A quiet, but beautiful wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mayes, near Riddle, last Sunday, when their daughter, Eva Belle, and Mr. U. Y. Ash, were united in the bonds of holy matrimony. At two o'clock, when a number of relatives and intimate friends were assembled, the bride and groom, attended by Mrs. Roy Fletcher Smith as bride's maid and Mr. Roy Fletcher Smith, as best man, marched to their places under a beautiful arch of evergreens and white chrysanthemums, and with

The bride wore a beautiful white Crepe de Chine dress, while a bridal veil, adorned the fair lady's head, hung gracefully over her shoulders to the floor. The groom wore the conventional black.

Just after the ceremony the guests were invited to the dining room, where a bountiful repast was served; which every one enjoyed very much—but should I say every one? for our dear minister had eaten just before coming and alas!—he could indulge but very lightly in the many good things served.

The happy couple received many handsome and useful presents as well as the hearty congratulations of their many friends.

Both the bride and groom are well and favorably known in this vicinity, having spent the greater part of their lives here. The groom, a son of Mr. Lewis Yeh, is a very successful young farmer, and the bride is one of our popular young ladies.

After the departure of the guests, Mr. and Mrs. Ash, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Smith, of Portland, and the bride's sister, Miss Grace Mayes, of St. Johns, wended their way to their future home—a farm adjoining the home of both the bride's and the groom's parents. The visitors, as well as Mr. and Mrs. Ash, spent a very pleasant evening around their happy fireside.

Ah, ye happy couple the writer joins in wishing you many long and happy years of wedded life.
