

OUT OF THE GINGER JAR

"Wheather" may justly be termed a bad spell of weather.

A man is in no condition to settle down until he has settled up.

Most schoolboys would rather eat a "piece" than speak one.

The potatoe bug is bad enough but the everpresent humbug is worse.

The nightmare waits for those who indulge in too much Christmas cheer.

Why is Johnny like a side-tracked freight car? Because he has been switched.

To be successful both the baseball pitcher and the orator must have a good delivery.

What corn heard with its ears and the potatoe saw with its eyes, none will ever know.

It may be pleasant to sit in the lap of luxury, but consider how it hurts to be tumbled out.

In a baseball game a pitcher may hand all the curves and still be playing a straight game.

Many a man who is down on his "luck" might easily reach prosperity by prefacing his luck with a "P."

J. J. Hill, the railroad magnate, must be a first class driver since he can handle several lines at once.

If we were silent with respect to our achievements as we are to our mistakes, what a silent world this would be.

Perhaps Fletcher got his idea of the healthfulness of thought chewing from the cow. She stands at the head of that line.

When the preacher said, "Behold the perfect man!" every male member of the congregation became cross-eyed with looking at himself.

C. T. Nail placed at Irish and Tingley's grocery store some green peas gathered from his garden yesterday.—Glendale News.

There are a number of admirers of Judge Nail in this city and valley, who really would enjoy seeing him out picking peas in a foot of the beautiful snow. Of course no one doubts the unquestioned veracity of the News.

Our News in last issue objects to the S. P. Engineers awakening the echoes in the still night by whistling their signals as they arrive and depart from our city. The brave engineer who is such a factor in the progressiveness of civilization, with his careful fireman and brakemen, takes his life in his hands as he sits at the throttle and watches over his train. Just imagine his responsibility, and always he has the just blame of the wheel between himself and his doom. Engineers, Brakemen and Conductors are brave and faithful to their trust and when accident happens to their trains and they look upon some one who has been hurt or may be killed, they shed bitter tears of tender sympathy, and are always ready to respond to any call for help. They ought to have the best of the bakery products, and in fact we can't imagine too good for them. Brave engineers whistle on, and in Glendale there is one who if awakened from slumber will breathe a prayer that you may take your train with its profuse burden of human lives safely to its destination. By the way, we don't think they mean to disturb our slumbers—perhaps they are just taking notice of the vile orders that make the air blue near our depot. It is surely enough to stop any train that comes to our city. So while we are passing ordinances against the music of the engine whistle let us pass an ordinance for an improved sanitary sewerage near our depot, and may be we won't be disturbed by such small matters as a whistle.

Mrs. F. Hilman, after visiting friends at Canyonville and Riddle returned to the city yesterday.

William Fitzpatrick, of Marble Creek, is visiting his mother, Mrs. Emma Dohl, in this city.

Miss Mae Bailey is clerking at the Glendale Pharmacy.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Newell nee Miss Goldie Clemens, are now at El Reno, Oklahoma, visiting at the home of Mr. Newell's parents. They left Glendale about a month ago, and expect to locate in Oklahoma. Mr. and Mrs. Newell have a host of friends in this city who wish for them prosperity in their new home. Mrs. Newell is the only child of Mr. and Mrs. James Clemens in this city.
