Steamer Clarion Goes On Rocks Off Pelee

PART OF CREW PERISH

Blinding Snow Prevented the Pelee Life Saving Station From Seeing the Ship's Signals of Distress

(Special to The Evening News.) CLEVELAND, Dec. 9.—Two seamen are dead and twelve missing from the crew of the Anchor Line freighter Clarion, which burned at midnight off Point Pelee. Six members of the crew of the ill-fated ship were taken off by the steamer Hanna, which brought the news of the disaster to Cleveland at daylight. The Clarion was a wooden steamer 240 feet long with 26 foot beam. The fire started in the hold soon after the vessel passed Amherstburg. The wind was blowing a gale, and the snow was blinding while immense waves swept the deck of the doomed ship. On account of the terrific storm it was impossible for the Pelee life saving station to see her signals of distress.

Rescuers from the life saving station saved fourteen men from the wreck. Samuel Mayberry, of Cleveland, and four members of the engine crew were drowned, and the bodies were not recovered.

Reports that there had been loss of life in the fire are unconfirmed.

DANISH PEOPLE BELIEVE IN COOK

(Special to The Evening News.) COPENHAGEN, Dec. 9.—If Dr. Frederick A. Cook's data in support of claim that he discovered the North Pole was taken, as claimed by Capt. A. W. Loos, retired engineer, and Geo. H. Dunkle, New York insurance agent, Danish authorities would have easily discovered the fraud. This is the only statement obtainable at the University today. Dr. Cook, at Bronsville, N. Y., refused to discuss the Loos-Dunkle statement.

(Special to The Evening News.) FAIRMONT, W. V., Dec. 9.—Following the hazing of Miss Hattie Taylor, of Elkins, who is a student at the State Normal School, the Board of Regents have instituted a vigorous investigation to learn the identity of the frolics who are accused of having given the young lady a bath in ice water and afterward to have striped her body zebra fashion with bright red paint.
