Generally, the merchants appear well satisfied with the Christmas trade. Early in the season it was feared that business would fall short of previous years, but this presumption was overcome during the past few days. All in all the business is considered very good, tending to show that money is plentiful in this vicinity at the present time.

Warrants have been issued out of the local justice court for the arrest of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Hart two shady characters who fished a number of local merchants Saturday through forged checks. The warrant calling for the arrest of the woman is in the hands of Sheriff Fenton, while the warrant for her husband is in the care of Constable Wright. Aside from extorting money from Wollenberg and Mrs. Eaton it is learned that they also succeeded in passing a check on H. Marks for $30. It is estimated that they secured about $50 in this city. One peculiar incident connected with the affair is the fact that the checks were made payable to Mrs. F. G. Hart; signed Mrs. F. D. Hart, and endorsed by Mrs. F. D. Hart. Owing to the fact that they left here Saturday evening their capture is a conjecture.
