Mrs. E. A. Shuey is entertaining former Illinois friends this week. Mr. Frank Anderson and daughter Miss Lottie, who recently arrived from their eastern home and will look this country over with a view of locating. Mr. and Miss Anderson express it as their belief that Roseburg is certainly a delightful city to live in, and that Douglas county is a beautiful country.

Clark Bros., the local photographers, keeping up with all the new "erikles" in picturedom, are doing that class of work where the pumpkin is made to look like a mountain and the wagon conveying the produce a secondary consideration, after the style so conspicuous on many of the late postal cards issued. The gentleman's first work of the kind was exhibited at the Tabernacle Monday evening during a lecture on Y. M. C. A. work. The picture represented the "biggest thing in Roseburg" and was a small boy towering high above the county court house with his hand resting on the roof, and the picture was used to forcibly impress the audience that the Y. M. C. A. believe our boys are more important than our mansions, which is fact in every particular.

Mr. F. T. Hillman, who recently sold his farm on Rice Hill, was in the city today.

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Stratton went to Portland this morning.

E. Baylis and Jesse Baldwin are in town today from Myrtle Creek.

You want the Normal School question separated from politics. That is what the Initiative Bill does for Monmouth. This is your opportunity to keep it always separate. The state educates her lawyers, farmers, doctors, pharmacists, etc., why not her teachers. We must have schools. The better trained the teacher, the better school and more intelligent service the child gets. Vote yes, for Monmouth. sw-tf leo and Arizona, respectfully, are to the effect that Mr. Mooney has returned to McLeod, Cal., and has purchased a small tract of land, while Mr. Lynn is at Orange Hill, Mexico, and is well pleased with the country and contemplates locating there permanently.

The entertainment and oyster supper at the opera house last Saturday evening were well attended and all expressed themselves as being highly filled with soap to say nothing of the enjoyable time listening to the unique and interesting program.

Quite a lot of talk is prevalent of late in regard to paving streets and otherwise beautifying and improving the city, all of which is very nice and beneficial, but one of the best boosts to any town or community is to have a first class school. Yoncalla has an excellent school in which instruction is given up to the eleventh grade, but that does not suffice to give a pupil a high school education, and we are therefore forced to send many pupils away to get it. There is no reason why Yoncalla can't support a high school just as well as any other country city, and thereby advance the welfare of the city and community and at the same time afford opportunity for the children to acquire an high school course without being compelled to go elsewhere, necessitating additional expense and inconvenience and incidentally taking money to build up other places when the same could be used to a good advantage at home. It goes without saying that a place with good education facilities has a great leverage and will attract people who are desirable citizens and therefore will necessarily advance. Let us get together on this school question and not cease our activities until our efforts are crowned with success—a high school for Yoncalla.

Seals said he was completely knocked out the first round as measured by "gooseberry rules," but was badly out of condition to start with, and this coupled with the fact that the bovine outclassed him in reach and weight was responsible for his defeat. But after a few weeks' training he is positive he'll be able to regain his lost laurels. Go it, W. E., we're with you and our money is talking to the effect that you can regain your supremacy after a few weeks of systematic training.

Miss Iva McAllister is in the city and will spend the summer visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. McAllister.

Twenty-one boy friends of little Donald McChallen, son of Mrs. and Mrs. Roy McChallen, gathered at the family home last evening to celebrate the former's eleventh birthday in a fashion becomng to the occasion. That the little fellow thoroughly enjoyed the hospitality of Donald is evident by the many sleepy looking eyes in evidence today in the "topknots" of those who participated. It was a joyous evening for all, interspersed with games, merrymaking of all kinds, and near the close of the festivities, the one particular part of the program, that in which the small boy gives way without any coaxing—the serving of a delicious luncheon, which was by no means lacking at the event in question—the guests partook of the menu in a way that made the many good things to eat disappear like magic. At quite a late hour the boys made their exit and started for home vowing that they had the best time of their lives.
