Heavy Punch on Jaw Puts "Pug" Out.

MAY STOP BIG FIGHT

Governor Asked to Use His Official Power—Fanatic's Plans to Kill President Taft Arrested.

(Special to Evening News)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—After lingering in unconsciousness from the time he was knocked out in the sixteenth round last night by Owen Moran, Tommy McCarthy died shortly after 3 o'clock this morning of a fractured skull. McCarthy was knocked down by a heavy right to jaw punch from his opponent, his head striking with great force on the floor. The efforts of the seconds to relieve the fighter were futile and he was moved to a hospital where he died this morning, never regaining consciousness. Moran and others interested in the fight have been arrested and are now in jail.

The grand jury will immediately date up the consideration of the circumstances surrounding the death of Tommy McCarthy, who died from the effects of a blow received in the fight last evening, according to a statement made today by District Attorney Fickert.

Planned to Kill Taft.

PITTSBURG, April 30.—That Mike Shimko, the fanatic, who recently shot and killed Rev. Frank Shala, out side his church, planned to assassinate President Taft upon the latter's arrival here May 1, is the belief of the police. In Shimko's note book were found several allusions to the president. The police are of the opinion the man had confederates here and his arrest will prevent and danger to the president.

SOME CHOICE BERRIES.

Received at The News Office From the Lee Ranch, Looking Glass.

A crate of the finest strawberries it has been our pleasure to sample was received at The News office Friday afternoon from the farm of T. L. Lee in Looking Glass valley. Every berry in the crate was ripe and the flavor unsurpassed. Mr. Lee just recently located in this county, having come here from Newport, Wash., where he was engaged in the culture of fruit, and his success here as a strawberry grower is evidence that he is no novice in the business. Mr. Lee's farm in Looking Glass Valley consists of 90 acres, most of which is in grain. He has an orchard containing 200 prune trees, 400 apples and the balance in pears, walnuts, cherries and some grapes and other small fruits. Mr. Lee is one of those prosperous and energetic farmers who will make a success of anything he undertakes and it will be but a short while until he will have one of the best cultivated farms in the county.

ELECTED PRESIDENT.

Son of Attorney General Crawford Honored by Student Body.

Salem Journal: James W. Crawford, son of Attorney-General Crawford, was elected president of the Willamette student body yesterday by a large majority, carrying his ticket straight through.

The minority retained hopes of winning till about 2 o'clock, when the law students descended in a body on the ballot box and the minority's only hope vanished.

Young Crawford is a brilliant young man. He is a junior both in the law school and the college of liberal arts, and will undoubtedly fill his office to the satisfaction even of his critics.

Miss Hattie Beckley, a popular and capable student of the college of Liberal Arts, was elected vice-president; Miss Beulah Clark, secretary, and Albert Minton, the famous mile runner, and present manager of the Choral Society, was elected treasurer.

Miss Alma Haskins, the budding literary genius, was elected editor of the Collegian, with John McNeess as manager.

The officers take up their duties the first of next year. Much is expected of the new regime, as it is drawn from the blood which has been pushing Willamette to the front this last year.

The committees recently appointed to arrange for the second Annual Strawberry Festival, which will be held in this city on May 12, 13 and 14, met in joint session at the Roseburg Commercial Club rooms last night. The greater part of the evening was consumed in discussion, and it was not until late that the body adjourned. Several of those originally appointed on the committees sent word that they would be unable to act, and accordingly the vacancies were filled by other wide-awake citizens. Although no programme has as yet been arranged the committees expect to have the same in readiness soon, at which time glaring posters will be printed and distributed throughout Southern Oregon.

As a culmination of last evening's session members of the several committees are now conversant with their duties and will commence arranging for the event at once. Considerable money will be needed in defraying the expense of the festival, but the committee in charge of soliciting anticipate little difficulty in raising the required amount inasmuch as everyone appears to be taking an active interest in making it a banner occasion. In arranging the programme the committees intend to use every precaution to prevent idle moments, believing that the crowd should be entertained from the very time they arrive in the city until the last gun is fired on the closing night. Another meeting of the committees will be held soon, at which time further plans will be outlined. As usual the ladies are taking a great interest and expect to spring a number of genuine surprises on the men at the opportune time. Briefly, the event will be a hummer and should be attended by every public spirited person in Douglas county.

Have You Been Enumerated?

If not, fill out this coupon and mail it to J. D. Zurcher, of the Commercial Abstract Company, Roseburg, Oregon.

On April 15, 1910, I was living at the address given below but to the best of my knowledge I have not been enumerated there or anywhere else.

Name Street and No. City

As the taking of the census comes to an end shortly it behooves every booster to see that all those who have not been enumerated to attend to the matter as soon as possible. If all those who have not census schedules will communicate with J. D. Zurcher, of the Commercial Abstract Company, their cases will be attended to at once. The work of rounding up all the people possible at the hotels and other places should be looked after that their names may be obtained and enumerated. The work of enumerating Roseburg has progressed rapidly, and the boys will probably finish the count on time.

It behooves every citizen to see that the count is full. If you have not been enumerated get busy.

CURE FOR NERVOUSNESS.

Woman Cures Ills By Fasting Eleven Days.

BOISE, Idaho, April 29.—Going without nourishment for 11 days and as many nights, and adopting the Upton Sincal "no food" cure, which she has never heard of, Mrs. E. W. Roberts, of this city, has established a successful fasting record which has probably never been equaled in the Northwest. By so doing, she cured herself of nervous prostration and insomnia. Eleven days fasting is the extreme limit gone by Mrs. Roberts, but she declares she has often fasted from three to eight days without the slightest inconvenience.

This wonderful woman admits that she feels ravenous hungry during the first and second days of the fast, but after that all is plain sailing, and so thoroughly imbued is she with the benefits to be derived that she has influenced her friends to make short tests of the fast cure to secure relief from their ills. Mrs. Roberts says that there is no better medicine or tonic for the human system than to go without food for a long period, for the body becomes thoroughly rested and the digestive organs regain their lost strength. During her fast, Mrs. Roberts drank much water.

SELF-SAVING POLITICS.

Contemptible Species of Political Favoritism, says Senator Abraham.

The following communication appears in this morning's Oregonian from Senator Abraham, of this city, pointing out, as he says a new "species" of political favoritism that seems to thrive best.

I have observed that the Multnomah county bar is now agitating the judiciary, and think that the judiciary of Oregon is not suffering so much at present from partisanship proposition of having a nonpartisan as it is from self-serving politics. Partisanship on the bench is dead, or at least dormant, in Oregon. But there has grown up an even more insidious and much more contemptible species of political favoritism that seems to thrive best, with judges elected from the minority parties.

Thrown on their own personal political resources, instead of the evil of partisanship only occasionally manifesting itself, the entire term, for which some are elected, seems to become a campaign for the next election. This would be unobjectionable if it was based upon a conscientious desire to make a good record, but, unfortunately, human nature is frail whether the judge is selected by party or by individual effort, and the "hay-making" that is done on the bench during his term of office by a non-partisan" is the same good, old-fashioned occupation of catering to influence and discarding weakness, cultivating the good opinion of the rich and powerful, of the many rather than the few, ever allying with power, regardless of right. In short, consciously, trying to make each word, act, and decision count for personal political aggrandizement by the ordinary political methods. A litigant without the political substance in sight has about as much show to win with one of these "non-partisans" as Dr. Cook has to get a medal from Congress.

The same reason that prompts the judge who is weak enough to be partisan prompts the "non-partisan" to be political. But this is to be said

RESULT OF VOTES.

Table with 2 columns: Name and Votes. Includes Maxine Sykes (745), Maybelle Miller (622), Leota Madix (473), Loise Cobb (350), Teka Haynes (260), Fay Milledge (78), Elizabeth Anderson (42), Dorothy Abrahams (39), Silvia Marsters (25), Thelma Alley (5), Annabel Denn (9), Josephine McElhinney (3), Emma Arrant (1), Maudie Stubbs (1), Rea Sykes (3), Gladys Marsters (6), Sylvia Lewallen (7), Mildred Endicott (2), Leon Coshaw (2).

In favor of the so-called partisan as between the two. While the judge who is a partisan only shows his weakness occasionally, and the occasions are comparatively few, the professional politician on the bench is eternally at his favorite occupation. Furthermore, partisanship being really a dead issue at present at least, and the other a live one the bar should be interesting itself with something real instead of theoretical.

It is laughable, if not pathetic, to see the bar up in arms over this fabled danger of partisanship, defending the "non-partisan" judges, when it is a notorious fact that three-fourths of the "non-partisan" political capital is made by cultivating a semblance of hospitality toward his own chosen profession, encouraging the popular prejudice against lawyers of which he probably was one of the most reprehensible before he became infallible by virtue of being judge, and laying the blame of his own mistakes on the innocent shoulders of the bar.

I do not desire to discourage the bar from assisting some of these "non-partisan" politicians. In fact, I would have them give the widest advertisement possible to the fact that the bar wanted them for judges. The confidence the general public has in their judgment in such matters, which has been so carefully maintained by their friends, the "non-partisans" will do the rest.
