WILL ORGANIZE GRANGE.

Meeting Called for Next Saturday at Looking Glass.

LOOKING GLASS, Ore., May 20.—On next Saturday evening the farmers, their wives and the young ladies and gentlemen of Looking Glass Valley will meet at the residence of Thomas Olivant to organize a Grange. The Grange is for the mutual benefit of all farmers and their families and does not conflict with any of their political or religious duties. It is strictly a moral and social order. It does not advocate the forming of co-operative stores and does not require its members to pool or hold grain, or any other farm product for higher prices, unless it is their desire to do so. Where they have co-operative stores men invest capital for interest, the same as in any other enterprise, and they cannot buy goods there on any better terms than elsewhere. Then a man cannot manage a store well unless he belongs to the Retailers' Association and that association is opposed to the Parcel Post Bill and the Grange is in favor of that bill. The Grange does not levy any assessments on its members. One of the main principals of the Grange is to patronize home industries, provided the home dealers pay them cash for their products, if they don't then the Grange finds a market where they do pay cash, because they cannot pay taxes or buy the good wife an Eastern bonnet without the cash. Money is the medium of exchange in all up-to-date cities, and those who try to trade with the farmers after he has gone into the Grange will lose the farmers' interest. It is dangerous for merchants in one city to let the farmers "get acquainted" with the merchants of other cities, but the Grange teaches its members to find out who will pay them cash for their products. The farmer who belongs to the Grange don't have to take off his hat to any one except the ladies.

T. L. Lee, of Looking Glass is a Deputy State Master of the Oregon State Grange and is authorized to organize Granges anywhere in Douglas county, and if any district wants a Grange organized all they have to do is to call a meeting in their district and write to Mr. Lee and he will come and address the farmers and organize their Grange and give them all necessary instructions and supplies, and also tell them how to get the cash for all farm products. Get busy and organize.
