

YONCALLA NEWS.

George Ambrose and family, of Myrtle Creek, visited with relatives here last week, returning home last Sunday.

Cochran, Dr. George Knott and H. Brown. The Baldrock and Western railroad experienced its second disaster since being officially put into operation last week, when a rail broke allowing a valuable train load of rock to be hurled unceremoniously into a gorge.

LETTER TO HIS NIECE. Written by George M. Prior Some-time Before His Death. Camas Valley, Oregon. Dear Mary: Your very interesting and affecting letter came to me a few days ago, and today I will try to answer it, hoping some way to get it to the postoffice, for I am sick today.

tion which they invariably spend with their grandparents. The stages are making excellent time and many passengers are passing through this section daily. The Fourth was duly observed by a nice picnic celebration at the Reunion grounds.

poverty and misery, with all the gradations from the palace to the "slum". Without renewal by fresh blood from the country, city life would soon become like a stagnant pool.

has long been true that the decent, patriotic people of New York City have been compelled to look to the state legislature for relief, which could not be obtained in the city within itself, because of the prevalence of ignorance and corruption among the voters.

Mrs. Jas. Hill has sold her farm near this city to E. N. Cathin, who has taken charge of the same. Mrs. Hill will move to Dunsmuir to reside.

Much interest is being manifested in the revival meetings conducted at this place by Evangelist Myers. Many are forsaking their evil ways and are taking up the faith of the Master.

How your letter affected me—like lifting your hands toward heaven and imploring him to come back. Well, who can tell? Perhaps he is better off in a dreamless sleep than many of us who are left to live a cold, narrow existence.

(This paid column is edited by a citizen of Oregon, who will discuss questions which he deems important for consideration by the people.) Figures soon to be issued by the census bureau will be scanned with great interest by those who have been alarmed in the past by the growth of our cities.
