Folks who expect to take their money with them when they leave this earth must have money to burn.

A man—especially during campaign times—gets to the front sometimes by being shoved by those in the rear.

Yesterday a young Chicagolan and his wife who had come here to locate left the city for the northern part of the state simply because they could neither find an apartment house that could afford them shelter or an empty cottage that was desirable. The week before a similar incident occurred. While it is much to the credit of Roseburg that the town is full of people to the extent that there are no empty houses nor apartments, yet it is certainly a shame that people can not find places to live after they come here. It strikes The News that right here is a good field for the investment of a little capital in apartment houses and cottages—building operation, while extensive during the past two years, have not kept pace with the demand, as is evidenced by the cases cited, and the two spoken of are not the only ones that might be named. With the activities that are sure to follow in the wake of the railroad building that is pretty certain to materialize next season, there will be still greater demand for residences and apartment houses. There is no possible way of an investor making a mistake in building in this city. Roseburg has only started in her growth, and it is time that our people awake to the situation and prepare to meet the emergency.

Ye voters who would see good men nominated and subsequently elected, come up and register if you haven't already did so, so as to be in a position to assert your rights at the polls when the vote of a laborer is worth just as much as that of a capitalist. Don't say and act indifferent in regard to politics but get into the game and try and beat the rascals and embezzlers for by so doing you will assist the interests of the people and will also add your vote in assisting to defeat that which is in opposition to good government and which stands for special privileges and private interests. It is every man's duty to himself and his country to stand out boldly for an example which is truly American and is highly commendable and which if persisted in, in a fearless and unselfish manner will eventually prevail if directed in the proper channels. The main trouble with the average voter today is that he doesn't post himself on the chief issues confronting the people and consequently is unqualified to vote intelligently. Many, of course, are unable to thoroughly acquaint themselves with the good and bad points of measures put before the people and are therefore not to blame for being uninformed, but in a great majority of cases the lack of information is due to carelessness and indifference in the matter, as so many are prone to entertain the voting proposition as a mere farce and that none, save a favored few, can ever hope to gain thereby. Just so long as such convictions are entertained, just so long will the voice of the honest, conscientious people be smothered by those seeking glory at the embarrassment of the masses, as the grafters and schemers are always out in full force. Instead of heaping abuses upon the laws, lawmakers and the government in general, try and figure out a remedy if you see defects and vote your sentiments accordingly. One vote in the proper channel will do more toward remedying defects than all the abuses you can "rib" up if you don't register and get as far away from the polls as possible on election day. The only way to get a government of the people, for the people and by the people, is to come out on election day and assist in getting the best men to fill the different positions and also to promote such measures as will benefit the commonwealth.

LOCAL NEWS.

Clyde T. Humphrey, of Saginaw, Michigan, accompanied by his wife and two daughters, arrived in Roseburg this morning with the intention of making Douglas county their permanent home. Mr. Humphrey will not purchase property here at present, but will rent a residence until such time as he can engage in business.

Seymour H. Bell, the Tacoma capitalist, is spending the day in town attending to business matters. Mr. Bell is very anxious that Roseburg shall obtain railroad connection with the coast during the next two years, and says that in the event the Clark-Haines proposition falls through, the Douglas-Coos Development Company, of which corporation Mr. Bell is a member, will take up the matter of building a road in real earnest. "Inasmuch as Mr. Clark is in possession of the only feasible survey," said Mr. Bell, "it would be foolish for us to 'butt in', but as I say—should they fail in their efforts to finance the road, we will take over the survey and commence actual construction work." Affiliated with the Douglas-Coos Development Company are a number of men who are individually financially able to handle the road without solicitation of funds from outside parties.

False reports having been circulated by persons misinformed or maliciously inclined that the water supply furnished our customers is being pumped from the South Umpqua river we beg to state most positively and emphatically that every drop of water being used is pumped from the North Umpqua river through filters to the four reservoirs. The old reservoirs in the south part of town are entirely disconnected from the South River Plant and are connected directly to the North Umpqua river, and no machinery is being used at the South Plant except the Generator at night which generates electricity for about 100 lights.
