LAFOLLETTE WILL WIN

Regulars of Wisconsin Concede His Nomination

HEAVY VOTE IN MICHIGAN

Hot Election in New Hampshire—Vermont Democrats would Name Governor—California Adopts Platform.

(Special to The Evening News.)
MILWAUKEE, Sept. 6.—Clear weather brought out a large vote throughout Wisconsin today in the state wide primary, and the heaviest vote polled in years is noticeable. The greatest interest centers around the fight that LaFollette is making for the nomination as the insurgent candidate for the United States Senatorship. Regulars have conceded that LaFollette will probably be successful while insurgents claim that he will win by a vote of two to one. There are three candidates for governor. They are E. T. Fairfield, regular anti-option; F. E. McGovern, progressive and anti-optionist, and William Lewis, optionist.

New Method—Michigan.

DETROIT, Sept. 6.—Michigan is trying out the virtues of the direct primary law today, and heavy voting marks the election, insurgents and regulars fighting close in all five of the congressional districts.

Will Know Why.

CONCORD, Sept. 6.—The regulars and progressives are clashing in old New Hampshire today in the state wide primary. Robert Bass is the insurgent candidate for governor, while the regulars are supporting Bertram Ellis. Each declares that he will be elected or find the cause, and feeling throughout the state is intense.

No Democrat Since War.

MONTPELIER, Sept. 6.—The first general election in Vermont in 1910 opened today and an entire state ticket and two congressmen are to be elected. The candidates for governor are Dr. John Mead, republican; Chas. Watson, democratic. A big vote is being polled and the democrats are trying to break the record and elect their man governor, there not having been a democratic executive of the state since the war.

Insurgents in Control.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6.—With the progressive element in full control the republican state convention assembled today to draw up a platform and name a new central committee. The old machine is completely unhorsed. It is certain that a progressive platform endorsing Roosevelt and Pinchot will be adopted. Taft will receive courteous treatment, but that is all.

HOLD FOR STATE RIGHT

Western Delegation Shows Solid Front at Congress

WEST CALLS SPECIAL SESSION

California Takes Initiative and Asked Hay, of Washington, to Call Conservation Congress—Taft Greeted.

(Special to The Evening News.)
ST. PAUL, Sept. 6.—Oregon's delegation to the National Conservation Congress is standing pat for state control of the natural resources of the Western states, and has adopted a resolution dissenting from the criticism offered by Roosevelt, as well as that of the Federal Administration both favoring government control of forests and water power sites in the Western states. This action on the part of the Oregon delegation followed Roosevelt's speech this morning, during which the Colonel vehemently expressed himself. The California delegation has asked Governor Hay, of Washington, to call a special conservation congress to promote the interests of the Western states. Governor Hay is the leader in the state control movement and it is believed that such action will bring the matter to the attention of the public more forcibly and eventually secure local control of natural resources.

2000 Greet Taft.

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—A crowd of 2000 people assembled at the Northwestern station to greet President Taft when he arrived on the 9:30 A. M. train from Milwaukee today. The president was heartily cheered, and after an auto ride through the parks drove to the Hotel Ross, where he remained until the hour for his departure. He is now enroute to Beverly.

RANCH BUILDINGS BURNED.

Child Plays With Matches and Destructive Blaze Results.

A very disastrous fire yesterday afternoon destroyed the house, barn and three other buildings on the ranch of Jim Hill, about four miles from Myrtle Creek. The barn contained about 40 tons of hay and the granary about 300 bushels of threshed grain.

The fire was due to the 4-year-old daughter of Mr. Hill playing with matches in the barn. She threw a match in the hay. A call was sent to Myrtle Creek, and was promptly responded to, but all help arrived too late to save anything, but succeeded in checking the flames from spreading into the surrounding timber.

The loss is estimated at $3000, and no insurance. Miss Wenger, a school teacher, lost her trunk and all other belongings.

Wood, on Deer Creek, where Mrs. Reith has been visiting for the past month. Mr. Reith was accompanied by Mr. Gillis, also of Portland, and Mr. Bunch, of Coquille.

The Douglas county exhibit to the state fair was shipped from Roseburg this afternoon, and to say the least, it reflects great credit upon the committee in charge of assembling the display. Included in the exhibit are farm products, fruits and manufacturing displays of various kinds. Local people who have visited state fairs in the past are highly pleased with the exhibit shipped from Douglas county this afternoon and believe it will rank well among those of other counties in the state.

FIGHTS STATE CONTROL

Roosevelt Opposes West Taking Care Own Resources

STANDS FOR FEDERAL AUTHORITY

Ripped the Western Governors up the Back—Crowd Cheered the Remarks for Twenty Seven Minutes.

(Special to The Evening News.)
ST. PAUL, Sept. 6.—Ex-President Roosevelt arrived in St. Paul today. As a result of the fight which has developed in the national conservation congress over the water power sites in the Western states, Roosevelt has dropped his pacific attitude and will now begin an open fight for Federal control of the natural resources of the West. Immediately after breakfast at the Radisson Hotel in Minneapolis the colonel began altering his speech. Following an hour's work on the manuscript he was autographed to St. Paul where he reviewed the parade of the Spanish war veterans.

For a period of 17 seconds yesterday when President Taft appeared before the congress the crowd cheered vigorously, but today when Roosevelt attacked the matter of the forests the audience went wild and for 27 minutes pandemonium reigned. Roosevelt swung his fist and repeatedly pointed his fingers at the bunch of Western governors who stand for state control of the resources within their respective borders and said: "It is really a question of special predatory interests against popular interests; it is not a question of state or national control." Long cheers followed this remark, and then turning to J. J. Hill Roosevelt continued: "It seems significant to me that the men behind this state right movement are really influential individuals from those states not affected."

A big crowd listened to the speech. Edward Illnes, of Chicago, was made chairman of the credentials committee. J. J. Hill, the railroad magnate, was cheered when he entered the hall.

PRETTY CHURCH WEDDING.

Miss Ellen Bryan and Harry Kenney United in Marriage.

An unusually pretty wedding in which two of Roseburg's most prominent young people were the principals occurred at the local Catholic church at promptly 9:30 o'clock this morning, when Miss Ellen Bryan, the esteemed daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Bryan, became the wife of Mr. Harry Kenney.

Upon the arrival of the bride-to-be in an automobile, accompanied by members of the family, and followed by friends, the wedding party entered the church, and to strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, beautifully rendered by Miss Mabel VanBuren, the bride, leaning on the arm of her uncle, George Langenberg, and preceded by the ushers, George Neuner and Edmond Langenberg, and followed by little Harry Phillips, ring bearer; Cora Moore, as flower girl, and Anna Bryan, sister of the bride, and Helen Hamilton, bridesmaids, marched through the aisle, and meeting the bridegroom, supported by Glen Wimberly and Roy Kenney, the latter brother of the groom, assumed positions in front of the spacious altar, where Rev. Father Powers pronounced the ceremony that made them man and wife. The ceremony of the Catholic church was used and was most impressive.

The altar was beautifully decorated in China astors and roses, while the remainder of the church was trimmed in green foliage. The color effect was charming.

The bride was handsomely gowned in white, while the groom was attired in the customary conventional black.

At the conclusion of the wedding ceremony the wedding party marched down the aisle, and halted at the exit, where the happy couple received congratulations.

Entering automobiles they were then driven to the home of the bride's parents, where a bounteous wedding breakfast was served. The couple were the recipients of numerous beautiful and costly gifts, evidencing in a measure the high esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Kenney are held in this community.

They left for Portland and Seattle on this afternoon's northbound train where they will spend their honeymoon. They will make their future abode at Leona, where they will be at home to their many friends and acquaintances after October 1.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Kenney are well and favorably known in this city. The bride is an accomplished young lady and is a favorite in local social circles. The groom was until recently manager of the Leona Mills Lumber Company's local office, and is one of Douglas county's most promising young business men.

The News joins their many friends in wishing them a long and prosperous wedded life.

Mother Agnes returned to her home at Portland last evening after a brief visit at the local hospital.

District Attorney George M. Brown received a letter from the state of Washington today, in which it was stated that William Clay the individual who recently caused considerable amusement in Roseburg in being arrested accused of winning the affections of Mrs. James Inman, of Looking Glass, was a bad, bad man. In fact, the fellow who wrote Mr. Brown the letter said that he noticed Clay's picture in the Portland Oregonian, and immediately recognized him as the person who is wanted in a Washington city. For some reason the writer failed to specify the crime for which Clay is alleged to be wanted. In order to guide the district attorney the writer of the letter said that he was partially blind in one eye, and that one of his arms was punctured with a bullet several years ago. The district attorney appears to scout the informant's contention that Clay is a rascal as contended, but on the contrary seems to consider him a man of simple mind. As Clay has left the city it is not probable that the charges contained in the letter received by Mr. Brown this morning will be investigated.
