REPUBLICANS CLERICALS CLASH

Dry Farming Congress Closed Last Night—Investigation Lorimer Bribery Case Will Be Completed Tomorrow.

(Special to The Evening News.)
MADRID, Spain, Oct. 7.—The Spanish cortese assembled this afternoon after several postponements. Premier Canalejas was brought by the monarchy to again postpone the session, but he refused to do so, saying that he feared that such action would have an ill effect on the people and might cause trouble. The regular business was transacted at the session, but no reference to Portugal's trouble was made.

Did Not Bribe Anyone.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—The Lorimer senatorial investigating committee held an executive session, and it is reported that they discussed the advisability of compelling the senator to testify concerning his connection with the bribery involved in his election. Some of the members opposed such procedure, and when the meeting adjourned there was no indication that the committee had reached an agreement in the matter. State Senator Brown was on the witness stand today and testified that he had not bribed anyone in the interests of Senator Lorimer or anyone else. The investigation will probably be ended today or tomorrow unless Lorimer or Governor Denny should be summoned to the stand.

Brown testified that Representative Wilson was a physical wreck and nearly dead as a result of excessive worry over bribery charges. Wilson is in a hospital at Milwaukee.

Manuel Make Home in France—England Has Eye on Portuguese Colonies, Germany May Block the Game.

(Special to The Evening News.)
LISBON, Portugal, Oct. 7.—The Republic of Portugal was virtually recognized today by the foreign diplomatic corps, when, headed by Villiers, representative of Great Britain, the various ministers called upon Provisional Foreign Minister R. R. Machado, and tendered their respects, and in return received assurances that the treaties and the rights of foreigners in Portugal would be protected under the new administration. The United Press today obtained the first connected story of the flight of King Manuel from the capital. When the palace walls began to crumble under the bombardment the king left by a secret exit and proceeded to Mafra, where the queen and here mother Amelle joined him. Then, with the Duke of Oporto, the king's uncle, who had remained hidden until Thursday, the party boarded the royal yacht and sailed to Cistia, where the king's mother was taken on board, and from there the yacht cleared for Gibraltar, where the royal refugees are the guests of the English governor today. Lisbon dispatches report that 1,000 were killed in the various clashes around the city since the outbreak of the revolution.

It is reported that King Manuel will not attempt to regain the throne and the king said that he would probably go to France in which country he will make his home. It is believed that England will attempt to grab some of the Portuguese colonies, including the Cape Verde islands. Germany has her eye on this expected move, and will resist any such attempt on the part of England.

FAREWELL RECEPTION.

Friends of Rev. Jas. K. Hawkins Meet at Marsters Home.

Wednesday evening, October 5, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Marsters gave a farewell reception at their beautiful home on Kane street to Rev. and Mrs. Jas. K. Hawkins, who left on the 11:20 train for Portland, where Mr. Hawkins has been assigned as pastor of the Sellwood M. E. church, and he leaves many friends outside the church as well as those to whom he has ministered during his pastorate here, who are deeply grieved over his removal. Nearly 150 people assembled to bid them good-bye to their new field of labor.

The program was opened with a solo, "Bobolink", by Mrs. Brumfield, and the song was heartily endorsed. Prof. Lotz mandolin club then rendered a number of selections. Following the musical program Hon. A. C. Marsters spoke feelingly of the faithful work of Mr. Hawkins, coming here, as he did, when the conditions of the church was such as to discourage the heart of any pastor. At the time the church had a membership of only 90, but there has been a net gain of nearly 200, there now being enrolled a membership of 360. Not only has the membership been increased, but the spiritual and financial part of the church has not been neglected. The first year the pastor's salary was increased and a debt of several hundred dollars, which had been a burden to the congregation for a number of years, was lifted. Mr. Marsters also spoke of the pastor's interest in the temperance cause, of his courage in denouncing sin in the church as well as out of it, and that none could but respect him for his fearless way of dealing with sin in every form. At the close of his address Mr. Marsters, in behalf of the congregation, presented Mr. Hawkins with a beautiful watch as a token of the esteem in which he is held. The gift was duly acknowledged by the pastor in a few appreciative words. Mr. Hawkins also spoke of the sorrow he felt at leaving so devoted a people, who had made his stay in Roseburg so pleasant, and who had always stood by him in his work for the church, and asked that the new pastor be given the same loyal support that he had received.

Mrs. Jewett, in behalf of the ladies aid society, in a few well chosen words then presented Mrs. Hawkins with a beautiful brooch. The speaker sounded a rue note when she said "But we must not be selfish, for what will be our great loss will be somebody's great gain." Mrs. Hawkins responded with a few words of thanks which evidenced her deep sorrow at the parting.

Following the presentation of gifts the Messrs. Lotz, Bell, Blackman and Livingston rendered a vocal selection, after which Mrs. Marsters, assisted by a number of the ladies, served a delicious lunch.

The pastors of the various city churches join with the Methodist church in expressions of sorrow over the removal of Mr. Hawkins, who has done so much for the welfare of Roseburg.

Sellwood is certainly to be congratulated on receiving Mr. Hawkins for a pastor, and it is hoped that the people will appreciate the worth of the one who is sent to minister to them. Members of the Roseburg church and many friends outside the church are in extending best wishes to the former pastor and his family. Rev. Hawkins is succeeded here by Rev. Eldredge, recently from the East.

INDICTMENTS RETURNED.

Max Weiss and Bert Lowe are the Parties Accused.

The circuit court for Douglas county convened in an adjourned session of the May term this morning at 10 o'clock with Judge Coke, of Marshfield, on the bench. Upon the calling of court the usual array of attorneys were present as were a number of interested spectators.

Two Indictments Returned.

The grand jury which convened shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon reported in court this morning with two indictments, both of which were read in open court and ordered filed with the clerk.

One of the indictments charges Max Weiss, proprietor of the local "cold storage" plant with the crime of selling intoxicating liquors contrary to the local option laws. Specifically, he is accused of furnishing a local resident giving his name as Newman, with several bottles of Salem's Best, notwithstanding that the sale of intoxicating product is strictly forbidden by law in Douglas county. Weiss was arrested several weeks ago and at the time of his preliminary hearing was bound over to appear before the grand jury by County Judge Wagoner, who acted as magistrate in the absence of Justice of the Peace John T. Long. Weiss will be defended by Attorneys John T. Long, W. W. Cardwell and James Watson, while the state will be represented by District Attorney George M. Brown.

The second indictment charges Bert Lowe, a colored "gentleman" with the crime of assault with a dangerous weapon. Lowe, it will be remembered, was arrested about two weeks ago upon suspicion of having slashed a colored companion with a knife while engaged in an altercation on Douglas street near the McClallen hotel.

At the preliminary hearing Lowe did not go upon the stand in his own behalf, but on the contrary, appeared content that the investigation should fall upon the shoulders of the grand jury. He will be defended by Attorney George Jones, and will allege self defense.

Docket Diminishes.

Among other matters considered in court this morning was that of passing through the docket in order that all cases in readiness for trial when court convenes in the regular October term at 10 o'clock Monday morning. A large number of the civil actions were either dismissed or continued, and indications are that few jury trials will materialize. Following are the cases disposed of during the morning session of court:

11. T. E. Bledsoe, plaintiff, vs B. E. Soule Engineering Co., defendants; action for money. John T. Long & Frank Micehl for plaintiffs. Coshaw & Rice for defendants. Continued.

14. F. W. Thurber, plaintiff, vs W. F. Cooper, defendant; action for money. C. S. Jackson for plaintiff. Continued.

18. Bernard Krakenberger, plaintiff, vs Harry A. Griswold, defendant; to recover money. John T. Long for plaintiff. Continued.

21. Rose J. Smith, plaintiff, vs Douglas Mining Company et al., defendants; foreclosure of mortgage. E. H. Cahalin for plaintiff. Wilson (Continued on Page 8.)

Officers Advance Theory How Dynamite was Shipped to Los Angeles—Royalists Says Republican Force Worsted

(Special to The Evening News.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—Whether Geo. Fong, the would-be assassin of Prince Tsai Hsun, will be prosecuted by the federal officers or turned over to the police of Oakland, is undecided. Fong, who is a member of a young Chinese society here said today that he wanted to be the George Washington of China and free the Chinese from the Manchurian dynasty and make the country a republic. Precautions are being taken on board the steamer C. J. Mrau, because it was rumored that four Chinese were among the ship's passengers who were on board for an express purpose of killing the prince enroute to the Orient. Fong was arrested at the station yesterday as he drew his revolver to shoot the prince.

Officers Have Theory.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—Remains of a camp fire and a cache of provisions were discovered on Red Rock in the bay off San Quentin prison today, and it is held by the police that the find has an important bearing on the Los Angeles dynamiting. The officers claim that in all probability the fire was left on the rock by the three men who secured the dynamite from the giant powder mills, and that they camped on the rock while they changed the name of the launch from Peerless to Pastime, from which point they sailed to Martinez, where the explosives were loaded on the train and billed to Los Angeles.

BRAKEMAN INJURED.

Harry Jewett Caught Between Two Box Cars.

Harry Jewett, a Southern Pacific brakeman, met with a very unfortunate accident near Sutherlin shortly after 12 o'clock last night, and as a result he lies at Mercy hospital hovering between life and death.

According to Dr. Seely, local Southern Pacific physician and surgeon, who has charge of the case, there is scarcely any hope for the patient's recovery inasmuch as his body is horribly crushed.

According to local railroad officials Jewett was employed on southbound freight train No. 221, enroute from Junction City to Roseburg last night. The train, which was an unusually heavy one was propelled by two "hogs". As the train reached Sutherlin, so other railroad men say, the cars suddenly parted and came to an almost instant halt under the pressure of the air brake which is self applying in cases of this nature. Eager to ascertain the cause of the sudden jolt it is alleged that Jewett dropped off the caboose and ran ahead until he came to an open space of a few feet between the two sections of the train. Although there were no eye witnesses to the accident it is the belief of experienced railroad men that he walked between the two sections with a view of adjusting the couplers and closing the angle cocks of the train pipe, when the cars in the rear section suddenly lurched ahead and caught his body with the result that he was rendered unconscious instantly.

As soon as the accident became known the unfortunate young man was carried to the Sutherlin depot where he was picked up by southbound passenger train No. 15 this morning and brought to this city, taken to Mercy hospital and medical aid summoned. Upon examination it was found that the patient's hip had been broken, while his stomach was practically crushed to a jelly. That he survived the shock until today is a mystery that is baffling the local medical fraternity.

Harry Jewett is Dead.

After hours of intense suffering the unfortunate young man died shortly after 3 o'clock this afternoon. The remains will be shipped to Harrisburg for interment tomorrow morning.
