"Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth." Well, there are a lot of country newspaper who have got something coming.

A Minneapolis woman seventy years of age is suing a man seventy-four for breach of promise. The prospects of a long life together didn't appeal to him.

It must take a whole lot of Christian fortitude for a woman to sit patiently and balance one of those four-foot military creations on her head through an hour's sermon.

A glacier has been discovered in Alaska that moves only twelve feet a day. We have some politicians that haven't changed their position that many feet in twenty-five years.

Many of the friends of Prof. J. H. Austin, of Wilbur, feel aggrieved at the manner in which H. D. Reed, of Jackson county, secured the democratic nomination for joint representative. Mr. Austin was assured by democrats of Jackson county, so he says, that they would have no candidate to oppose him, recognizing that it belongs to Douglas county. Unfortunately, he failed to file his nominating petitions in time, and thus failed to get his name on the printed ballot. Then at the eleventh hour, only a couple of days before the election, Mr. Reed got busy, and got a number of his friends to write his name on the ballot, sufficient to nominate him. Then to add insult to injury, and to boast of his popularity, some friends of Reed sends the news from Gold Hill to the Oregonian, printed in the issue of September 30, that he received every democratic vote in Jackson county, though his name had to be written in, while his opponent's name was printed on the ballot. He ought to have been truthful and had the fairness to say that Mr. Austin's name also had to be written in, and that while Austin was resting in fancied security, the nomination being conceded to him, Reed was working like a beaver to secure the small number of votes required to nominate him.

A THIN DISGUISE.

Neatly Exposed By Senator Abraham of This City.

The following article, written by Senator Abraham, of this city appeared in Tuesday issue of the Eugene Register, and shows the insincerity of would-be independent newspapers:

An open letter to Chas. H. Fisher, editor of the Eugene Guard: If there was any doubt in the minds of the voters of Lane county, that your professions of non-partisanship were insincere, your editorial of October 2 should remove the last vestige.

Observe Mr. Fisher that I nowhere stated that you were a democrat. In fact, in my conversation with you, you claimed to be an "independent," without any interest in either the republican or democratic party.

If you were sincere in this, could I not in all propriety, have referred to competent, distinguished and disinterested authority, which you claim to be, as good evidence of a contemptible plot to betray the republican party without an exciting your spleen?

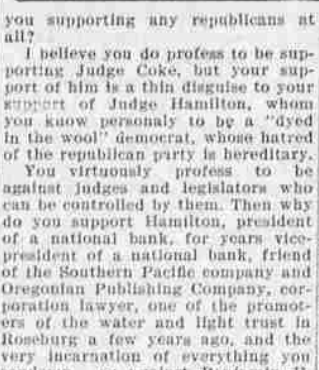

Had you told me of a plan of the republicans to do a similar thing, would you have been so provoked to anger at my reference to it?

I did not accuse you of being a democrat or of participating in the plot, or of having anything to do with it. But we see in this case the verification of the old adage, "a guilty conscience needs no accusing."

If you really belonged to the democratic party and took part in its councils, you might feel that my statement was embarrassing to you. But if you have nothing to do with it as you profess, why are you exercised?

Is republicanism the only badge of dishonor in your estimation? You profess to be an independent; are you supporting any republicans at all? I believe you do profess to be supporting Judge Coke, but your support of him is a thin disguise to your support of Judge Hamilton, whom you know personally to be a "dyed in the wool" democrat, whose hatred of the republican party is hereditary.

You virtuously profess to be against judges and legislators who can be controlled by them. Then why do you support Hamilton, president of a national bank, for years vice-president of a national bank, friend of the Southern Pacific company and Oregonian Publishing Company, corporation lawyer, one of the promoters of the water and light trust in Roseburg a few years ago, and the very incarnation of everything you condemn, as against Benjamin F. Jones, republican nominee, a poor man, who has all his life been a champion of the plain people, who fought successfully the Wells Fargo Express Co. and the Southern Pacific company, as a lawyer, in important cases effecting a great reduction of their rates, who introduced the famous Oregon City locks bill and successfully fought it through two sessions of the legislature to obtain cheap water transportation for the benefit of Lane and other counties on the Willamette river as against the determined opposition of the great corporations, which you virtuously condemn, the Portland Railway Light & Power Co., and the Southern Pacific Co. arch-conspirators, as you say, against a man like Mr. Jones, who from a deep sense of justice alone, secured the payment of the old Indian war claims, as an act of justice, and who is a staunch champion of the direct primary law?

Your article, your attitude, and your ingratitude can only be accounted for and explained on one single hypothesis, and I am willing to risk my reputation for common sense and veracity by asserting, with all due apologies to the democratic party, that notwithstanding your resignation as an "independent," you are a democrat in disguise.

Add your support of candidates, and opposition to republicans is prompted purely and simply by that fact. You are no more patriotic or sincere than the average American, be he democrat or republican, and it is an insult to the intelligence of the people to claim to be so.

I confess that in the frankness of our conversation as old schoolmates, I was deceived by your apparent sincerity. I relied upon the truth of your statement that you were not a democrat, in quoting you to the effect that the democrats were planning to run Senator Bingham as an independent. You were not opposed by me to have taken any part, not being, as you said, a democrat. But your resentment betrays your attitude and it appears that in my blundering simplicity, I have disclosed a startling fact, which you preferred to have kept secret.

ALBERT ABRAHAM, Roseburg, Ore., October 5, 1910.

FOR COUNTY CLERK.

To the electors of Douglas county: Having received the democratic nomination for re-election to the office of county clerk, at the recent primary election, I hereby announce my candidacy for said office. At all times during this, my first term in office, I have endeavored to conduct the same in an economical and business-like manner, and feel confident that by strict personal attention to the duties of the office I have gained your approval. I hereby solicit your suffrage and vote for re-election. Yours very respectfully, E. H. LEMOX, Pd Adv

Ben C. Day, attorney for the Southern Pacific Company with headquarters at Portland, arrived in this city this morning with the expectancy of trying a case for his company. On account of the numerous criminal actions set for trial Mr. Day returned to his home this afternoon and is set for trial.

REPUBLICAN RALLIES.

The republican candidates for Douglas county began their campaign last Saturday evening at Drain, where a rousing meeting was held and great interest manifested. On account of circuit court being in session no meeting was held this week, but next week they will stamp the county in a body and keep it up until election, endeavoring to cover as much of the county as possible. Meetings will be held next week as follows: Gardiner—Tuesday evening, October 18. Scottsburg—Wednesday evening, October 19. Elkton—Thursday, October 20, at 2 P. M. Yoncalla—Friday, October 21, at 2 P. M. The precinct committeemen at those places are requested to arrange for place of meeting and advertise it as thoroughly as possible.

OLD MAIDS CONVENTION.

One of the Finest Entertainments this Season.

Tomorrow evening Roseburg citizens will have the privilege of enjoying an entertainment that for uniqueness and originality has few equals and no superiors. The personnel of the players is entirely local, but Miss Anna Lilyan Dunkel, a professional coach from Philadelphia, has the management of the affair, and everything is now in readiness for the performance at the Armory Friday evening. A glimpse at the program published in today's issue will give one an idea of the merit of the entertainment. A number of Roseburg's talented young people are scheduled to make their appearance before the footlights in this event, and judging from the manner in which they have acquitted themselves in other entertainments, and also from the nature of the affair billed for Friday, there will be more fun in a given time than has been seen in this city for many moons, and the whole thing is given as a benefit for the high school.

Several rehearsals have been held, and the information has leaked out that the young business men who assume the make of old maids are bound to make a hit. The performance has been given in a number of towns to the south, local talent always assuming the characters, and in every instance has been a marked success. Crowded houses have greeted the old maids and everyone in the audience has laughed themselves into tears as the convention progressed.

A California paper in reporting the Old Maids' Convention says "that it was a shrieking success, and the audience was the largest ever gathered in the city for any club entertainment." Another report says "that the big crowd was kept in roars of laughter." The Ashland Tidings said of the entertainment: "There was scarcely standing room in the opera house, and the dance by the Giddy Girls was skillfully executed, while as a change from the grotesque and ridiculous to the sublime, the life picture creations were really artistic."

Myers is All Right.

Senator Albert Abraham received the following letter from the Hon. Jefferson Myers, candidate for democratic nomination for governor. Senator Abraham is as proud of it as if it had been a letter congratulating him upon his election as governor.

—PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 11, 1910.—Hon. Albert Abraham, Roseburg, Oregon. My Dear Friend: Accept my hearty congratulations on the arrival of the little daughter. May she live to see her honored father

A Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet Will Touch That Tired Spot

That husband of yours is all right. You had a hard time to get him and now you want him to live to be as old as Methuseleh, don't you. So what have you done? Why, you said: "Let's get us a corn planter, a riding plow, a disc harrow, a wagon with a spring seat, a riding cultivator with a striped sunshade, a wheat drill, a manure spreader and a self blinder." And then you said: "Let's put up a wind mill, build a corn crib in the barn" and you just made things handy for him all round and that's all hunky-dory.

But after you bought your sewing machine with butter and egg money, and bought a burr-rot and a rat for your hair, you began to say to yourself: "If this Methuseleh is going to have a wife after while, I'd better be trying to save myself." So you are looking around now, aren't you? Well this Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet is just the thing for you. It's so handy, so complete, so cheap and such an all-around kitchen and dining room in one corner of the house, that the only fault ever yet found with it by anyone is that no man that ever bought one for his wife has ever been able to get a divorce. That is the kind of a Cabinet that's sold at
