Mr. Tabor says that there has been some violation of the game laws in the southern part of the county, and he hopes to bring the guilty parties to justice.

FAMOUS PASMORE TRIO.
 Open An Engagement at Roseburg Theatre This Evening.

Chance is to give the music lovers of this city and surrounding community an opportunity to hear the famous Pasmore Trio, three American girls who have created a sensation in Europe and who are now making their first tour of this country. The unavoidable cancellation of a date already booked, has left an open night on the hands of the Trio's American managers, Fitzpatrick & Norwood, and this will be given to the local people.

The concert which will be played here will be given at the Roseburg Theatre, Wednesday evening, October 26th and local music lovers may thank Manager Bernell for his enterprise in making this engagement possible.

Not since the initial tour of the famous Kneisel Quartette has any group of artists created so much comment as that aroused by the Pasmore Trio. Fresh from triumphs achieved in Berlin, where they gave thirty-four recitals in one season, the Pasmores are repeating their European successes in the largest cities of this country. Critics are hailing them as "America's finest trio."

Wherever they play audiences of unusual size attend their recitals. Their programs are interesting and grip the attention of the listener from beginning to end. While the Pasmores play only that class of music which is of known merit, their programs are, nevertheless, "popular" in the sense that they are filled with beautiful melodies and exquisite rhythm.

These programs are composed of accessible numbers by the entire trio and are interspersed with violin, cello and piano solos. In composition they run the gamut of Couperin's "Concert Royal" trio to "honey Southern airs." Their coming to this city should prove the concert event of all seasons. Reserved seats now on sale at the Roseburg Theatre.

AMENDMENT MISLEADING.
 "Home Rule" Mischievous In Its Makeup.

George A. Thacher, in an extended article in yesterday morning's Oregonian, on prohibition has the following to say in reference to the Home Rule measure. Mr. Thacher has made a psychological and sociological study of the liquor question and his opinion, therefore, is worthy of consideration:

"In connection with such a complicated subject as prohibition it is a relief to consider the amendment to the state constitution offered by the Greater Oregon Home Rule Association. The name sounds well and the association has an imposing list of names—men who stand at the front of Portland's business life, but it can be said frankly and without fear of contradiction that the amendment is misleading and mischievous. The cities of Oregon have had the most complete measure of home rule since 1906. The words of the amendment giving it are: "The legislative Assembly shall not enact, amend or repeal any charter or act of incorporation for any municipality, city or town." The power is given unreservedly to the voters, subject to the constitution and criminal laws of the state. The proposed amendment adds these words: "and the exclusive power to license, regulate, control, or to suppress or prohibit," etc. The question naturally arises whether that exclusive power thus specifically mentioned does not place municipal control above the constitution and criminal laws on the liquor question. If it does, that grant of exclusive power would be distinctly unwholesome. There is also a possible conflict between that exclusive power to license and control and the provision in the last clause making municipalities subject to the provisions of the state local option law. I am informed that in case of conflicting provisions in the constitution the specific words control so that the local option law would seem to be binding, but the grant of exclusive power certainly promises a fight in the courts as to the exact meaning of the amendment which seems totally unnecessary. In view of the light of home rule which all cities possess at the present time. Perhaps the amendment was meant only to prevent prohibition being forced on cities by a state law. If so, that amounts to legislation by amending the constitution. In this day of the world and in Oregon of all states that is not desired. The amendment reminds the voters of the so-called Reddy bill of two years ago, giving municipalities "home rule." That was defeated by about 13,000 votes. The cities have home rule and local option now. What more can be given to them?
