Entered as second-class matter November 5, 1910, at Roseburg, Ore., under act of March 3, 1879.

MONDAY, JANUARY 2, 1911.

Where the naught ought to have been you will now place one.

Put your shoulder to the wheel and be a spoke to build up your town and county.

Start the new year right. Subscribe for The News and keep posted on the doings of this big county.

The profession of an aviator promises sure death—if you are good enough "bird" to become an expert.

A good time to "swear off"—if you have any bad habits, and most people carry one or two around with them.

Another prosperous year just closed for Roseburg and 1911 promises to eclipse its forerunners ten to one.

It will require more than one coat of whitewash to renovate some politicians. Indeed, some of them need a disinfectant added to the lime.

It now looks as though Roseburg's county court. Here's hoping the judge and commissioners will start the new year right.

The Salem Statesman issued a fine 36-page New Year edition. In this number Salem and Marion county are given some publicity that will do the old city and county much good.

A new armory, a fine new high school building and maybe a federal building. Many modern structures built by local capitalists, more paved streets, and miles of cement sidewalks are just a few improvements outlined at this time for Roseburg during 1911.

The knocker will please note another year has rolled around and there still remains a few "live wires" in the arena. This is sad news to the pessimist who expects nothing to happen and would be pleased to have old Father Time take a brief respite in order to give the laggard time to catch up.

The forty-page edition of the Eugene Morning Register received at The News office today is bristling with interesting data concerning Lane county and Eugene and will be the means of directing the attention of many toward the queen city of the Willamette Valley. It is a great paper to be issued in a city the size of Eugene and its wide-awake publishers have done a good work for their city and county at large.

Roseburg may well point with just pride to the progress made during 1910. But, what's the use to tell the same old story. She's been "bumping" along at a lively pace for the past ten years and is now so solidly on her "feet" that nothing short of an earthquake of sufficient force to lift Mt. Nebo from its bed and place it gently on the earth's highest pinnacle would stop its lead at the beginning of the present year.

Flattering Condition Shown by the Christian Church at Year's End.

The annual business meeting of the Christian church was held Saturday evening at the church and was quite well attended. A decidedly interesting program, arranged for the occasion, was rendered and at the close of the meeting lunch was served and a general good time among the members followed. The most excellent condition of all affairs pertaining to the church, as shown by the reports read, was indicative of a good, cheerful feeling among the members, and was much to be congratulated for the work before them for the coming year. Each department of the church shows a balance of money on hand and all obligations liquidated. Considering the various

BOARD AND ROOMS.

Persons desiring excellent accommodations for board and room may secure them at The Antlers, Mrs. D. G. Palm, prop., 112 Brockway street, this city. This house has just recently been opened and is first-class in every particular. Rates reasonable. Hot and cold water in every room. Telephone 202Y.

Improvements carried out during the year just closed this is certainly very gratifying to the pastor, Rev. J. N. McConnell, and the congregation at large. During the year 1910 seventy new members were received into the church making a total at the present time of 309 on the church roll. Election of officers for the coming year also received attention at the meeting, and in most every instance those formerly in charge of the work were retained for another term.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to extend our thanks to our dear friends for their kindness and sympathy extended to us in our late bereavement in the death of our dear beloved wife and mother. We also extend our thanks for the beautiful flowers at the funeral.

EVAN HARTIN.

GARDINER NEWS.

We are having stormy weather just now, but we hope it may not continue long.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Chamberlain, who came over from Fiddle Creek last Friday to spend Xmas with their relatives and many friends at this place have returned home again. They report everything prosperous in their vicinity.

A company of surveyors are busy surveying a new railroad route through this part. We hope to see some results from some of these surveys in the near future.

Someone recently broke into W. P. Reed & Co.'s turkey pens and took four nice large turkeys. It seems too bad to think that people get so hungry, but if they really were hungry and in poor circumstances perhaps their neighbors could have helped them if they only would have made it known.

The Christmas ball at the Odd Fellows' hall Monday evening proved to be a pleasant affair for the young people of the town.

We regret to say that John Dally, who has been seriously ill for some time is gradually getting weaker. Dr. Fields is in attendance.

Mrs. Hermann Smithgall and daughter, Miss Zoe, who have been visiting here with friends and relatives for some time have returned to their home at Marshfield.

We are sorry to note that prohibition does not make as much change in our town as it should, and do not see why something could not be done to prohibit the sale of so much intoxicating liquor.

Santa Claus has departed from our midst once more but has gladdened the hearts of many boys and girls.

Walter Fisher returned to Eugene this afternoon after spending the holidays at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fisher.

D. J. Jarvis, who was recently elected constable for the Deer Creek precinct will file his bond with the county clerk tomorrow. The bond is in the sum of $1,000, with J. F. Barker and J. C. Fullerton as sureties.

A VERY BUSY MONTH.

Since July first 156 people have entered their names on the Register in the publicity office from 30 different states. A majority of the callers however, do not register. Since July 1st the club has been notified by at least 110 families that they expected to make Roseburg their home no later than the coming spring, and already quite a number of these families have arrived in Roseburg.

If the Canadian Government's basis of figuring is accepted in Roseburg, then the investment made in publicity work in the last six months will pay back to the community per year $110,000, figuring on the accepted basis of value each family is to a community. If the Canadian government's estimate is correct, these families who have notified the commercial club of their intention to locate here will add to the actual value of Douglas county's population at least $100,000. Accepting as correct the statement of these families that they will locate here, and the Canadian government's basis of figuring, then the Umpqua Valley in the vicinity of Roseburg has received for an investment of less than $1400 an annual dividend of $110,000, which ought to convince the most skeptical that publicity work is well worth while.

It is the opinion of the Portland Commercial Club, the Oregon Development League, and the representatives of the commercial clubs of Idaho and Washington, as well, that the year 1911 will see a greater immigration to the state of Oregon than has ever been before experienced.

Practically all Western railways are making preparation for an unusually heavy passenger traffic the coming year. Most of the communities in Idaho, Washington and Oregon are preparing to make an extra effort this coming year in the way of advertising and publicity work, in order that they may obtain a fair share of these new citizens.

On the first day of July the publicity department had an indebtedness of nearly $800. If the subscriptions to the fund are paid in full January first, this indebtedness will have entirely disappeared and leave a surplus of about $50.

The publicity work has been carried on the last six months under a decided handicap on account of this indebtedness but as this has been fairly well removed, it is hoped that a liberal subscription list will be forthcoming for the ensuing year, as without question, Roseburg will have the best opportunity to add materially to the valley's population that has yet been offered.

The policy of the publicity department the last six months has been to encourage general farmers, fruit growers, poultrymen, stockmen, dairymen and other agriculturists, to locate in the vicinity of Roseburg, and not to any extent whatever encourage professional and business men to come here to enter into competition with the established professions and businesses of the city. It is being generally recognized that the growth of a city is automatic, depending materially, if not altogether, upon the development of the surrounding country. The Oregon Development League will make a special effort this year to interest people in coming to Oregon who will go out on the land and develop the same, or who have capital for the establishment of factories. The established business man and professional man will not be encouraged to come to Oregon for the purpose of locating in cities and towns already well represented in their lines. Particular attention will be given to the needs of each community, and through the industrial development of the Oregon Development League a record will be kept of the needs of the various communities of the state. This will result in locating promptly the professional or business man, or man with a trade where he is needed, and where there is work for him to do, thus doing away with any probability of his going to some point where competition is already keen, and he will not only be disappointed himself, but interfere somewhat with the success of those already in the field.

Two different Oregon communities have mentioned in the past month that the Roseburg Commercial Club is one worthy of emulation, and there is no doubt that with its natural advantages, resources and attractions, the Umpqua Valley will receive its fair share of the new coming population, if the publicity work is properly supported.

Quite a large crowd attended the meeting held at the Socialist headquarters, on North Jackson street, yesterday afternoon, at which time the erection of an armory in Roseburg was considered at some length. The members of the socialist party are strenuously opposed to military affairs, and consequently are not in favor of the erection of an armory in Roseburg. Several brief addresses were delivered by leading socialists, and in each instance the speakers declared themselves opposed to the armory. In fact, the socialists do not believe in war, and allege that the standing armies and the navy are a menace to the welfare of the country, and are not needed in the protection of the American property. The expense attached to the army and navy, they claim, is something enormous, while the benefits derived from them are of little consequence at the best. The socialists do not believe that the armory should be erected, and that they will oppose any move in that direction as soon as it is made. At least they are advancing their opinions above board, and are not afraid to debate the question with anyone who appears to doubt the sincerity of their expressions.
