A couple of transients were arrested early Saturday evening by Sheriff Penton and Constable Singleton on suspicion of having stole a quantity of tools. When taken in custody the men were attempting to dispose of the plunder. Both men denied that they had stolen the tools, but on the contrary alleged that they had seen a third party escape them away near the coal bunkers in the local Southern Pacific railroad yards. The officers appear to doubt the assertions of the transients, and one of the men will be held for a few days awaiting developments. The other who alleges that he took no part in the commission of the crime will be discharged from custody. As yet no one has reported the loss of the tools in question, consequently the officers hope that the person from whom they were stolen will come forward and claim the property. Until then no formal warrant of arrest can be executed.
