If you want something extremely nobby in the suit line see the fine display of fall samples at Sloper's cleaning and pressing house, Jackson street, opposite Sykes' Hardware store. All kinds of cleaning, pressing and repair work for gentlemen done on short notice.

Eugene Register: Will Singleton, of Wilbur, who looks after Senator R. A. Booth's thoroughbred hunting dogs, recently killed four good sized bears and four wolves. He has as fine a string of thoroughbred dogs as there is in the Northwest and there is no more exciting sport than to get them after a bear or wolf. They quickly learn their work and the fact they use in chasing a wild animal over hills and mountains and avoiding the onslaughts of their enemy when in close quarters, is certainly wonderful.

New Year's Eve was appropriately celebrated in Roseburg, and not until early Sunday morning did the celebration return to their homes satisfied. The local restaurants were fairly crowded during the night, and in some instances the wine flowed generously. Notwithstanding that the crowds remained in the downtown district until long after the dawn of the New Year, disturbances and rowdiness was lacking, and not an arrest resulted. At promptly 12 o'clock the lights were turned out and an instant later no less than forty whistles and bells proclaimed in no modest tones that the new year had come. Other than the general celebration in the restaurants and on the streets there were numerous private parties and banquets throughout the city, and from the "morning after" expressions, all had a good time.

Rice & Rice, the housefurnishers, are making some extensive improvements to their place of business on Cass street. The interior is being remodeled and better facilities arranged for the display of their wares as well as the re-arrangement of their show windows and when complete the work will prove a decided improvement to their store.

Carl Busch, a transient wrestler, who claims to hold the middleweight championship of America and Germany, arrived in the city this morning with the anticipation of arranging a match. Mr. Busch is open to all comers, regardless of weight. He met an Oakland wrestler at Cottage Grove Saturday evening, and according to his story, the match was very interesting, if not instructive.

H. J. Hill, owner of the new theatre in the Marks building, corner of Jackson and Washington streets, announced this morning that the playhouse will be formerly opened to the public on Thursday evening. Mr. Hill expects to furnish the amusement loving public with the best the market affords, and a majority of his acts will come direct from Pantages theatre, at Portland.

Dr. P. H. May won the beautiful French doll given away by the management of the Roseburg Pharmacy last Saturday evening. The lucky number was 813, and was drawn from the box containing 3,079 chances. Quite a crowd assembled to witness the drawing and of course, there was some disappointment among the children, who had been looking forward to the drawing with eagerness.

S. W. Heppner, of Hood River, who has been spending the past few days in the city, leaves for Medford tomorrow morning where he will look over the country with a view of learning the advantages and opportunities offered in that locality. Notwithstanding that Mr. Heppner was recently elected county judge of Hood River county, he says that he is much impressed with Douglas county, and may resign his office in order to locate here. He says that he has traveled extensively throughout the West, but nowhere has he found a more delightful climate than here. He is also pleased with the generous disposition of the citizens in this city, and declares that they are certainly "there" when it comes to entertaining the stranger.

M. H. Payne and children, who have been spending the past week visiting at the home of H. L. Marsters and family, in this city, left for Medford this morning. Mrs. Payne did not return home today, but on the contrary went to Oalla to spend a few days visiting with her friend, Mrs. Edward Jennings. Both Mr. and Mrs. Payne have become enaculated with the "bouncing" spirit since residing at Medford, and never allow an opportunity to pass whereby they can sing the praises of their home community. Mrs. Payne says that Medford has grown wonderfully during the past three years, and like her neighbors, she says the town will some day become the metropolis of Southern Oregon. Mr. Payne owns a large ranch near Medford, and has fared exceedingly well since locating in that section of the state.

Miss Edyth Pitzer, the esteemed daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Pitzer, of this city, and H. B.
