Several Thousand Dollars Will Be Used to Improve County Roads.

GRANTS PASS, Or., Feb. 22.—Several thousand dollars will be spent in this county for the betterment of the county roads. Permanent improvements will be completed along the main highway. county court has announced that the first stretch of road in Grants Pass will be one leading to the steel bridge across the Rogue River to the south end of the county. A coat of heavy macadam will be spread upon it as soon as the weather will permit to be sub-graded and brought to the proper level.

On top of the roadway a heavy coat of macadam will be applied and rolled down to almost a solid aggregate. Upon this another treatment of fine gravel to fill the voids will be made and rolled to a uniform grade. When this is completed the road will be equal for comfort and travel to a city street. It has been the policy of the court to improve the roads as rapidly as funds have been set aside for such purposes and this year extraordinary effort will be put forth to out-do any of the previous years in developing good roads throughout the county.

Most all the work that has been done has come under the supervision of the county judge, who has personally looked after the matter rather than hire a general overseer as by law provided; in this the county has been saved the wages of a supervisor.

Isadora Rice, of Rice Hill, who has been spending the past couple of days in the city, left for Ashland this morning where he goes to visit with friends.

Milton Church left for Portland this morning where he will spend a few days. From there he intends to enjoy a trip over the Deschutes railway through Central Oregon, and thence into California where he will spend several weeks.

Architects Rodolf & Reynolds have just finished plans for a neat bungalow for Dr. J. G. Flisk, to be built on the Flisk fruit farm tract. There are also several other houses going up on the tract. The doctor is having good success in disposing of fruit farms to new settlers.
