Tom Gaffney had a clear lead over Frankie Edwards at the end of their ten-round boxing contest held last night at Sykes' skating rink. It was a good exhibition and both men went at it so earnestly that it looked for a time as though the match might be terminated by a knockout. Edwards was the candidate to go down on two occasions and had the rounds been the regulation three minutes, instead of two, he may have taken the count in either the fourth or the sixth round. The contest was witnessed by a small crowd.

When You Paper Your House--They Look Like Dust And Cobwebs

Many a room is so dusty on the ceiling that it shows dirt distinctly to the eye. Such is the case with many moral ceilings. Dutch ceilings are planned for just such rooms. They are beautiful, but so designed that dust is not readily seen.

We also have new effects in moral ceilings that have not yet appeared in Roseburg; come and see them.

Our third shipment of wall paper arrived this week. It consisted of 25 of the newest designs, distributed among 1000 single rolls.

In our stock now are 8500 single rolls of wall paper in 180 designs. If you want low priced paper we have it, and more and more people have to come to us for the best. They have, too.
