washington, D. C., April 22.—
Later telegrams received here today from the Mexican minister, De La Barre are to the effect that peace relations have been agreed upon and that the war is at an end. Madero's acceptance of the agreement was received earlier.

Gomez said that the insurgents had agreed to withdraw their demand for immediate abdiction of Diaz, who will be permitted to retain the presidency pending the regular election. Limantour Gomez will be eliminated from the public councils, while Vice-President Corrall will be asked to resign. Diaz has also agreed to remove several governors, in as many states, who it is said that the safe washed to resign. # OFFICIAL PROGRAM.

Portland Day, Fraternal Day May 11th. 9:30 a. m. to 11:30 a. m.— Airship and automobile races, fair grounds, motorcycles and automobiles vs Curtis bi-plane.

Another important meeting of the committee selected to arrange for the Third Annual Strawberry Festival which occurs in Roseburg in May was held at the commercial club rooms last evening. Nearly every member of the committee was present, and the several propositions submitted were discussed in detail. President J. W. Perkins, of the Roseburg Commercial Club presided over the meeting, while G. P. Schlomer acted as accretary.

The first matter up for consideration was that of holding an aviation meet in conjunction with the festival. S. G. Rabi, representing the Curtis Exhibition Company with

val. S. G. Rabil, representing the Curtis Exhibition Company with headquarters in Portland, was present at the meeting, and upon invitation of the chairman advanced the proposition offered by the company he represents. Mr. Rahl declared that aviation meets were becoming more and more popular daily, and could be depended upon as a drawing card. The gentleman said that the Curtis Exhibition Company would send one of their machines to Rabl, representing the ibition Company with ing card. The gentleman said that the Curtis Exhibition Company would send one of their machines to Reseburg, accompanied by any one of the famous Curtis team, composed of Willard, Ely, Whitman and Robins, and would make daily flights to suit the convenience of the committee in charge of the carnival. He said that the Curtis Company asked no guarantee, but on the contrarty would enter into a contract with the carnival committee whereby the company was to receive $1,000 in admissions, while the remainder of the sum realized from the cabilition would be divided, the Curtis Company and the samival committee each to receive one half. Mr. Rahl explained that the Curtis people positively guarantee lights and in the event of failure

After considerable discussion, in which nearly every member of the committee took an active part. It was decided to accept the proposition offered by the Cartis Company. Accordingly, R. E. Smith was empowered to enter into a contract with the exhibitors on behalf of the carnival committee. The avintons will exsur on Thursday and Satarday mornings, and will take place at the fair grounds about two miles northeast of the city on the Dear Creek tood. Among the feats speci-

Joseph Micelli, chairman of the committee on music, reported that he had engaged the services of the Corvallis band for the entire three days at an expense of about $250, and that they would arrive in Roseburg on the evening prior to the opening day of the festival. He also said that he had conferred with the Riddle band, and the members of that organization had promised to furnish music for two days for a sum equivalent to their actual expenses. Mr. Micelli said that he had not employed the latter hand, but penses. Mr. Micelli said that he had not employed the latter band, but would do so in the event he was so authorized by the exective committee. A brief discussion followed Mr. Micelli's remarks, and it was finally decided to employ the Riddle band. Publicity Manager Schlosser, of the Roseburg Commercial Club, said that the Roseburg band would be anable to furnish music on account of the members being employed in various capacities, and employed in various capacities, and consequently their application was

The specified price is 25 cents, and it is suffice to say, that they will meet with ready disposal. The money realized from the sale of these buttons will be used in detraying the expenses of the carnival. Dr. Vinell called special attention to the necessity of prevailing upon the county school in every district in the county during the three days of festivities. He said that in the event of such action hundreds of people would be attracted to Roseburg, who would be unable to come otherwise. A committee consisting of Messrs. Dr. Vinell, Joe Sykes and Dr. A. C. Seely was appointed to interview County School Superintendent Chancy relative to this matter and report at a future meeting.

The members of the committee favoring the aviation meet believe that the advertising distributed by the Curtis company will prove the means through which thousands of proper will be attracted to the city during the carrival. They contend that the Curtis Exhibition Company has a reputation to maintain, and consequently will abide by the terms of the contract to the letter.

Walter Hamilton, chairman of the finance committee, reported that he had raised approximately 1986, and that he thought this amount could be increased by popular subscription to shout $1,200. He said that there were quite a number of professional and business men who had not been solicited to date, many of whom would contribute to the final and thus swell the total to such a sum as would ansatre the success of the event. Other fram by popular subscription, the committee expects to raise considerable money through consessions, including the Arnold
