Try this test in a "WEAR-EVER" Aluminum Utensil

Cook to dryness in an aluminum saucepan one pint of tomatoes. Then over a low fire burn the tomatoes in the pan ten minutes. Then pour in boiling water, increase the heat, boil a few minutes and clean out with a wooden spoon. The utensil will not be injured.

Which are you anxious about when you smell food burning—loss of the food or loss of the utensil?

Food may be burned in "Wear-Ever" utensils, if too much heat is applied, but the burning has no effect whatever upon the utensil.

Less fuel is needed when cooking in "Wear-Ever" utensils. They heat quicker and retain heat longer than other cooking utensils. Food cooked in them is less liable to scorch and they are practically everlasting.

Each "Wear-Ever" utensil is made with-out joints, seams or solder from thick, hard sheet aluminum, 99% pure. Cannot rust, cannot chip or scale, cannot form poisonous compounds with acid fruits or foods.

Replace utensils that wear out with utensils that "Wear-Ever."

You Will Not Regret Replacing your Graniteware with Wearever Aluminum. We sell it.
