Some are beginning to wonder where Miss Sumner is in hiding—or whether or not she has been entirely "frozen out".

After a day's honest labor and square dealing with the whole world, what a blessing is a comfortable bed, and what a glorious retreat is sleep!

It is a noticeable fact that when a jury is being drawn to try a case in court and, on being interrogated as to what county paper they read, the answer is almost invariably The News, which is pretty good evidence that this paper goes to the homes in every nook and corner of Douglas county.

A record that any district attorney might be proud of has been made by Geo. M. Brown during the present term of the circuit court. Of the nine criminal cases prosecuted, a majority of which was vigorously fought by the defendants, a verdict in each instance was returned for the state by the trial jurors. Mr. Brown seems to improve with age, and if he continues his successful career the transgressor will soon migrate to a clime where his trail will not be kept quite so hot by the ever alert and able prosecutor.

A copy of the Omaha Bee received at The News office contains a quarter column write-up of the recent strawberry carnival held at this city, besides prominently mentioning the substantial improvements under way and contemplated during the present year. While the author of the article is not given it is quite likely the bit of booster news emanated from the publicity department of the commercial club of this city—being one of Mr. Schlosser's modest ways of "delivering the goods". The article cost Roseburg nothing but the worth to this section—from an advertising standpoint—is equal to a year's salary paid the publicity manager.

A petition will be presented to the county court at an early date asking that a portion of the court house grounds be set aside for the convenience of the farmers, a place where they may hitch their teams at will. While such a procedure would be perfectly proper and just to our farmer friends, without due care from a sanitary standpoint, the venture might collide with one of Roseburg's "stringent health ordinances" and create quite a commotion. The scheme, properly carried out, would certainly be appreciated by the farmers and the idle ground at the auction sale to be held at the Bert Brown ranch, near Wilbur, next Saturday, May 27, there will be included, besides the horses already advertised, eighteen head of work horses—matched teams. Any one wanting to purchase some good stock will do well to attend this sale. Lunch will be served free to all. Sale starts promptly at 9 a. m., and the place is three miles north of Wilbur. dsm25 converted to use in this way would never be missed. Take a portion of the north half of the property and make headquarters for the stock, put up a number of convenient rest rooms to the south for the farmers and their families and a long-felt want will be filled. Roseburg has needed just such convenience and now that the matter is receiving attention the county court can "drive the nail" that will bring happiness to those living in the rural districts.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE.
Will Convene at Elks' Temple—Armory Hall—Next Tuesday.

The farmers' institute and movable school of agriculture will convene in the armory hall, Elks' temple, in this city next Tuesday, May 30, at 10 o'clock in the morning. Demonstrations in domestic science, horticulture and dairying will be given. Ladies are especially invited to attend the session of domestic science. Farmers and citizens generally are urged to attend during the day. Instructors from the agricultural college will be present to help the people get better ideas of what good farming means.

NOTICE.
Subscriptions for stock in the Unquapa Valley Fruit Union are now due and payable at the office of the Union, corner of Cass and Jackson streets, Roseburg, Ore.
