The danger of a loaded rifle in the hands of a child was again exemplified this morning, when George, the 10 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Elmore, of West Roseburg, accidentally shot himself through the right foot. It appears that the lad was loitering in the vicinity of Mr. Nelson, and upon hearing with a view of taking in the surroundings, rested the muzzle of the rifle on his foot. In some manner the gun was discharged, the bullet passing through the foot and dislodging through the sole of the shoe. Almost frantic with pain, the lad hastened to his home and medical assistance was summoned. The rifle was of the 22-calibre variety. S. R. Elmore, the boy's father, is quite well known in this vicinity. He is employed at the local Southern Pacific machine shops, and has resided in Roseburg for a long time.

EVERYBODY GETS A PRIZE.

In the tremendous rush in the subscription department of both the Daily and Tri-Weekly News for the past twenty days every man, woman and child that has taken advantage of this paper's big June reductions has carried off a cash prize. The News never singles out one or two persons for alleged prizes and then makes its subscribers "pay the bidder"—no, everyone is treated alike. There is no red tape to our offer—a child can get the cash prize as well as a grown person. There is no wonder hundreds of new names are being added to our subscription lists and the month only a little past half gone. People who have never heretofore taken a Douglas county paper, and many who have been reading other papers than The News, are calling daily to take advantage of our unparalleled offer of one-half price for the ensuing year. Anyone who doubts our word may call at The News office and we will show them things that will open their eyes in the way of subscription campaign—and it won't be necessary to use a can opener to do it.

WILSON'S RECORD SHADY.

In accordance with the policy adopted by Governor Oswald West in the wholesale release of convicts from the state penitentiary, letters were recently received in Roseburg asking for the record of R. J. Wilson, who was sentenced to a term of five years from Douglas county in May, 1909.

Wilson was arrested in Roseburg early in May, 1909, accused of blowing up the safe of the O. C. Baker laundry, and upon being tried before a jury in the circuit court was sentenced to a term of five years in the state penitentiary. At the time of being arrested he was accompanied by a man named L. L. Merritt, and he, too, was given a heavy penitentiary sentence. According to the local officers, Wilson's record was sent to the governor as requested, and in addition, the chief executive was informed that Wilson was one of the most daring criminals ever to visit this section of the state. It is the belief of the officers that the governor will refuse to liberate the criminal—considering the recommendations forwarded to that official.

Mrs. Hendrick's, wife of a Southern Pacific brakeman, left for Springfield this afternoon where she will join her husband who enjoys a run on the Springfield division, she was accompanied by her child.
