RAILROAD A CERTAINTY. Emery T. Smith Talks Regarding Proposed Railroad.

Emery T. Smith, president of the First Trust & Savings Bank and father of Robert E. Smith, arrived in the city this morning. He was pleased to find the weather of Roseburg up to its usual standard of excellence and states that the heat in the extreme East, from which he has just returned, has been terrific.

Asked by a representative of The News as to business conditions in the East he said that for certain lines of investment such as mortgages and preferred bonds there was an abundance of funds, but that the banks were inclined to be conservative in loans for industrial purposes.

Regarding the proposed Coos Bay and Boise railroad and its purported bond issue Mr. Smith said: "I am not acquainted with the promoters of the enterprise but I have long known the Commonwealth Title and Trust Company, of Philadelphia, who my son states are named as grantees in the trust deed. It is one of the strong institutions of that city and its directors include some of the strongest men in the East.

"I have of course no way of knowing what syndicate, if any, is to underwrite the bonds. I believe, however, that one or more transcontinental lines will be built into Coos Bay before the completion of the Panama Canal." Mr. Smith, being as he is, identified with some of the leading financial men of Philadelphia, this is gratifying news.

Mr. Smith will be at Roseburg and Myrtle Creek, where he has a Jersey farm, for a week or ten days, when he will return to his San Francisco home.

STRONG POPULAR DEMAND.

The progressive method of retailing pianos direct from factory to home was the result of a strong popular demand for a system where the piano buyer would have a chance to enjoy the same freedom in buying a piano, as they would in purchasing other articles of merchandise.

This new system was a big success with Rice & Rice from the start, and some of the shrewd and most careful buyers in Roseburg readily admit that the originating of the firm from maker to user system by Rice & Rice was a boon to the piano buying public of Roseburg.

ROSEBURG PEOPLE BUY QUICK.

The up to date, modern principle of buying direct and selling direct was never better emphasized than at the big factory sale of pianos now taking place at the store of Rice & Rice, Roseburg. A great many S. W. Miller pianos have been sold and each purchaser has saved enough by buying direct through Rice & Rice, S. W. Miller factory distributors to pay them to buy at once even if they were not quite ready to buy. The surprising good value of the artistic S. W. Miller is at once apparent to the most painstaking customers, besides people as a rule have much more confidence in the word of their home merchant rather than the big speech of an utter stranger. We done a good job for the piano buying public when we originated the factory to home plan in Roseburg at the store of Rice & Rice.
