LOCAL NEWS.

Mrs. F. H. Churchill and children have returned from Waldport, where they enjoyed the sea shore climate for the past six weeks.

Salem Statesman: The invitations to the hanging of Jesse P. Webb have been issued. They invite the recipient to be present and witness the execution of Webb on Tuesday, September 5, at 12:30 p. m. Webb was convicted October 21, 1910 of the crime of murder in the first degree for the killing of William Johnson in Multnomah county.

James Fletcher, a local printer, who left for the Crater Lake vicinity about two weeks ago, arrived at Roseburg last evening on his return trip. He expects to reach Roseburg some time tonight. Mr. Fletcher made the trip afoot, with the idea of securing a number of suitable photographs and a general write-up of the country.

District Attorney George M. Brown and Court Stenographer I. B. Riddle are expected here tomorrow after a couple of weeks spent in Curry county attending the regular term of the circuit court of that county. They will be accompanied by the very near by, Mr. Marshall. Leaving Curry county the party went to Crescent City, Cal., thence to Grants Pass, and are now enroute from the latter city to Roseburg. They are making the trip in Mr. Riddle's automobile.

What promises to be an important event in the history of Roseburg is the meeting to be held in this city October 17, 18 and 19, by the State Federation of Women's Clubs. All-round plans are being perfected for the occasion and in the very near future a rousing meeting will be held in which every woman in the county will be asked to participate and arrangements made for making the three days most enjoyable and profitable from every standpoint.

Sutherland Sun: Miss Gladys Franz, of Sutherland, was one of the two or three people who witnessed the Umpqua bridge disaster last Thursday when five men met death and several others were seriously injured. Miss Franz was a guest at the home of Sam Evans, and in company with one or two girl friends had crossed the bridge about fifteen minutes before it fell. At the time the bridge fell the young ladies were bathing at the mouth of the Calapooya, which empties into the Umpqua river near the east end of the bridge. The young ladies were nearly prostrated by the sight and it was several hours before they were sufficiently recovered from the shock to be able to return to their homes.

The Portland Cement Co., owning valuable deposits on Roberts Creek, about eight miles south of the city, are pushing the work along on their bunk houses, mess room and cottage for the superintendent and will put some fifteen men to work in the quarry the first week in October. At the present time the right of way for the proposed spur from near Greens Station to the quarry, has not been secured, but the company entertains hope of soon securing this concession from property owners, when the spur will immediately be put in. This will be a great convenience the people in the vicinity of the plant, as it will facilitate shipments of farm products, and thereby save a long haul to the main line or to Roseburg.

Riddle Tribune: John A. Day, from Chicago, an expert in building dams and construction of irrigation ditches is here with John C. White, going over the survey and estimate made by C. C. Boyer and Frank Cain. Mr. Day will view the entire proposed irrigation district from Perdus to Riddle and Myrtle Creek and will be accompanied by Mr. Boyer. The object of Mr. Day's visit is to advise with Mr. Boyer as to the possibility of making a lower estimate of the cost of irrigation. When Mr. White began his survey, he made the statement that irrigation would cost fifty dollars an acre. Now it is definitely decided by Messrs. Boyer and Cain that the cost of construction of dams and irrigation ditches will be not more than forty-two dollars and a half an acre. It is hoped this price may be materially reduced.

"UP IN THE AIR"

"Latest" Railroad Gossip Puts Optimists To Thinking.

Cool Bay Times: The latest railroad news to reach Cool Bay came last night in a telephone message from Warren Reed, of Gardiner, to Frank B. Waite stating that a party of thirty engineers of the Hill system had reached there and were surveying a route to Cool Bay. Mr. Reed said that the Southern Pacific had about the same number of surveyors there working on the route for the Cool Bay-Eugene line. Mr. Reed stated that he was absolutely positive that the last party of engineers to get in were Hill men and that it looked to him like another Deschutes contest between Hill and Harriman forces with Cool Bay as the objective point. Mr. Waite left for Roseburg this morning but expects to be back in a few days.

This news, coupled with the various developments the last few days, including other surveys from Cool Bay and activity of right-of-way men and the visits of railroad contractors has most of the local optimists "up in the air."

LOCAL NEWS.

Hugh Miller, of Oakland, was a business visitor in Roseburg today.

Dance tomorrow evening at the Macabee hall. Good music.—enjoyable occasion.

Henry Schrenk, of Looking Glass, spent the day in Roseburg attending to business matters.

Earl Pickens left for Eugene this afternoon where he goes to look after various business matters.

C. L. Pausley, of Gardiner, spent the day in Roseburg attending to business matters and visiting with friends.

T. W. Johnson and Albert Bollenbaugh, both residents of Riddle spent last evening in town attending to business matters.

Edward Everts has returned from the Crater Lake country where he spent a few days enjoying the delightful scenery in that locality.

Ole Ollason, a local train dispatcher, has returned from Portland and other northern cities where he spent the past two weeks enjoying his annual vacation. Mr. Ollason accompanied him to the metropolis stopped off at Eugene enroute home. He will probably return to Roseburg on Sunday.

Owing to the fact that Monday is Labor Day, the several merchants have decided to close their places of business during the entire day. Many of their number will spend the day in the mountains, while others will enjoy a day of recreation in the city. Persons wishing supplies for the day should purchase the same tomorrow (Saturday), and thus assist in making the holiday complete.

In order that all bridges in the county may undergo a thorough inspection, the county court has employed the services of L. Rooney, of Eugene, who will arrive here Sunday evening. On Monday he will leave for a trip of inspection of all the bridges, including the Winston bridge, over the South Umpqua river, the Winchester bridge, over the North Umpqua river, the Condit bridge, over Cow Creek; the Canyonville bridge, over the South Umpqua; the Days Creek bridge, over the South Umpqua; the Hancock bridge, over Elk Creek, and the Glendale bridge, over Cow Creek. Mr. Rooney is considered one of the most efficient bridge builders in the entire state, and according to Judge Thompson, of Eugene, has enjoyed years of experience in his chosen profession. He will be accompanied on his trip by Road Master Ryan and County Bridge Inspector B. C. Condit. During his inspection he will file a report relative to the condition of the several bridges in the county, and the court will act accordingly. The Umpqua bridge disaster of a few days ago has brought the court to the realization of the situation, and they will exert every effort in the way of avoiding future disasters of a similar nature.

FUNERAL OF GLENN WILSON.

Victim of Bridge Disaster Laid In Last Resting Place.

The funeral of the late Wm. Glenn Wilson, one of the victims of the sad bridge disaster which has cast such a shadow over the entire community, was held in the Methodist Episcopal church at Wilbur, his home town, on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The large and sympathetic attendance attested the sincere grief felt by all in the untimely death of this popular young man.

He was born at Panama, Guthrie county, Iowa, May 2, 1891, where the family then lived. At the age of 14 he was converted and united with the Methodist Episcopal church at Stuart, Iowa, where he lived for eleven years, before coming to Wilbur, Oregon, in August 1910.

He was a man of quietude, of an upright and capable way of life, that he had already become a leader among the young people, and had been chosen superintendent of the Sabbath school, in which position he was universally popular, and doing a splendid work.

The entire community looked up to Glenn Wilson for moral and social inspiration. The funeral was in charge of Rev. E. Olin Eldridge, of Roseburg, assisted by Rev. Mr. Davis, of Oakland. A mixed quartet, composed of Dolly Bell, Dee Livingston, Lucy Bridges and Willotta Green, rendered several beautiful selections. Miss Alta Dillard was pianist.

Amid beautiful flowers and sympathetic song, we laid him to rest in the cemetery at Wilbur.

PROBATE JUDGE AFFIRMED.

Judge John Coke Coincides With County Judge In Removal of H. Wollenberg As Administrator.

The decision of County Judge Winacott ordering the removal of H. Wollenberg as administrator of the estate of S. Marks & Company, and S. Marks & H. Wollenberg, was today affirmed by Judge John Coke, of Marshfield, who presided at the time the case was argued upon its appeal to the circuit court.

In the matter of the petition of the partnership estate of S. Marks & Company, of which estate H. Wollenberg was appointed administrator, Judge Coke found the facts substantially as follows:

"That S. Marks, who was a resident of Douglas county, died on September 29, 1888, leaving an estate valued at several thousand dollars.

probate judge, Judge Coke simply sets out the above facts, which he finds are regular. The same facts are found in affirming the decision of the probate judge in removing H. Wollenberg as administrator of the estate of S. Marks & H. Wollenberg.

Since Mr. Wollenberg's removal as administrator of the above named estates, Eugene Parrott has acted in such capacity. His selection was based upon a petition of H. Wollenberg and others. Following Mr. Parrott's appointment, Attorney C. S. Jackson petitioned his removal on the grounds that he was an interested party and consequently was not in a position to settle up the estate to the satisfaction of all parties concerned.

The hearing occurred several months ago but as yet no decision has been rendered.
