Hop picking is finished in this locality, the hops being of an excellent variety and are a heavy yield.

Prune growers are busily engaged in taking care of their crops which are said to be pretty heavy and of a good grade.

Different to other localities the recent storms have not damaged the prunes to any extent and the growers are feeling good and will be jingling the "filthy" tin.

Mr. Edwards is adding some much needed improvements to his meat market at this place which, when completed will give the shop a decided city-like appearance.

A. J. Arnold made a business trip to Lane county one day this week. Miss Sue Burt is home once more after an absence of several weeks at Haystack.

Sheriff Grant of Polk county, was here the first of the week for the young horse-thief, who was captured by Deputy Sheriff Wooster a few days ago.

The Misses Blanche and Merle McClannan, returned to their home at this place the first of the week after a three months' visit with relatives in Kansas.

J. J. Metzger made a business trip to Drain last Monday. Paper-hangers are at work repairing the different school rooms of our public schools this week.

Contractor and builder, J. W. Cowan is removing the antiquated awnings from the front of Bunyan's and Smith's stores and replacing the same with new galvanized shed awnings—a decided improvement.

Frank Rabinio, an Italian laborer associated with extra gang No. 3, located at the foot of Rice Hill about two miles from this city, was found near the outfit cars early Wednesday morning in an unconscious condition. Many bruises were in evidence on different parts of the man's person while his head showed conclusive evidence of having come in contact with something pretty solid. Dr. Mortensen was called and administered all possible assistance but is yet unable to state the exact extent of the injuries. From what can be learned, the unfortunate man visited Roseburg last Tuesday and must have attempted to alight from train No. 16 on his return near where the outfit cars are stationed and that in doing so was thrown violently, as the surface of the ground in that vicinity was considerably disturbed. That he was not killed outright is remarkable, as at that point all trains travel at a high rate of speed.
