PREPARING TO ATTACK CANTON

Look For Easy Victory—Second Autopsy Held—Not Known What Facts Developed—Done At Night.

(Special to The Evening News.) SHANGHAI, Oct. 25.—General Fen Shang, commander of the Canton garrison, is reported to have been killed by a bomb explosion. It is alleged that the revolutionists plotted the death of the commander of the garrison preparatory to attacking Canton, as they believed that without the general victory would be easier obtained.

Later dispatches confirm the death of Gen. Fen Shang, also stating that several of his escorts were killed at the same time. The bomb was dropped from a house on the general was passing, and it is believed that an outbreak in Canton will follow.

Second Autopsy Held.

BOSTON, Oct. 25.—Failure to discover either a vial or paper containing cyanide in the bath robe of Miss Linnell, caused the police to insist on a second autopsy, which was held today. It is unknown, however, what facts developed. All of the internal organs were removed from the body and sent to the laboratory at Harvard for analysis. How the girl took poison, if she did, is a weak chain in the evidence against Richeson, and the gelatine capsule theory has been advanced. The casket was opened at midnight to prevent the defense securing an injunction, which was intended to apply for this morning.

LOST GIRL FOUND.

Mother Finds Missing Child At Buhl, Idaho.

MEDFORD, Or., Oct. 24.—Nora Darling, the 19-year-old Medford girl who mysteriously disappeared four weeks ago, has been found, at least that is the information received by the Medford police from Mrs. Margaret Darling, the girl's mother, who left a week ago to find the missing girl.

"Nora found at Buhl, Idaho," is the wording of the message, and friends and relatives in Medford have been unable to secure any further information. The case has aroused considerable interest.

Although the police have slight information to work on, it is now generally believed that the girl was temporarily deranged, having never fully recovered from a serious operation two years ago, and that while in this condition started for Buhl, Idaho, where her grandparents are living.

CHILD'S WELFARE CONFERENCE

Oregon Congress of Mothers Will Have Charge of Event.

A child welfare conference and exhibit is to be held in Portland, November 1, 2, 3 and 4, under the auspices of the Oregon Congress of Mothers. As in great exhibits of this kind throughout the Eastern states, the aim will be to show what has been done, what is being done, and what ought to be done for the welfare of childhood. All the leading educational institutions of the city will be represented and all phases of child life will be touched upon.

More and more people are beginning to realize that the welfare of the child is the welfare of the nation and the salvation of the race. The state must provide for the needs of childhood, but it must first be brought home to all citizens what the needs of the child are.

Among the well-known people who are taking an active part in the exhibit are Dr. L. W. Hyde, of Portland; Arthur Egan Wood, of Reed Institute; L. R. Alderman, superintendent of public instruction; Dr. Bertha Stuart, of Oregon University; Mrs. Robert Tate, president Oregon Congress of Mothers; Mrs. Lora Little; Mrs. Millie Trumbull, of the child labor department; Wm. Thurston Brown, of the Modern School; Dr. Philip Vaner, of the state Training School.

The conference will combine all the societies and organizations which have for their purpose educational work and mental development. Moving pictures will be used to show the value of pictures in school work. The exhibition and conference will be free to all, and everyone interested in children is invited to attend. The Oregon Congress of Mothers has been unsparing in the effort to make the first Western exhibit splendidly successful. Every district in Oregon should have at least one representative in attendance at the conference.

Angered Because Rebuked By Girl For Using Her Horse—Fatal Automobile Accident—Contest Postponed.

(Special to The Evening News.)

SAN JOSE, Oct. 25.—Enraged because he was rebuked for taking, without permission, her thoroughbred saddle horse, Manuel Garcia, a stevedore, shot and killed Simon Romero, a Monterey millionaire, and severely wounded Miss Belle Quesada at the girl's home here early this forenoon. Garcia was employed by the Quesada family, and had taken the young woman's horse from the stables and ridden it, and when he returned she was entertaining Romero, the two drinking chocolate. In the presence of Romero Miss Quesada reproved Garcia for taking her horse for his own use, when without a word the hostler drew a revolver and shot Romero, killing him instantly, and after a shot at the girl, turned and fled from the scene. Soon as the alarm was given posses organized for the capture of the desperado, but so far have been unsuccessful in their quest.

Winter, who last night stated that he had a strong opinion of the case. Winter was finally challenged for cause, and his opinion was made plain by Judge Borjwell today, who stated that he would personally consider the qualifications of venemen, and when he doubted a juror's ability to dispassionately of opinion he would excuse him.

LOCAL OFFICERS SUSTAINED.

Commissioner of General Land Office Affirms Decision.

A decision of more or less interest locally, but particularly to Coos county people has been handed down by the commissioner of the general land office at Washington, D. C., which affirms the local land office in every particular. The case in question was that of John R. Herron, of Marshfield, against the Northern Pacific Railroad Company.

This is one of the 17 acre cases tried before the local land office in May, 1910, for lands in tp. 25 S., R. 9 W. It appears that the company on April 4, 1910, selected this land, while unsurveyed, under the provisions of an act of March 2, 1899, allowing this company to select unsurveyed lands. The township was surveyed in 1902, but the plat of the survey was not filed in the local land office until October 9, 1909. Herron alleged settlement prior to the company's selection, and he and other settlers hung on their claims all these years. Under this decision Herron can now file on his land, and as the cases are all practically alike it is thought that all the settlers in tp. 25 S., R. 9 W., will win out in their contests.

LOCAL NEWS.

Mrs. C. W. Marlyn, who has been spending the past few days in Roseburg visiting at the home of Mrs. Edward Pengra, left for her home at Portland this afternoon.

The Colonial Club will give their annual ball at the Armory this evening. Elaborate preparations are being made for the event, and those fortunate enough to attend are promised a good time.

Clyde Willis and wife returned to their home at Dillard this morning after a couple of days spent in Roseburg. Mr. Willis was formerly employed in the Bashford flouring mills and is well known in this city.

Uninterrupted by the police, a well known Roseburg man last night attracted considerable attention as he reeled about the streets in a drunken stupor. The fellow first came to notice when he dashed out of the "Smoke House," on North Jackson street, and proceeded in a southerly direction. Utterly unable to walk on the sidewalk, he staggered here and there along the roadway, and finally succeeded in reaching a point near the corner of Oak and Jackson streets where he was quickly surrounded by a dozen or more young Americans bent on enjoying the sport. After divulging a number of oaths without regard for passing pedestrians the fellow then proceeded to make himself obnoxious by parading the streets, seemingly without fear of arrest.

The man who has to split oak wood enough for the kitchen stove before he goes to his work each day, will appreciate the fact that there is a machine in town now which reduces wood-splitting to a pleasure. Mr. Swank, manager of the Roseburg Feed & Fuel Co., whose warehouses are located on the railroad spur at Winchester street, has just installed a machine that has attracted a good deal of attention in the neighborhood. The device is a labor saver in all that the term implies, easily splitting the toughest oak knot, doing the work with one stroke. The principle of the contrivance is a heavy wrought steel wedge operated by a piston and cam wheel, giving the wedge an eight-inch stroke. The block to be split is stood on a revolving table, so that when the wedge strikes into the wood, the principle of the contrivance has got to give away, therefore the wedge is driven half way through the length of an ordinary stove trunk.

Another evidence of the ability of Looking Glass Valley to grow first class apples is seen in the display at the News office, grown and presented by Mr. T. R. Stokes, of that locality. The fruit on exhibition in our windows consists of two varieties—Ortleys and Jonathans. Both are of the very finest, large, beautifully colored and fragrant. The Ortleys are one of the best of late keepers, and not frequently holds its own until June. On this account, and because it is an annual heavy bearer, it is fast taking the place of the famous Yellow Newton Pippin. This latter variety is apt to bear heavy one year and lightly the next. The Jonathans are an early winter apple, but its rich spicy flavor and bright red color makes it a great favorite with everybody. Mr. Stokes and his estimable wife, who were in the city today, are fruit enthusiasts, and own and reside on their fine orchard place at Looking Glass.

Sheriff George Quine yesterday recovered his thoroughbred bloodhound from a man by the name of Frey, who resides a short distance south of the city. The animal was given to Sheriff Quine by the state officials at the time the California Express was held up in Cow Creek canyon a few months ago, subject to return in the event it was needed in tracking criminals in other sections of the state. Upon abandoning the search for the bandits, Sheriff Quine brought the hound to Roseburg and claimed it in his barn where it remained for a couple of days when it was investigated by the sheriff. Nothing was seen or heard of the hound until about two weeks ago, when James Hildebrand informed the sheriff that he had purchased an animal similar in appearance to the one given Mr. Quine. On the following day, and before the sheriff had investigated the hound left the Hildebrand home and proceeded a short distance south of the city where it was picked up by Mr. Frey. Sheriff Quine yesterday learned of the whereabouts of the animal, and immediately proceeded to the Frey home where he demanded its return. At first Mr. Frey demurred, but later conceded to place the animal in the sheriff's hands. Sheriff Quine says the animal is worth several hundred dollars and so far as he is concerned special pains in hope of preventing its escape.

WIN FIFTH GAME

Athletics Are Defeated in New York.

FIVE PITCHERS USED IN GAME

Estimated That Game Was Witnessed by Fully 25,000 People—Boyle Creates Sensation of Day—Giants Confident.

(Special to The Evening News.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—In one of the most exciting games of the World's Championship series, the Giants, favorites of the New York betting contingent, today defeated the Athletics, Philadelphia's crack team by a score of 4 to 3. The game was of the most varied and was hotly contested throughout.

The weather for today's game was even better than had been anticipated, while the field was in the pink of condition. As early as 11 o'clock this morning the fans commenced to line up before the ticket window and at 1 o'clock this afternoon the rush through the gates was commenced. It is estimated that fully 25,000 people witnessed the game, including hundreds of rooters who came from Philadelphia with the expectation of their team winning the game. In the third inning Philadelphia started the fire-works. Barry was out, and Lapp and Coombs occupied first and second bases, when Orfling lined out a home run and scored three men. In the seventh inning, New York scored one run, and in the ninth inning renewed their energies and scored two runs. In the tenth inning the Giants made another score, this winning the game.

The score follows: Teams..... 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 New York..... 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 2 1 Philadelphia..... 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 Summary—New York, 4 runs, 9 hits, 2 errors; Philadelphia, 3 runs, 7 hits, 1 error. Batteries—Coombs and Lapp; Marquard and Meyers.

In reporting today's game one of the best team sporting events in the United States wrote as follows: "Fighting to the last minute, the Giants, New York's crack nine, today plucked a victory in the ninth inning, when the score was three to one in favor of Philadelphia. It was simply a case of the Giants scoring first, and the Athletics failing to score. Coombs, of the Athletics, was pulled out in the ninth inning, when Crandall, Felcher and Devoe found his curves and scored two runs. Plank substituted Coombs and finished the game."

"SPIRIT" COMMUNICATES.

Wife of Late Chief Campbell Annoyed by Letter-writer.

SALFEM, Or., Oct. 24.—After being sought for some time by the federal authorities, Pat Sullivan was arrested here today by Deputy Sheriff Esch. For sending letters through the mail to Mrs. Campbell, widow of David Campbell, late fire chief of Portland, who lost his life in an oil tank fire several months ago. Sullivan, it is alleged, was suffering under the hallucination that he was the spirit of David Campbell. At other times he believed himself to be his brother. He persisted in holding himself out so to Mrs. Campbell and the letter-writer turned over to the United States marshal.

Among other things in his possession was a picture of David Campbell, clipped from The Oregonian, and from this he has had a large number of postal cards printed, which were also in his pockets. He acknowledged that he wrote the letters. He was taken back to Portland tonight. He had been employed at the Salem hospital. The letters which he sent to Mrs. Campbell were signed "David Campbell, in care of Pat Sullivan."

The taking of testimony in the case of Simon Caro vs. H. Wollenberg commenced before the referee this morning. Caro is represented by Attorneys Cardwell & Watson, while Attorneys Coshaw & Rice are looking after the interests of the defendant. The case was originally filed by Mr. Caro to recover property situated on the west side of Jackson street, at the corner of Oak street. Mr. Wollenberg claims that he is in possession of a warranty deed to the property and consequently is its owner. Mr. Caro, the plaintiff, alleges that he gave the deed under false representations, and thought it was simply a mortgage at the time.

Charles Fisher, of Canada, who has been spending the past few days in Roseburg visiting with his sister, Mrs. John R. Chapman, was quite seriously injured shortly after one o'clock this afternoon through the accidental discharge of a 22-calibre rifle. It appears that Mr. Fisher, who was enjoying a rabbit hunt a short distance east of town, had just re-loaded the rifle after shooting at a rabbit, and was awaiting another shot when he carelessly rested the muzzle of the gun on his right foot. Without warning, the rifle suddenly discharged, the bullet entering the instep of the foot and lodging in the lower part of the foot. Dr. Vincell was summoned, and at a late hour this afternoon was probing in an effort to extract the missile.

Harold Fulkerson, of West Fork, a Suicide. CORONER JEWETT SUMMONED Deceased Was About 24 Years of Age and Carried Insurance in the Sum of $3,000—Lived at Grants Pass. (Special to The Evening News.) WEST FORK, Oct. 25.—Harold Fulkerson, a single man about 23 or 24 years of age, who has been employed in the forestry service for the past two years, committed suicide here shortly after 7 o'clock last evening. The lifeless remains were found about two hours later. Fulkerson was a young man of excellent habits and had been stationed in this vicinity for some time past. He went to his room shortly before 7 o'clock last evening, and a few minutes later children playing on the outside of the residence heard a shot. They failed to report the incident at the time, and it was nearly two hours later, when members of the household instituted an investigation, that they discovered the tragedy. They were horrified to find his body lying upon the bed, a revolver at his side and a bleeding bullet wound in the right temple, furnishing mute evidence of the tragedy that had been enacted. The body was clothed, substantiating the theory that he had retired to his apartment for the express purpose of ending his life. Coroner Jewett was notified and arrived here early this morning. Upon investigation he learned that the man was employed in the forestry service, and that he carried life insurance in the sum of $3,000. The policy was made payable to his mother. Fulkerson's home is in Grants Pass, and it is generally presumed that he was employed by the forestry office of that city. He was a young man of intellect, and no one in the vicinity appears able to advance the cause of his rash act. The remains have been taken in charge by the coroner.
