The boy who is late at breakfast, late at school stands a poor chance to be a prompt man.

Not all the tinkering, cobbling, and patching in the world will make things right that are fundamentally wrong.

"Favorite sons" and hosts of other prospective candidates for election a year hence, and possessed of more or less qualifications, are being groomed for the race.

Again, don't put off that Christmas shopping to the last moment. Buy your gifts while the assortment is complete and in advance of the usual eleventh-hour rush—which is sure to come.

An advertisement of a new cure-all asserts that "it works while you wait." Doubtless, but it is not alone and peculiar in so doing. For instance, there is the matter of interest. You are likely to have more or less to do with it some time or other, whether agreeably or otherwise. Interest is ever busy. It certainly "works while you sleep," piling up the dollars for or against you, without your assistance or resistance, until the set time comes around when the accrued amount is to be paid to you—or by you. Yes; whether you sleep or wake, interest works!

Sheriff George Quinn returned here late Saturday evening after a day spent in the vicinity of drain searching for the bandits who held up and robbed the occupants of the out-going Scottsburg stage. Sheriff Quinn says he tracked the men through the hills for several miles, but was unable to overtake them. That the men are experienced in pulling off transactions of this nature is evidenced from the fact that they refrained from following the trails, but on the contrary made their escape through the dense thicket. The sheriff has reason to believe that the men are strangers, inasmuch as two men answering their description were seen about the streets of Drain on the day previous to the robbery. At the time they attempted to dispose of a Colt's automatic revolver. The sheriff followed the men all day Saturday, and only gave up the chase when overtaken by darkness. A couple of deputy sheriffs are still in pursuit of the men and it may be possible that they will be captured at a later date.

RAILROAD TALK. Nothing New Relative to the Boise Project at Coos Bay. Coos Bay Times: Engineer Sumner of the North Coast line, arrived here today from Winchester, Bay, where his winter camp is established. He was noncommittal regarding the company's plans. He said his father, Vice-President Sumner of the road had been called back to Portland and could not visit Coos Bay until later. It leaked out here today that Sumner has given up the plan to construct his line along Winchester Creek near the Umpqua, but will follow the valley leading to and from Reedsport which the Southern Pacific line will run through. It is expected there will be a lively scrap over the occupation of this valley where it is too narrow for the two routes. It was reported here today that the Northwestern's proposed connection with Coos Bay was the Boise route instead of either the Coos Bay and Eastern or the Sumner project. Nothing can be learned locally of developments in the Boise project other than that word was received here from Portland that construction work on it would start within a few months.
