last night was a splendid success if expressions of the visitors count for anything, and there is nothing to the contrary. Aside from the general good feeling displayed by all those present the speeches from the visitors' side of the table complimented Roseburg and her citizens on the splendid civic conditions of the city as evidenced by the many paved streets and modern buildings that were to be seen.

spiending civic conditions of the city as evidenced by the many paved streets and modern buildings that were to be seen.

At seven-thirty last evening the guests of the city and their escort formed at the Commercial Club rooms and began their march to the McCallen Hotel. Songs and La-Grande yells made the air ring till the hotel was reached. In the cortifder of the hotel a few more songs were rendered waiting the time when the dining room would be thrown open. Manager and Mrs. Grouvold had tastily arranged the spacious dining room so that all the banqueters were seated at one long table which was decorated with carnations and other flowers of beauty. Celery and olives, consumme, mushroom patties, crab saiad, turkey, corn and poistoes, iced punchice cream and cake, cheese and coffee, and cigars were the good things that made the speeches better.

Hon. Dexter Rice acted as toastmaster. Hon. Binger T. Hermann was called upon to welcome the guests to Roseburg. In his usual happy manner he expressed the pleasure that it gave the Roseburg people to have the LaGrande business men among us, saying that we are all Oregonians although widely separated in distance.

The toastmaster then introduced Charles E. Cochran who was said to be the official resiponder for the vision of the content of the intent of the guests to Roseburg benchment of the resources of the country, as is attested in his recent report.

It is probable that the gentleman will issue a more detailed statement of his candidacy during the next ten days.

ROOSEVELT TALKS.

NEW YORK CITY, Jan. 20.

"Tell the editors of the United States to set this phrase, 'I have nothing to say, whenever they are anxious to quote me on political subjects. As to the rumors of my candidacy for president, I have nothing to say," said*Roosevelt this morning.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 29.—
Senator Albert Cummins, of lowa, today announced himself a candidate for the republican presidential nomination. Cummins' declaration has caused a sensation in political circles, considering that he is a strong man.
In a direct statement issued this morning he says:

"Inasmuch as there has been considerable written and published concerning the presidency, i feel it my duty to make plain a statement to the republicans of lowa. I previous iy expressed an opinion regarding the presidency, but since that time the situation has changed. In fact, the prospective candidates are numerous, making the situation doubly complicated.

"If the republicans believe that I am fitted as a candidate for presidint, I'll appreciate their faith in my promise to serve the beat I can for the general welfare of the people."

Roosevelt today appeared at his office for the first time in weeks, and it is believed that his procedure is significant in view of the declaration of ex-Governor Everett Colby, of New Jersey, who after talking with the Colonel declared he can be expected to make his announcement at any time.

Admirers Are Jubilant.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 20.—Stand-pat element republicans are elated over the announcement of Senator Cummins, who they claim, will greatly weaken LaFoliette's chances for the nomination. In this, they claim Taft will be strengthened.

Walter Houser, LaFolotte's Washington manager, said today that Cummins' announcement would have no effect upon his candidate.

The national council awards an honor medal to any scout who is instrumental in saving life according to the risk involved, the medal presented to be bronze, silver or gold. The facts are all investigated by the court of honor of the local council and are presented as affidavits to the national court of honor which decides upon the proper medal to be awarded.

Local Organizations.

Local Organizations.

Local Organizations.

Boy Scouts are organized into patrols and troops. A patrol consists of eight boys, one of whom becomes patrol leader, and another assistant patrol leader. A troop consists of three or more patrols, preferably three, as a scoutmaster can do better work with a small group of boys than with a large one. If a boy wants to become a scout he must do one of two things; he must find a patrol that he can join, or he must start one. If obliged to start one, he must first find a man who is willing to be the scoutmaster of the patrol, as there can be no patrol without a scoutmaster. For further details as to organization of a patrol, he should write to national headquarters.

In order that the work of the boy scouts throughout the country may be uniform and intelligent, the national council has prepared an official handbook. This has been compiled with great care, and written by experts. It is the scout's textbook, and gives the best explanation of scouting that a boy can have. This book may be purchased at any local book store or will be sent to any address, postpaid for 30 cents.

County Judge Wonacott announced late today that he believed the county would contest the leved the county would contest the County Judge Wonacott claims the petitioners processed in calling the election under the 1803 laws, which provide in part that three or more free-holders may call such election upon posting the required notices. It is also claimed by Judge Wonacott that the petitioners have a legal right to recommend, or even designate the extent and character of the contemplated improvements in the event such are approved by the county. The recommendations of the petitioners were approved.

In the complaint filed yesterday, the violations are apparently based upon the 1809 law, while as a matter of fact, the proceedings were instituted under a proceeding law enacted in the year 1803.
