THE NO GLOVE MOVEMENT.

Rings With Large Settings Responsible For Change.

There is an old saying that a French woman dons her gloves in the privacy of her boudoir, an English woman while coming down the stairs, and the American tugs on her gloves when halfway down the street. And if this is so it would appear as though for once the Parisians are imitating their American contemporaries.

The no glove fashion is particularly noticeable in Paris, where many smart women are carrying their gloves in their hands instead of putting them on. The gloves they carry are exceedingly fine—suede ones in beautiful tints of biscuit, ecrú and tan.

For some little time past women have been flouting the old invariable law that the hands should be covered in the evening, and at the theaters and the less ceremonious parties the wearing of gloves has been on the decrease. There is also a new liking for duck's foot yellow gloves, which several years ago were exceedingly modish. These are worn for morning walks.

The reason assigned for the no glove movement is the fact that rings with very large gem settings are fashionable, and hands are exceedingly popular. It is customary to take to the theater a large muff, in which the hands are buried. But the gloves must be there, too, loosely carried in the hands after the manner affected by men.

Crepe de Chine Underwear.

Each year the return of summer brings us something new in the way of undergarments. This year's innovation is to be crepe de chine, and there is no doubt that it will be exceedingly cool and comfortable. We will find all our old favorites developed in this material, combinations, princess slips and nightgowns, and they will all be glorified. Pink is the favorite color, though garments are found in all the delicate shades, while the more elaborate affairs, and likewise the more expensive, are decorated with flowers, rosettes and wreaths made of chiffon and ribbon.

The more simple and practical garments are lace trimmed, chine being the favorite, as it is on the line undergarments, though Irish edging and ribbon are used.

Useful Things to Know.

Starch should be mixed with soap water, for thus the linen will have a more glossy appearance and be less likely to stick to the iron?

Molten grease spots with cold water and soap before scrubbing, as this will cause them to be more easily removed?

Good black ink mixed with the white of an egg is excellent to restore the color to black kid gloves or shoes?

Any kind of steamed bread will fluffier if it is baked ten or fifteen minutes immediately on being taken from the steamer and before being removed from the mold?

If new cake tins are put on top of the stove until they have a bluish color, but not until they become burned, cake will not stick to them during the baking as it usually does to new tins?

This is the time of year to have your piano put in shape for the summer's work. Telephone Stone, 255-R.

Battleship Michigan, American Dreadnought, at Gun Practice

Copyright, 1912, by American Press Association.

LAST year the champion of the navy in target practice with big guns, the battleship Michigan this spring lost her laurels to the battleship Utah in the tests made off Hampton Roads. She has an imposing bulk, with her two huge sets of superimposed turrets fore and aft, her lofty "peach basket" steel masts supporting her fire control platforms and wireless apparatus, and is altogether a splendid specimen of the American Dreadnought type. She is of 10,000 tons displacement, carries in her main battery eight twelve-inch guns and cost about $5,000,000. One of her twelve inchers throws an 850 pound projectile. Each shot requires 300 pounds of smokeless powder and costs about $225. The Michigan won the red silk pennant "for battle efficiency" for the year 1911, defeating the former holder, the battleship Maryland. The photograph here reproduced shows the Michigan discharging a broadside in the target practice in which the Atlantic fleet recently engaged.
