Answers Every Question a Child Can Ask

Why is the sea never still?
Where does the wind begin?
Why can't we see in the dark?
What are eyebrows for?
Why are the rain drops round?
Why is the snow so white?
What is the Milky Way?
What is the use of our hair?
Why do we grow old?
Why is yawning infectious?
Do we think in words?
Why does water freeze?
And thousands of others

FIFTEEN GREAT DEPARTMENTS OF KNOWLEDGE

The Fifteen Great Departments supply the needs and exercise all the faculties of the growing mind. Natural Science, which lights up nature; delightful history, mechanics and arts; beautiful places to be seen or dreamed about, adventure, which arrives and brings back a treasure; real people more interesting than giants and cleverer than fairies; things to make and do which delightfully occupy busy hands—all satisfy and stimulate eager young minds. The reason for including every department will be easily apparent after examining the work.

President John H. Finley, of the College of the City of New York, introduction says: "Suppose a boy of ten were to spend fifteen minutes a day reading these pages, he would at 13 know more about the earth and the life on it than the wisest men know a few generations ago."

A WELL-ROUNDED EDUCATION

A well-rounded education cannot be obtained in the school room alone. The boy or girl whose progress is the most rapid will almost always be the one whose reading has been carefully selected at home. The editors of the BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE have rendered this great service to childhood. No wise parent will neglect the opportunity offered by this work to study the disposition and capabilities of his child. In many cases a child's life work may be determined by the possession of these books.

THE THREEFOLD INFORMATION

The important facts in all the leading articles are indelibly impressed upon the mind in three different ways. First the summary at the head of each article, then the wonderfully interesting article itself, then the pictures illustrating it, with the several lines of terse and vivid description.

THE LITERARY DIGEST SAYS OF THE BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE:

"It is an exhaustive work and a notable example of editorial skill in the choice of topics and their treatment. Adults as well as children will be fascinated alike by the luminous text and the illustrations. As has already been pointed out in these columns, one of the uses of such a work would be to assist parents, their sons and daughters in finding out whether a child's natural bent be toward science, mechanics, trade or literature."

LET THE CHILDREN DECIDE

They will be delighted with the beautiful illustrated booklet mailed free giving the contents of each of the Departments of Knowledge. The valuable pamphlet, "The Mind of a Child," also presented.

The Grolier Society, LONDON and NEW YORK

THE WISDOM OF THE WORLD IN SIMPLE LANGUAGE

The lost art of simplicity—the art of presenting profound truths in the simple language which a child can understand—has been discovered by the editors of the BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE. The simple clear and convincing style which appeals equally to the adult mind is the secret of the great drawing power of this remarkable work. It quickens and stimulates thought and in a marked degree awakens interest in the world of ideas. Not only facts but ideals are absorbed, and learning made a real delight.

CHURCH UNION

Is Desired by Many Denominations Now.

PASSENGER STEAMER LAUNCHED

Brick Is Recommended For Country Roads—Booklet Of West Issued By Ry. Co.—New Hospital For Insane.

(Special to The Evening News.)

SEATTLE, June 5.—Church unity is becoming more and more popular. At the fifty-fourth general assembly of the United Presbyterian church of America, recently held in Seattle, the desirability of church union was clearly shown. The point was made that under present conditions, the missionary field is suffering because of the scattered efforts of the many religious organizations, which ought to work together. This same subject was taken up by the Methodists in their Minneapolis assembly recently. As a result of the Seattle convention, a committee was named to confer with other Presbyterian bodies.

Charities and Correction Congress.

One of the worthiest works in Washington is the state conference of charities and correction, which has been holding its annual meeting in Spokane this week. Its efforts are directed in behalf of improving conditions for children and particularly dependent children. Mayor George F. Cotterill, of Seattle, is president of the movement. The program contained many interesting subjects bearing on child life and they were discussed by child workers of national reputation.

New Passenger Steamship.

One of the handsomest steamships ever built for passenger service in the Pacific Northwest recently slid from the ways of the Seattle Construction & Dry Dock Co. This vessel was christened Sol Dul, in honor of the Sol Duc Hot Springs on the Olympic Peninsula. It was built for the Inland Navigation Company and will run between Seattle, Port Townsend and Port Angeles. The Sol Duc is 205 feet long and cost $225,000 to build. It is an all-steel boat and thoroughly modern throughout. There has been a steady improvement in the class of ships built for Puget Sound travel, in late years, and the Sol Duc is in keeping with this progress.

Conference Of Insurance.

Insurance companies with total assets aggregating $4,500,000,000 will be represented by delegates at the national insurance convention, which is to be held in Spokane July 23-26. The coming of these men to the Pacific Northwest can be made to mean much to this part of the country, for they have a great deal of influence in directing the investigating of this exceptionally large fund. Insurance Commissioner Schivley, of Washington is helping to make the arrangements which will enable the visitors to get a good idea of the Pacific Northwest through his activity, this year's convention was brought to Spokane.

Brick for Country Roads.

Brick as the best pavement for country roads has been recommended to the commissioners of King county by the good roads advisers. Extensive experiments have been made with asphalt, bitulthite, warrentite. None of them have stood up under the hard wear to which they are subjected. Some of these process roadways in use only a year or two are almost worn out, while brick pavements in Seattle's main streets are still good after fifteen years of steady use. King county is putting down $100,000 worth of paving on county roads this year. The most of the work is to be brick.

while deliberating on a verdict.
Two—Newly discovered evidence which could not be produced at the time of the trial.
Three—Insufficient evidence to warrant the verdict of guilty.
The case of W. L. Ladd vs. C. P. Cotton, D. N. Snyder and William Nall, an action to recover damages in the sum of $500 was taken to a jury in the circuit court late this afternoon. Ladd brought the suit to recover damages as a result of being refused the privilege of voting at the recent city election held at Glendale. Cotton, Snyder and Nall were members of the election board, and according to the evidence adduced by Ladd, enforced an unconstitutional property clause contained in the Glendale charter. The case was bitterly contested and the outcome remains a conjecture. Ladd was represented by Attorney J. D. Wurtzbaugh and B. L. Eddy, while Attorneys George Neuner and Dexter Rice looked after the interests of the defendants.

Grand Jury Busy.

The grand jury visited the poor farm this afternoon, and according to reports, found the premises in first-class condition. The grand jury will probably adjourn late tomorrow.
