Mrs. Davis, Who Caused Roosevelt Outburst at Chicago.

© by American Press Association.

MRS. W. A. DAVIS.

Mrs. W. A. Davis is enjoying the popularity attending her recent excited rush for fame on the floor of the Chicago national convention.

This impulsive lady caused the delegates to cheer for twenty minutes by waving a large banner bearing Colonel Roosevelt's portrait. Mrs. Davis explains the happening in the following way:

"While I was sitting there I saw a handsome large picture of Roosevelt lying on a man's lap. I said, 'Oh, give me that, won't you?' I did not wait for him to answer, but snatched it away from him. I was so excited. They were cheering wildly, you know, for some one else, and I've always been a strong admirer of Roosevelt. I grabbed the picture and waved it wildly. I hardly knew what I was doing. I guess I'm rather excitable by nature.

"I hardly realized what they were doing when they took me down. I was too excited to be afraid. I felt perfectly at home, for some reason, although I never have appeared in public before."

The Useful Rose.

More in number than the count of its petals are the present day uses for the silky rose crocheted in baby Irish style out of the heavy mercerized cotton or twisted silk of white or cream color. The bags on which it is the chosen trimming are the very newest design to be seen in the shops that make a specialty of "the latest thing," but a use still more novel is as the trimming for one's new girdle.

As has been often said, the knack of crocheting them once learned is invaluable. And in this heavy thread there is not the eye-strain to be guarded against which makes the finer work rather trying to those with sensitive vision. Once started, the little box or bag of single roses soon begins to fill up.

Progressive Orientals.

Mrs. Chapman Carr, president of the International Woman Suffrage alliance, writing from Egypt, says: "I find a Khedivial princess who is a pronounced suffragist and has written some excellent papers to prove that the Koran is not opposed to liberty for women. A Moslem woman has lectured at the newly founded Egyptian university on women's rights, and a Syrian girl has studied law and is employed in a law office. Leaders are thus coming forward, and a woman's movement has surely begun. In the constitutional agitation of the past few years the women have taken a keen interest, and representative government has become a popular theme of discussion in the harems."

Dented Furniture.

When furniture becomes dented and not broken the marks may easily be made to disappear. Treat it in this manner:

Wet the bruised spot with water. Double a piece of brown paper five or six times and soak it in warm water. Place it upon the bruise and apply a warm (not hot) flatiron till the moisture has evaporated.

If the dent has not disappeared repeat the treatment.

To Remove Ink Spots.

If an ink spot gets on the carpet slip a pan under it immediately, pour cold water through it and then cover it with a little heap of salt. When the salt has become dark with ink remove it and put a fresh layer in its place. An ink stain is less likely to be spread by pouring water through it than by dipping it into hot water.

Give Her the Right Tool.

A woman can't drive a nail. There has been too much slandering of women. A woman may not be able to drive a nail with a hammer, but you give her a nailbrush and she can drive a nail as well as anybody.
