Will Make No Defense.

Badinger, secretary of the Interior and a former member of Taft's cabinet, none of all the attorneys involved, will not take the stand to defend himself before the Hanford congressional investigating committee against charges of conspiracy in connection with the Heckman and Hansen bankruptcy cases, which were made by Attorney J. MELROSE LAND FALLS INTO SWEDISH HANDS.

Big Tracts Are Being Divided As Fast As Possible—To Be Developed.

A new settlement is now rapidly springing up near Melrose, about 10 miles from Roseburg. About 6,000 acres of land is now in the hands of Swedes. The greater part of this is owned by two colonization companies, namely: The Southern Oregon Orchard Company and Melrose Orchard Land Company, who have divided it into tracts of 10 to 40 acres each. Between 75 to 100 of these tracts have already been sold to individual settlers, who have commenced to improve their lots, build houses and fences and make and improve roads.

John W. Hawkins, salesman and manager for the Melrose Orchard Land Company is the most active promoter of the new settlement and sold 25 lots during the month of April.

The pioneers of this settlement are: A. J. Lindgren, J. A. Kooken, A. J. Anderson and Chas. Anderson. Most of the lately arrived have come from the states of Minnesota, North Dakota and Nebraska.

A saw mill is to be erected this summer on the lands of the Melrose Orchard Land Company to furnish building material for the colonists and to prepare the oak timber for the market. J. A. Gilkeson purchased the timber of the company and is to operate the sawmill. The colony was visited May 15 and 16 by John W. Hawkins, and O. N. Glin, of Astoria, John E. Carlson and B. S. Nystrom, of Portland. A great number of the people were gathered in the Melrose school house on Wednesday to listen to sermons and religious discussion by the ministers. The ladies of the church brought a good collection of food and served a very nice dinner for the people in the school house. After the religious meetings, the settlers had a friendly talk with the members of the land company concerning good roads within the colony.

B. S. NYSTROM. BLAME FIXED ON THE ENGINE CREW.

Claim That Engineer Was Running At An Excessive Rate of Speed.

PORTLAND, Or., July 12.—L. R. Fields, superintendent of the Portland division of the Southern Pacific, and F. L. Burekhalter, district engineer, have completed their report of the derailment of the Shasta Limited Monday morning on a straight track, two miles east of Rogue River.

The derailment occurred on a fill 700 feet long and nine feet high. "The non-observance of slow orders resulted in the derailment," says the report. The damage is placed at $1,000 to equipment, $200 to track, and $50 to the engine.

That portion of the track, says the report, needs lining and raising frequently during the rainy season. The crew of the train had been warned to "look out for bad spots," as the result of an observance of "low spots" the preceding day. The train was going 20 miles an hour at the time, it says, and ran 429 feet after the wheels of the tank left the rails.

The Oregon railroad commission has investigated the wreck and concurs in the earlier findings.

WILSON WILL MEET CLARK AT SEAGIRT. Plans For Democratic Campaign Are Being Formulated.

SEAGIRT, N. J., July 11.—Governor Wilson announced today that he had set aside three hours Saturday afternoon for a conference with Speaker Clark, who is coming to Seagirt to see him. Representative Underwood, the governor said, probably would come to Seagirt for a conference next week.

Speaker Clark and Leader Underwood both have written the governor that they would be glad to consult with him concerning the program of the democrats in congress during the remainder of the session.

William J. Bryan has written and telephoned the governor several times since his nomination, but no date has yet been set for a meeting between them.

Checks still continue to pour into the governor's office. He said they feature the most interesting feature in his mail and that he was kept

GIRLS ESCAPE FROM CINCINNATI CONVENT.

Miss Louise Flagg, Of San Francisco, In a Daring Dash.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, July 11.—Dangling from a frail rope, made by tying strips of bed sheeting together, Louise Flagg, aged 17, of San Francisco, with two other girls, made a sensational escape from the convent of the Good Shepherd in Carthage, a suburb of Cincinnati, and in doing so, sustained a sprained ankle. The three girls were later picked up by a juvenile court officer.

When accosted the girls told of how they tore the sheets in strips and tying them together, made a rope on which they might slide to the ground. They told how the rope broke letting them fall from the second floor to the ground. The two other girls suffered painful bruises.

Picturesque House In Which Charles Dickens Once Lived

BROADSTAIRS, one of the quieter English watering places, has been a favorite residence of popular British novelists. George Eliot, Wilkie Collins and Charles Dickens spent much of their time there. A house which was occupied at different times by the last two has recently been sold. It is Bleak House, where "David Copperfield" and other Dickens novels were written. An English doctor bought it for £3,000. It stands on a commanding site overlooking the town and harbor and has charming gardens. The house is marked by a commemorative tablet and a bust of Dickens, which may be distinguished in the photograph.

Maurine Buchanan, who has been visiting for the past month in Peel returned home yesterday.

F. D. Sprague, who recently retired from the lumber business in Roseburg, left this afternoon for Portland where he will locate permanently. Mr. Sprague was accompanied by Mrs. Sprague. It is Mr. Sprague's intention to engage in business in Portland within the near future.

Drain needed a baker, and a baker who kneaded dough and was looking for a location, struck the town and opened a shop in the south half of the northwest section of a vacant garage. The baker being broke needed credit for flour, lard, sugar and other stuff before he could knead the dough for the bread and biscuits which the people needed. Unlimited credit was extended the baker who got busy on the job and for several days turned out large batches of bread and cookies which he sold to hungry citizens for spot cash. One morning last week the bakery shop failed to open, and on investigation it was discovered that the baker had hiked out during the night, taking with him the cash which his creditors needed, and leaving behind a batch of dough unkneced.—Sutherland Sun.
