Webber Seen Running From Scene of Crime

POLICEMEN CALLED TO TESTIFY

John Reissler Says He Saw Webber Leave Scene of Murder Immediately After The Fatal Shots Were Fired.

(Special to The Evening News.)
NEW YORK, July 25.—John Reissler, one of the first witnesses called before the grand jury today, testified that he saw Webber running away from the scene after Rosenthal was shot.

Lieutenants Becker, Costigan and Rielly have been invited to testify before the grand jury, but the district attorney has stipulated that Becker must waive the rights of immunity at the coroner's inquest which has been set for next Monday.

George Thomas Coats, aged 78 years, and one of Roseburg's best known citizens passed away very suddenly at about 11 o'clock this morning. Death occurred at the home of his son, C. E. Coats, in Brookside. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. Dollarhide, of West Roseburg, officiating. Interment of the remains will follow in the Odd Fellows' cemetery. Other than leaving a son, C. E. Coats, the deceased is survived by one daughter. Mr. Coats had resided in Brookside for several years and was highly respected by all who chanced to make his acquaintance.

D. C. Harris, recently sentenced to an indeterminate term in the state penitentiary on a charge of passing a worthless check upon Theodore Wallace, of Wolf Creek, was this morning taken to Salem by Deputy Sheriff Ralph Quine. Harris is the individual who came to Douglas county several weeks ago under the pretense of being a wealthy Easterner in search of a mining claim. He negotiated for the purchase of a valuable mining property, near Wolf Creek, and was about to close the deal when he suddenly left the country after passing the check at issue. He was later arrested, and upon being arraigned in the circuit court entered a plea of guilty. The passing of sentence followed.
