This Busy World.

The next convention of the Western Federation of Miners will be held at Hancock, Mich.

A law has been passed in Denmark under which the government makes loans to farm laborers who desire to become small farmers.

The International Miners' Congress, just closed in Amsterdam, adopted a resolution in favor of the principle that five days' work is sufficient for a week's work of miners.

Philadelphia has 85 cigar factories, employing 5,411 persons. Fifteen hundred and eighty-three of these, or practically twenty-five per cent, are children under 16 years.

The Master Builders' Association of New York declares that while women will be admitted to its trade school, soon to be opened, they will attend only to learn the business side of building work.

There is to be opened in Cincinnati a co-operative club for working girls. They are to be given rooms at the cost of $1 a week, while their meals will cost 35 cents a day. It is to be a "real home" and no profits.

A new profession has been taken up by women in the South American cities. On the trolley cars, even in the busier streets, the female conductor has long been an important factor in the rapid transit situation of these cities.

The telephone girls of Springfield, Mass., have organized a union with 250 members. They will affiliate with the American Federation of Labor. Officials of the telephone company say they are not opposed to the move, but will treat union and non-union operators alike.

American women employed in factories are far more generously paid for their work than their sisters employed in similar vocations in European factories, according to reports made to the department of commerce and labor by United States consuls stationed in various European cities.

Germany, Great Britain, Austria, Italy and France have for some time recognized the importance of making a thorough study of industrial diseases. The result has been that by a system of the most careful inspection and by the elimination of defective methods and dangerous machinery general efficiency has been materially increased and the percentage of industrial diseases reduced. In this country California, Connecticut, Illinois, New York, Michigan and Wisconsin have already passed laws requiring physicians to make reports on certain specified occupational diseases.

Roosevelt Admits That Many of the Progressive Platform Planks Are of Democratic Origin Makes Statement.

(Special to The Evening News.)
LONDON, Eng., Aug. 10.—Reports from Constantinople this morning are to the effect that more than 10,000 lives were lost in Turkey last night and early today as the result of a terrible earthquake and the fire that followed in its wake. Constantinople itself is not in the earthquake zone and consequently no lives were lost there. The Turkish towns of Tehanak, Kalesni, Gallipoli and the villages along the sea of Marmora were destroyed and many lives lost.

Tehoru in the Adrianople district with a population of 1,000 was totally destroyed by fire that followed the quake and it is believed that only a mere handful of the inhabitants escaped with their lives. Gallipoli at the northwest entrance of the Dardanelles with a population of three thousand met a similar fate as did also Tehalek Kalesni which has a population of ten thousand. Details of the tragedy are meagre and definite information is slow in coming.
