SIMPLE HOUSE GOWN.

An Odd Whimsy In Button Trimming.

IN WHITE COTTON BATINE.

This simple house gown was designed for a young French actress. The material is white batine, and the plaits down the front give height and dignity. The arrangement of the buttons, half under the buttonhole, is an odd whimsy.

DRESSMAKING BIDS.

Contracts For Sewing Awarded In Businesslike Fashion.

Letting out the making of a summer wardrobe to the lowest bidder is a new wrinkle to one dressmaker who was recently invited to participate in such a contest.

"I have a number of gowns, separate blouses and shirt waists, which I wish made up by June 1," wrote the woman who had the contract to let. "Will you kindly call at my house for particulars and make an estimate of charges?" The dressmaker went and named a figure. When she came back she said she never felt so important in her life.

"It was like bidding for a government job," she said, "and when I agreed to make up so many yards of tulle, dainty and linen for a certain sum, I felt as if I were signing a contract to drape the columns of the library or postoffice or some other public building. That illusion was heightened by the size of the customer, who is stately enough for statuary, and solid enough for masonry. There is only a small chance of my getting the work, for she invited scores of other dressmakers to compete, some of whom are likely to undercut me, but if I do get it it will be the first order I ever obtained on those businesslike terms."

The turned back fronts of this French coat show the color of the under side.

The coat is made of reversible satin with dull gold on the reverse side.

SING A SONG OF FASHION.

Feminine Fancy In Dress. Ah, India, ye whom Fashion's stringers What of the style of skirt called "cinq'ing"? So thin that you and light show through it. As thousands are aware who view it, With little underneath but nature To constitute the filling feature, So startling as to cause a modest Man to wonder if the oldest Sculpture ever carved or molded Were not in public now unfolded. Ladies, ladies, your apparel Makes one wish you wore a barrel! And if by chance you are not knowing That you are making such a showing, Oh, had some power the rifts give you To see yourself as others see you! -W. J. Lampton.

Like Cured Him.

"The doctor stopped my cold."
"How did he do it?"
"Made me cough up."
