Woman's World

Equal Chance With Men
For Wireless Operator Jobs.

MISS MABEL KELSO.

Miss Mabel Kelso of Seattle, Wash., is the first woman in this country to obtain a license as a wireless operator. She was formerly a stenographer, but studied the continental wireless code in idle moments.

Having passed her examination, Miss Kelso has been assigned to duty on the steamship Mariposa, which plies between Alaska and Seattle.

LADIES, TAKE NOTICE.

Difference Between Grace and Graciousness.

Many women now are striving for grace. They are determined to be graceful. Grace used to be considered spontaneous, but now we know how to capture it by strenuous effort.

Physical culture claims thousands of votaries, and the clumsiest muscles are trained to supply harmony. Any woman who chooses can be graceful. She can decide to walk, dance, sit and stand gracefully. But when she has achieved grace she too often forgets graciousness.

For one thing, there are no classes in graciousness in the women's clubs. Yet it is more important surely to have a graceful mind than a graceful body.

Graciousness is the charming way of doing things, the sure path to lovely influence over others.

Like grace, it is not necessarily a birth gift by the fairies. It can be captured and needs only will.

Its essential element is consideration for others, a consideration which must be practiced till it extends even to a fractious cook or a surly plumber.

The women for whom it is a pleasure to work--how they keep their books and conquer their plumbers! The gracious women whom young people admire, whom old people turn to--how enviable they are!

Why not be one of them?

For Those Who Must Work.

When one pouts about his work he just patters along.

Sadles drive troubles miles away.

A robin is cheerful all the day long, and he begins it with a song.

The kind word is the only kind to speak.

A sweet voice is perfume from the heart's flower garden.

A rabbit has long ears, but it carries a short tail.

You cannot tell how pretty the sunrise is with a morning frown on your face.

The task always looks bigger to "wait a minute" than it does to "do it now."

When one always does his best his best keeps getting better.

Don't put on good manners for company; wear them all the time.

Willing hands are the prettiest--Farm and Fireside.

New Table Pad.

Formerly the good housekeeper was content to have a padding of cotton camel cloth for the dining room table, but nowadays she may have an asbestos pad, which has the merit of keeping the table from damage by heat or moisture, a thing the flannel pad fails to do. These new pads can be made to order for tables of odd sizes and shapes, and in these days, when dollars so often displace damask cloths for luncheon and tea service, it is an undoubted advantage to keep one's table in the best possible condition, free from stains and spots.

Feminist Movement in Egypt.

The first Egyptian Woman's league has just been formed with headquarters in Alexandria. The object of this first organization among modern Egyptian women is to defend women's interest in all directions and especially to consider means of providing schools for Egyptian girls. There are now said to be more than 25,000 young Egyptian women and girls in the government schools and almost twice as many for whom no provision has been made. The demand for teachers far exceeds the supply, and the government school facilities, funds and buildings are entirely inadequate.

One Exception.

"Johnny, my boy, you must never tell a lie. That is the worst thing you could do. Every one admires a truthful boy."

"Ah right, ma. What shall I tell Mrs. Johnson when she calls and asks if you are in--same as you told me to tell her last time or the truth?"
