The entrance requirements of the Yale school of law are very strict so that the decision of the faculty which accepted the work of Mr. Crawford in this city as the equivalent of two years of a three year course attest to the efficiency of the instruction afforded at the Willamette law school. It is Mr. Crawford's

Portland Turns Out to Welcome Ex-President

REPUBLICANS STAND BY HAY

Present Governor of Washington Renominated—Progressives Hold Colorado With Firm Grip.

PORTLAND, Sept. 11.—Col. Roosevelt arrived here early this morning and passed a strenuous day. He was given a royal welcome. He was escorted from the train over a bed of roses. After his arrival he spent the forenoon in conferring with progressive political leaders.

Hay Is Renominated.

SEATTLE, Sept. 11.—There was a light vote in yesterday's primaries, as Roosevelt being in the city kept many away from the polls. Governor Hay was renominated for governor on the republican ticket. He practically had no opposition.

Progressives Hold Colorado.

DENVER, Sept. 11.—Incomplete returns today indicate that the republican and democratic progressive parties have swept the state in the Colorado primaries yesterday. Philip B. Stewart, progressive republican, was nominated for governor. He will be opposed by Elias A. Ammons, a progressive democrat.

CALIFORNIA PENITENTIARY WARDEN AGAINST HANGING.

Says That One Murder Is No Reason For Another—Executions Relic Of Barbarism.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 10.—William Burke, under sentence to be hanged Friday, was given commutation today and sentenced to life imprisonment at the order of Acting Governor Wallace. Burke murdered a woman with whom he had been living in San Diego four years ago. He was intoxicated when he committed the crime.

Willie Luis, also under sentence to be hanged Friday, was given another reprieve of two weeks. Luis is a Chinese boy who, out of a sentiment which he declared to be defense of the dignity of his mother, killed his father's new wife because his mother was still living in China and had not been divorced.

These announcements, coupled with the fact that the two men who were under sentence to be hanged a week ago were saved from the gallows, lends weight to the declaration made by the opponents of capital punishment that no governor will permit another hanging in California.

SAN QUENTIN, Cal., Sept. 10.—Unstrung by the part he must play in the hanging of several murderers at San Quentin penitentiary within the next six weeks, Warden J. E. Hoyle voiced today bitter protest against capital punishment, emphatically asserting that society has no right to take the life of any man.

At intervals of one week, nine men are scheduled to die at San Quentin and Folsom, California's two big penitentiaries. "Only the poor hang," protested Warden Hoyle. "The rich most always go free. It is the law, but it is not justice.

"My duty here makes it necessary for me to supervise hangings. But when the rope is put about the doomed man's neck I look away—I cannot stand it. I am unnerved for days afterward.

"I am against capital punishment. Not from sentimental reasons, but from a sense of justice. It is only the poor devil who gets the death penalty. The rich man hires competent attorneys, who, through technicalities, save him from the gallows. It isn't fair. The poor man should have the same chance.

Executions Not Preventative.

"One murder is no remedy for another, so nothing is gained to society by killing a murderer. It's no lesson to the criminally inclined and the records prove that it is no preventive for crime. I believe that the punishment for murder should be life imprisonment with credits for good behavior and the privilege of parole or pardon. This does not kill hope in a man. It makes him better because he knows he has a chance. The time will come when the execution of murderers will be looked upon as a relic of barbarism."

ARKANSAS VOTES AGAINST PROHIBITION.

Amendment Looking to Disfranchisement of Negro Defeated.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 10.—Incomplete returns received today indicate for a certainty that statewide prohibition was defeated in yesterday's election. The recall is still in doubt. The entire democratic state ticket was successful, but whether the vote will show a gain or a loss over the normal majority is not yet known.

The "grandfather clause" amendment, seeking to enact the requirement that a man's right to vote depended upon whether or not his grandfather had been a citizen, was decisively beaten. The purpose of the amendment was to disfranchise the negro.

G. L. Flint and wife this morning sold their delicatessen, situated on West Cass street, to Harmon Anderson and wife. The new purchasers are well known in Roseburg and vicinity where they have resided for the past three years.

S. P. RAILWAY

Demands Protection for its Mexican Property

MILLIONS OF DOLLARS INVOLVED

State Department Asked to Send Aid - Rebel Army Threatens to Take Agua Prieta Immediately.

(Special to The Evening News.) NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Formal demand for protection of the company's interests in Mexico was made to the state department at Washington today by the Southern Pacific railroad company. The railway people were spurred to immediate action by reports of Walter Douglas, manager for the company in New Mexico and Arizona, who was recently captured by Mexican rebels near Agua Prieta. Property damage, according to a message received here from Douglas by Robert Lovett, chairman of the board of directors of the Harriman lines, will figure into the millions.

Rebels Demand Surrender.

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Sept. 11.—Col. Antonio Rojas, commanding the rebel army, has surrounded the town of Agua Prieta, Sonora, across the boundary from Douglas, and coupled with his demand for surrender, threatens to bombard the town. Rojas has nearly 1,000 well armed rebels under his command, and is able to capture the place, as the federal garrison numbers 250 men.

Becker Scores Point.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—A sweeping victory was gained today for Police Lieutenant Becker, charged with complicity in the murder of Herman Rosenthal, when Supreme Court Justice Bischoff, acting on the application of Attorney John McIntyre, counsel for Becker, postponed the trial, which was set for tomorrow, to October 1. This was done against the strenuous objection of District Attorney Whitman, who urged that the case be prosecuted at once.

GLENDALE MEN TAKE DAY TO ENTER PLEA.

Japanese Enters Plea of Not Guilty to the Charge of Bootlegging - Released Upon Bail.

Albert Hayes and H. S. Kinney, who conduct "near" beer resorts at Glendale were arraigned in the circuit court this afternoon on charges of violating the local option laws. Both men were represented in court by Attorney Elbert Hermann, and took until tomorrow morning at nine o'clock in which to enter formal pleas. The men had hardly been arraigned, when Attorney Hermann informed the court that he would file a motion attacking the indictment returned by the grand jury. In this motion, Attorney Hermann claimed he would contend that it was necessary—since the passage of the Home Rule bill—to set out in the indictment that the crime was committed in an incorporated city. When the crime was committed outside of an incorporated town, Attorney Hermann claimed, the indictment would hold in the event it was set out that the offense occurred in Douglas county and in the state of Oregon. This motion will be argued on November 8, in order that the cases against the alleged bootleggers may be brought to trial during the regular fall term of court.

Japanese Is Arraigned.

T. Fugimoto, a Japanese, who was yesterday arrested on a charge of selling a quart flask of whiskey to Deputy Sheriff Herrick and Eddy, appeared in the circuit court this afternoon and entered a plea of not guilty. He will be defended by Attorney W. W. Cardwell. Pending the regular November term of the circuit court, Fugimoto will enjoy his liberty on bail in the sum of $400. This sum the defendant furnished in cash.

Fugimoto has been employed as foreman of the local Southern Pacific Japanese vipers for some time past, and for several months has been suspected of peddling booze among his countrymen. It was only recently, however, that the officers were successful in effecting his capture.
