Bound Hand and Foot, These Girls Swim the Delaware

Photos by American Press Association.
THE seemingly impossible feat of swimming across the Delaware river at Philadelphia with hands and feet tied was performed recently by two young women, Miss Margaret Stanton and Miss Kathryn Wallace.
Their feet were so tied that it was not possible for them to bend their knees very much, and the ordinary strokes with the hands and arms were, of course, impossible. Most of the motive power was furnished by the muscles of the back and shoulders, and the girls rested themselves by swimming first on one side and then on the other. The bandages chafed their wrists and ankles considerably, but they pluckily held out until the feat was accomplished.
The upper of the two photographs shows the young women diving with legs and arms unfettered, the lower in the water with wrists and ankles bound.

RESOLUTIONS OF CONDOLENCE.

Hall of Elkton No. 63, A. F. & A.
M., September 21st, 1912.

Inasmuch as it has pleased the Supreme Ruler of the Universe to remove from our lodge and his family and friends to the Supreme Lodge above, our beloved brother James M.
Stark. Therefore he it resolved this lodge extend to the bereaved widow and family of our deceased brother, our sincere sympathy in their sad bereavement.

That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the widow of our deceased brother. That a copy be spread on the minutes of our lodge, and that a copy be published in the county newspapers, that our lodge be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days.

Women Work at Night to Finance Roosevelt Campaign.

AWFUL FACTORY CONDITIONS

New York State Investigating Committee Found Pale, Worn Women Working in Twine Manufacturing Concern Owned by the International Harvester Company.

Awful conditions have been found by the state factory investigating committee of New York in the mills of the Osborne Twine company, No. 3, at Auburn, N. Y., owned by the International Harvester company, of which George W. Perkins, chief financial backer of Theodore Roosevelt in his scheme to ruin the Republican party, is a director.

"The appearance of the women workers in this plant," said a member of the committee, "was very disheartening. They were worn and pale and their clothes, faces and hands were covered with oil and hemp cloth. Many of these women, so called, are only children in age and they have to lug huge piles of hemp, weighing 150 pounds each, across the floor, the load in some cases being bigger than the women themselves. In the spinning room, where women are employed alone, to the exclusion of men, who would have to receive higher wages, the clatter of machinery is so frightful that a voice below a shriek cannot be heard. The rooms are dark, though for no necessary cause, and no attempt is made to remove the dust, which is kept in constant motion by the line shaftings despite the requirements of the law. This dust is breathed continuously by the women, many of whom complain of chronic coughs and colds. The dust and dirt are so thick upon the clothes of the girls that at the noon hour—which in many cases consists of but a few minutes—and at the close of the day's or night's labor, the girls have to sweep each other clean with brooms."

It is further stated that the custom of working the women all night is permanent, married women being selected for night work, their hours being from sundown until 6:30 o'clock in the morning. Of 400 women employed in the mills, 200 work all night.

When George W. Perkins was asked by a New York Times reporter for an explanation of the conditions in an establishment of which he is one of the directors, he made, in part, the following remarkable reply: "This night work has been rendered necessary largely because of the government's perfectly unreasonable attitude toward large corporations, which has made it impossible for managers of large concerns to know whether they were on foot or horseback, whether they could expand their plans to keep up with increasing demands or not."

The late Mark Twain in his brightest moments never uttered anything more grimly humorous than the foregoing explanation by George W. Perkins of why the company of which he is a director is working women all night under the frightful conditions disclosed by the New York state factory investigating committee.

Meantime it ought to be of interest to millions of Republicans throughout the United States to know where the money comes from to finance Theodore Roosevelt in his campaign of "rule or ruin."

BOUGHT HIS SOCKS IN SCOTLAND.

Governor Wilson is a free trader and is so recognized by the rank and file of his party.
The truth is emphasized a little by the fact that he buys his socks in Scotland.

His apparent indifference to the condition of American laborers may be due to his ability to get along without being obliged to eat bread in the sweat of his brow.

He has been extremely fortunate in this respect. His autocracy has been deeply tinged with aristocracy during his entire career as an educator and dabbler in literature.

He has neither by personal experience or observation acquainted himself with the actual struggles and needs of the ordinary wage earner.

During the trying times that this country was under the blight of free trade in 1894, '95 and '96, Woodrow Wilson was enjoying a liberal income that was in no degree affected by the deplorable conditions surrounding the laborers in this country.

Mr. Wilson is not to be condemned for his good fortune.
On the contrary, he should be disposed to congratulate him, but in self interest the less fortunate should protect themselves against the enforcement of his tariff theories and policy, a trial of which has been given more than once with deplorable effect upon the industrial life of this country.—Trenton Gazette.

GETTING GREY EH—OLD MAN AND BALD TOO.

Looking twenty years older than you really are. Being made the laughing stock of your friends and the butt of their jokes—"Old Age Class" simply because grey hairs are so closely associated with old age.
It is very humiliating to be grey and bald when your age doesn't justify either—to be classed as a "Has Been" and set aside by your young friends as too old for them—to be turned down possibly, in your application for that new position because a YOUNG-LOOKING MAN WAS WANTED.
Get the best of the grey hairs—don't let them get the best of you.
