FOR EVENING WEAR.

Amber Trimmings Again In Vogue For Millinery.

OF BRONZE GOLD PLUSH AND MALINES.

This delightful evening or afternoon calling toque of bronze gold plush is draped with black tulle over yellow stain.

At one side is an ornament of amber beads, and the choux of malines at the back is fastened with an amber clasp.

WINDOW DRESSING.

Effective Casement Curtains to Be Had at Small Cost.

One of the neatest and prettiest ways of dressing the window of a room in which it is not desirable to have flowing draperies, is to use the casement scheme of decorations. For this purpose there comes a specially sheer and fine cotton material called casement cloth through which the light shines although the interior of the room is shielded from outside eyes, but a similar charming effect may be produced by cotton voile, by Chinese or wash silk, none of which materials are costly. The arrangement of the drapery is simple. It is shirred scantily at both its ends upon fine sliding rods of brass, which fit into groves at top and bottom of the casement, if it be a full length French window, and against the sliding casements if the window is of the American type. Another advantage of this scheme of window dressing is the ease with which the draperies may be laundered, for, being straight, guiltless of ruffles and always unstarched, the merest tyro may wash, iron and readjust them.

Hint For Home Sewers.

The home dressmaker who would like to take advantage of the present fashion for contrasts in dress materials will do well to study the smart gown pictured in today's cut. The skirt is machine plaited at the bottom and is of a different fabric from that used for bodice and upper skirt. In this instance the plaited portion is of charmeuse and the drapery and waist of cloth.

Particularly good looking is the modified Robespierre collar, which may be changed at will of the woman who wears the costume.

Her Idea of Business.

"Fanny," said the head librarian to a small girl who acted as page on her staff, "if you are really going to resign you must write me a businesslike resignation that I can send in to the trustees." So Fanny, the page, sat down and wrote this businesslike resignation, which has since been filed with the library trustees:

PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Head Librarian:

Dear Miss—This notification is to notify all trustees and those it may concern, excluding you, that I'm going to resign because of getting a better job. Yours with
