WHY GEORGE M. BROWN SHOULD BE RE-ELECTED

The fifth of November is just two weeks off. The campaign is fast drawing to a close. Voters are making up their minds how to vote on the various candidates who are on the ticket for election. The national issue is pretty well settled. The voter knows which one of the three leading presidential candidates he will support. On local offices only he has not fully settled. Campaign material is being sent out in an effort to help along the voter and assist him in arriving at a proper selection.

A large amount of quiet work is being directed against George M. Brown, republican primary candidate for election to the office of prosecuting attorney for Coos, Curry and Douglas counties.

There are no real good reasons for not re-electing Brown. There are many reasons why he should be returned to fill the office. His greatest opposition comes from those persons and interests upon whom the law has invoked its power and who were compelled to bow before the bar of justice. Because there is a certain element in this community which believes that it should be immune from the law, and because Brown believed to the contrary, this element has started out to defeat the ablest district attorney in the state of Oregon.

Mr. Brown has been district attorney for a number of years. He knows the criminal law of this state better, perhaps than any other law officer or attorney in the state. And he should. He has had to make a careful and exhaustive study of its many phases and ramifications. This district demands a man as prosecutor who does know the law—and what is more to the point—a man who is not afraid to enforce the law.

The duties of this office are intricate. They require a man of the highest skill and knowledge in the law. They demand a man unimpeachable in integrity, absolutely impartial and fearlessly honest in the execution of his trust imposed by the duties of his office and the confidence of the people who placed him there. Such a man is George M. Brown.

He is not the candidate of any one group of men or interests. He represents no ring. He is susceptible to no influence. His only interest in the office is to do his duty, and that duty is to see that the laws of the state are enforced. He knows no favorites. He does not prosecute any one or any group of individuals to please or please any other group. His oath of office is scrupulously adhered to and he has regarded it as an obligation to the people to be discharged honestly and as ably as his ability permitted.

His record in the past has been that of a faithful public servant. He has worked industriously and indefatigably in the efforts of law enforcement. And so far as his work is concerned he has done well. He has not been successful in all his prosecution—no attorney ever has been or ever will be—but his efforts have always been the same. He has prosecuted as vigorously those cases in which the verdicts were against the state as he has those which were favorable to the state.

As a lawyer he has few peers; as a prosecutor he has no equal in the state; as a man he has a character and reputation of which he may well be proud, and such a man is deserving of the support of every citizen who is sympathetic with, and favorable to law enforcement.

The citizenship of this district, when it reflects upon the public career of George M. Brown, when it remembers his standing as a man, when it takes into consideration his fearless stand for law enforcement, regardless of the standing or position of those whom the hand of justice may enmesh, will with a real sense of their duty to their district vote for and re-elect George M. Brown to the high and responsible office of prosecuting attorney for the counties of Coos, Curry and Douglas.

COLORADO.

Why The Republicans Have a Fighting Chance to Carry the State.

"Although Colorado went democratic four years ago," said Albert A. Swain, of Denver, Colo., at the republican national headquarters today, "There is more than a fighting chance that Taft will carry the state this year. The president's strength is growing every day."

The two principal interests in Colorado are conservation and the tariff. When Mr. Roosevelt was president he set aside two-fifths of the state as forest reserves, depriving the state of $70,000 revenue paid in by cattle raisers, for the use of the land, and which had to be expended on roads and schools, while the state still has to pay for policing and protecting these lands. When Roosevelt went through the state he did not say a word upon this vital question nor upon the tariff. President Taft has re-opened to entry over 600,000 acres, and is investigating other lands which may offer an opportunity for homeseekers to settle upon them. Mr. Wilson when he went through the state, told our people that the lands had to be set aside for the reason that the people were trying to steal them. Naturally this displeased a large proportion of the Colorado population, so that upon the conservation question both Roosevelt and Wilson are very unpopular, while President Taft has done the right and proper thing.

"In the matter of tariff, we are concerned with lead, zinc and stock raising. Roosevelt said nothing about the tariff while in the state and Wilson was conspicuously silent. He did not in view of the democratic platform, promise that the protection which is necessary for our industries would be preserved. On the contrary, when Senator Burton visited Denver, he gave a splendid educational presumption of a proposition that is most vital to us, and when he and Mr. Isaac M. Moekins, who accompanied him, had concluded their speeches, the audience of 2,500 people cheered again and again. "These are things which give us a most encouraging outlook in Colo-radio. On the issues which most concern us, President Taft and the republican party appeal to a very large majority of the people of Colorado."

UREN'S AMENDMENT.

The so-called "People's Power League," consisting of W. S. U'Ren and others, has submitted to the people of Oregon, the proposed amendment to the constitution, known on the ballot as 362, 363, page 209 of the voters' pamphlet.

This is the most drastic measure ever submitted to the people of Oregon. If adopted, it would completely revolutionize our present form of government. It is dangerous in the extreme. It represents only one of the many visionary schemes of a set of crack-brained theorists, the champions of single tax.

I am opposed to this bill for the following reasons:

1. It abolishes the state senate.
2. It provides for proportional representation. Each elector votes for one representative, who may be a resident of any part of the state. The bill follows the rule in the law requiring the election of delegates to the national conventions. We had a lesson on how it works at the last primary election. There were ten delegates to elect and we voted for one.
3. Each representative in the state legislature shall cast as many votes for or against any measure, as he received votes in the election. A bunglesome method.
4. The governor is made, ex-officio, a member of the legislature.
5. The leading candidate for governor of each party is made a member of the legislature.
6. Only the governor shall have the right to introduce bills appropriating public money. Other members are denied this right.
7. The governor shall not have the right to veto any bill passed by the legislature.
8. Legislative sessions shall be held annually, and the length of the session is not limited.

There are many other reasons why this amendment should not be adopted. The whole measure is a crude experiment, and the public good demands that it be defeated. Read the negative argument on this measure, page 225, voters' pamphlet.

Do not fail to vote NO. If you do not vote on it at all, under our present law it means you favor the bill. Vote. 363 X NO.

J. A. BUCHANAN.

Mrs. S. E. Hall this morning received a telegram from Danville, Ill., to the effect that her mother died at that place last night. The deceased was about 79 years of age and had resided in the state of Illinois for many years. Owing to the long journey, Mrs. Hall will be unable to attend the funeral.

The Best Ranges and Stoves On The Market Is The Bridge And Beach "Superior" Line

We make the assertion without fear of successful contradiction. Now don't shake your head, for we mean it. Twenty years experience selling them does not go for nothing, and where others say "ours are just as good," we say "ours are the best."

Bridge and Beach Manfg. Co., is one of the oldest stove manufacturing concerns in all the land. Their endeavor has always been to make nothing but the best. "Quality" their motto, and satisfied users their aim, has resulted in making their goods the Criterion for other manufacturers.

Nothing but the very best blend of pig iron is allowed to enter into their construction, and each batch must stand a laboratory test, to determine its quality before it is allowed to go to the cupulo for smelting.

Only experienced labor is allowed in the casting and various processes of making, so why should not a finely finished product be the result.

Their confidence in their goods is such, that a 15 years guarantee on all fire backs, goes with every wood burner, and a ten-year guarantee with coal burners.

As an extra inducement to you to replace your old stove with a new up-to-date one, we are offering a Bonus of 50,000 Automobile votes with each Steel Range, and 20,000 with each cast cook or heating stove. Remember these are in addition to the regular votes that you would be entitled to.

What we have said relative to the Ranges will apply as well to the quality of the Heaters we sell.

Come in and look our stoves over. Examine the Triplex grate, an exclusive feature.

Remember the 50,000 bonus, if not of use to you, they will be to your friends.
