

FIRE AT PRISON

Blaze Destroys Wing at Penitentiary Today.

ALL SALEM GOES TO AID

New Wing Damaged to Extent of Three Thousand Dollars—Gallows Can Be Seen From the Street.

(Special to The Evening News.)
SALEM, Nov. 25.—A disastrous fire occurred at the Oregon penitentiary this morning, the new south wing, containing the auditorium, being partially destroyed. The fire started and fanned by a stiff breeze was soon beyond control, and inadequate water supply or defective hydrants, aiding in the destruction of the structure. Fearing that many convicts would escape, fifty additional officers were sworn in at the city and rushed to the prison as quickly as possible, but the alarm proved almost unfounded, as all prisoners were bravely fighting the flames, giving, apparently, no thought to the opportunity of escape. Business in the city was practically suspended for a couple of hours, hundreds of citizens going out to the penitentiary to assist in saving the main structure. The city fire department was rushed to the scene with apparatus, and by combined efforts the fire was finally subdued. It is believed that the fire had its origin from defective wiring on the stage of the auditorium. The damage to the building will approximate $3,000. The fire destroyed that portion of the building which protected the gallows from public gaze, and now the death apparatus stands out in bold relief to Senator Raymer Dead.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Senator Isidore Raymer, of Maryland, died here at 5:20 this morning. He had been ill for some time, and death was expected. Senator Raymer's death changes, somewhat, the vote in the senate. The democrats, including Raymer, had one vote above a majority. It is believed that Governor Goldsborough will appoint Wm. P. Jackson to succeed Raymer. Governor Wilson, president-elect, wired his deep sorrow over the demise of Raymer, whom he referred to as a patriotic servant and a man whose place it would be difficult to fill.

CARD OF THANKS.

On behalf of the Ladies Aid Society of the Presbyterian church, I wish to thank the business men for their advertisements at the Merchants' Carnival and the young ladies who so ably represented them and all of those who took part in the musical program, especially Mr. and Mrs. Fory who had this part of the program under their direction.

MRS. V. R. BUCKINGHAM,
President of the Ladies Aid Society of Presbyterian Church.

Dr. J. R. Chapman this morning received a letter from Dr. Luther Hamilton, of Portland, to the effect that Mrs. Chapman underwent an operation at Good Samaritan hospital on Saturday. The operation was successful and the patient will probably be able to return home within a couple of weeks.

AUSTRIA ULTIMATUMS SERVA

Depositors Withdrawing Funds in Anticipation of Conflict Austrian Reservists Fortify Port.

(Special to The Evening News.)

BERLIN, Nov. 25.—The war cloud that has hovered over all Europe for the past several weeks has not been dissipated during the last few hours, but rather has lowered considerably, while the lightning of the terrific upheaval that appears almost inevitable can in fancy already be seen plying about the ragged edges of the black cloud settling above the political horizon of the powers of the old world. Vague rumors of war declared by Austria against Serbia today caused a slump in market quotations. The report may be without authority, but nevertheless it is believed that Franz Josef will issue an ultimatum to his less powerful rival this week, demanding direct reply to several of Austria's notes which so far have been ignored by Serbia. Announcement was read in all of the cafes and theatres in Vienna in which the government has called out the reservists. In addition 30,000 Austrian troops have reached Gravena, Austria's Adriatic seaport, and 15,000 more troops are expected to arrive today. The Servians are vacating Monastir and Pristina. On the other hand Germany is mobilizing two army corps on the Russian frontier. Bank depositors throughout the empire, fearing war, are withdrawing funds from the banks, and the entire country is in a state of great anxiety and unrest.

French Reservists Ready.

GENEVA, Switzerland, Nov. 25.—Orders published here calls for all French reservists to be ready to join the colors at moments notice.

GARAGE UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT.

Howard & Smith Take Over What Was Known as The New Garage—Will Make Improvements.

C. F. Smith and D. Howard have formed a partnership and have taken over The New Garage, which recently was thrown into the hands of a receiver. The new owners have changed the name to that of the Roseburg Garage. They will do business at the same stand on Rose streets just back of the Grand hotel.

A large assortment of auto supplies have been ordered and the new firm is in a position to furnish parts and supplies for all of the standard and better known makes of automobiles. Machinery has been installed so that the various parts of auto can be speedily made from the raw material without waiting for mail or express orders.

The building which is occupied by the Roseburg garage can conveniently store fifty large autos. Everything has been improved and the service that the new firm will give the public is excellent.

Mr. Smith recently came here from Spokane where he was a business success. Mr. Howard is well known here, having been for a plumber for a number of years past.

Attorney John Lowrey, who sustained the loss of his law fixtures in the recent fire in the Review building, is today negotiating for other offices in which he expects to resume his practice within the next few days.

A crew of carpenters and painters this morning commenced the task of repairing the residence of William Moore, on Kane street, which was damaged in the recent fire which destroyed the stables of Banks & Welker.

William Tipton, one of Roseburg's oldest and best known citizens, this morning underwent a very serious operation at Mercy hospital. The operation was successful and the patient was resting easy at a late hour this afternoon.

District Attorney George M. Brown this afternoon received a message from his deputy at Coquille, Coos county, to the effect that the "wets" had decided to contest the local option election held in Curry county. Curry county recently went "dry" by a substantial vote after being "wet" for many years. The "wets", it is said, will contend that the notice of election were irregular and did not conform to the state election laws inasmuch as District Attorney Brown is well posted on the election laws he will probably defend the election in behalf of the county.

BLOW UP CANAL

McManigal Says This was Planned by McNamara.

DESTROY CITY WATER WORKS

Then Set Fires Throughout City of Los Angeles Was Part of Arrangement Laid Out For McNamara.

(Special to The Evening News.)

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 25.—Orville McManigal, who was an accomplice of McNamara, but who confessed his part in the dynamiting plans and is the government's star witness in the prosecution of the union men, all members of the structural iron workers, now on trial, swore today that McNamara had planned, after destroying the Los Angeles Times building, to proceed to Panama and blow up all the non-union works there. He further alleged that McNamara said that he would burn the city of Los Angeles off the map and make of it a landmark like San Francisco was after the great earthquake. Witness positively asserted that McNamara had planned to send several trusty men throughout Los Angeles to start fires and dynamite the water works. The water supply being cut off there would be no hope of saving the city.

URGES OREGON MADE PRODUCTS

Sen. Booth Tells O. A. C. Students How to Help Build Up State Industries.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Ore., Nov. 24.—In a ringing speech at convocation, this noon, the Hon. R. A. Booth of Eugene told the students of the Oregon Agricultural College of the possibilities open to them in developing the resources of the state through the use of Oregon produce.

"No citizen of our state can disregard the injunction of the executive's proclamation and heed the state's best interest," said Sen. Booth. "It may seem like a commonplace thing to urge our citizens to the use of Oregon grown, Oregon made articles, but it is fundamental to our success as a community that seeks wealth and comfort."

"To guard against undue importation is elemental in its economic force and therefore is a patriotic duty. The greatest stimulus to continued and better effort is the success of effort exerted at home. Home comforts from the home land, might well become our slogan. If a resident of Oregon asks bread from any but Oregon flour, he might better be given a stone.

"The Oregon home-keeper who supplies her table, furnishes her apartments and adorns her parlor with Oregon products is of infinitely more value to Oregon society than the one who robs our common treasury by sending away for articles that have no more real worth. Blessing on the Oregon woman whose sentiment is founded upon good sense!"

"The fir and pine, the oak and ash, the maple and myrtle that form our forests are fit to house a king, and kingly Oregonians employ them. For an Oregonian to be misinformed as to the good qualities of Oregon products shows a willful disregard of common knowledge. To be persuaded by a silly vanity to bring from other places what Oregon can supply is on a par with exchanging domestic wealth for foreign titles. Why cannot this become the day from which shall date a new loyalty born of patriotic good sense? From this day none shall be disloyal but to be condemned. Let the word go along the line, 'If I serve you, you must serve me in return. I use your products and you use mine.'"

"Our professional men, merchants and bankers, owe their present opportunities, their success, and their fortunes largely to the producers of Oregon. Let them then be true to the Oregon producer's interests or

MAY SELL HOTEL

A deal is in course of consummation here today, where—by C. H. N. Gronvold, for the past few years in charge of the McClallen hotel, at the corner of Douglas and Jackson streets, will probably sell his holdings to Mrs. Stark and two sons, of Kennewick, Wash. The Starks are experienced in the hotel business, and for the past five years have conducted the Kennewick hotel, one of Washington's foremost hostleries. In the event the deal is consummated as expected, Mr. and Mrs. Gronvold will probably leave Roseburg and locate elsewhere. The McClallen hotel is one of the oldest and best known hostleries in the entire state, and while under its present management, has enjoyed a prosperous business. Mr. Gronvold stated this afternoon that a substantial payment had been advanced by the contemplated purchasers, and he believes the deal will be closed within a few days.

be gone. If the performance of a plain duty to Oregon's interests heretofore has been from thoughtlessness, let it not be condoned hereafter. With our own people, wedded to our climate, cheered by our scenery, made hopeful by promised riches on every hand, there will be no faltering hereafter, certainly, so far as home consumption of home products is concerned; and cheered by such substantial increased aid as may thus be offered our farmers and our manufacturers, they will double their efforts, increase their payrolls and multiply their outputs."

THE BEE HIVE CHANGES HANDS.

Roy Roadman and Russell Dunham Are the New Proprietors—Assume Possession Dec. 1.

An important business change took place today when the Bee Hive, one of Roseburg's well known grocery stores was purchased by Roy Roadman and Russell Dunham. Actual possession will be given the first of next month.

Both of the new proprietors are young men of sterling ability and are very favorably known not only to the grocery trade, but throughout the county generally. Mr. Roadman has been manager of the Bee Hive for the past two years and a half and much of the success of its business has been due to his careful attention to business and his courtesy to the trade. Mr. Dunham has been one of the popular clerks at the Roseburg, Rochdale store for some time past and he engages in business for himself with a large circle of friends and patrons.

The firm will continue in business at the old quarters of the Bee Hive and will no doubt share a liberal patronage from the public.

An important business deal was consummated in Roseburg this morning, when Rudolph Harness, for the past two years in charge of the North Side Grocery disposed of his holdings to Petty & Walker, recent arrivals in this section of the county. The new owners were engaged in business at Glendale for some time prior to a few years ago when they went to Texas. A few weeks ago they tired of their location, and after visiting numerous localities decided to settle in Roseburg. The purchase of the North Side grocery followed. Petty & Walker will assume possession of their new holdings on December 1. Mr. Harness expects to leave soon after the first of the year for Eastern Oregon where he may locate permanently.
