For the Hostess.

You may have a dinner with the best appointment and cuisine, and if your guests are badly chosen the dinner will be a social failure.

Certain elements will not coalesce, and the woman who tries to force the process is courting an explosion. Choose guests as you would shoes—because they fit.

You may be catholic in your taste and enjoy the butterfly without a brain and the woman who is all brain, but without social grace; the artist or musician, the snob who distrusts all the clever coterie, the man who loves a gay story and the woman who is easily shocked.

But gather those friends around a common board and you may count on their boredom.

If you must have a mixed dinner pray for tact in the seating. "A man cares what he eats; a woman cares whom she sits next."

Never seat your guests according to social position. The practice makes neither the dinner nor the hostess popular. If you put the socially unimportant together your entertaining will never be a success.

Custom has it that those who sit on the right and left of the host and hostess may feel themselves singled out for attention, but choose for reasons. Do not give your guests a chance to gibe at you as a money worshiper or one with an ax to grind.

Do not have dinners so large as to prevent general conversation. Not all who go out to dinner are blessed with manners, and the hostess should have it in her power to go to the rescue of the guest who is neglected by her neighbors.

Introducing the Debutante.

No young girl in society is ever allowed to accept invitations to dinners or dances or anything, in fact, except children's parties or schoolgirl luncheons or very informal festivities given especially for juveniles until she has been formally introduced to the social world. This is done by her mother giving for her some sort of rather formal function, which usually takes the form of a dance or large afternoon or evening reception.

To this affair are invited all the friends of the mother and also those young friends of the daughter who have already made their debut into society.

If an afternoon reception has been chosen as the initial festivity of the debutante daughter the affair is usually held at from 3 to 4 or from 4 to 7 p. m. Promptly at the appointed hour the mother takes her place in the drawing room near the door leading to the entrance hall. The daughter who is to be introduced stands at her left and assists her mother in receiving the guests. If, as is usually the case, the young girl is a stranger to many of her mother's guests the mother after welcoming each visitor says simply, "Mrs. Burton, this is my daughter Dorothy," or, "Mr. Carrington, let me present you to my daughter." Each person so presented should talk a moment or two with the young girl and then pass on.

Don'ts For Engaged Girls.

Don't make unreasonable demands on your fiance's time. Remember that his work must come first if he is ever to earn an income sufficient for himself and his wife. So don't be disagreeable to him if he is kept late at the office on an evening when he had promised to take you out. He will be just as annoyed about this as you are, and there is no need to make matters worse by having a scene.

Don't forget to pay every possible attention to his people, particularly his mother and sisters. They may perhaps be a little jealous of you at first, and if you are foolish enough to resent this the situation may become very unpleasant indeed.

Don't "spoon" or quarrel in public, for by doing so you would place yourself in a ridiculous situation and the onlookers in an embarrassing one.

Don't drag your fiance's name into every conversation. It sounds silly.

Don't write affectionate postcards. If you want to be affectionate do it in a letter, which cannot be read by any one except the man to whom it is addressed.

Art of Receiving Compliments.

One of the first things a girl has to learn is the art of receiving compliments, neither appropriating nor disclaiming them.

It is sometimes difficult and to blush is fatal.

Oh, those youthful blushes! How disconcerting they are to their vexed owners, and yet what a charm they give to ingenuous girlhood.

The skillful complimenteer embarrasses no one, not even the shyest girl. He knows how to convey an expression of his appreciation without exactly saying it.

Such a man can flatter one's self love quite sufficiently in merely saying, "How well you look!"

The tone and manner are eloquent enough to supplement the poverty of the words, and their meagerness allows the recipient of the compliment to accept it without embarrassment.

A flippant compliment makes a woman look—or at least feel—a perfect goose. But they belong to a past age.

HAVE YOU CONSULTED HIM

Crowds of people are thronging to see Professor C. Vance, the celebrated palmist and clairvoyant, who has been at the Grand Hotel, rooms 1 and 2, for the past 3 weeks.

The professor is doing a rushing business, his parlors being crowded with some of the most prominent people in this city. Every one who has called on the noted palmist and clairvoyant says that he tells them their life better than they know it themselves, and they are convinced when he tells their name and every wish of their heart. No matter what your trouble is, he can and will help you, and if you still doubt that he can do all that he advertises, ask your neighbor, or better still, call and be convinced. He guarantees to reveal every incident of your life, tell when, whom and where you will marry, tell you just what you are fitted for and how to obtain money you are in need of. The happiness of your future life may depend upon the right solution and proper advice. The professor makes no mistakes, and all his predictions are true, and he may be relied upon. You may wish to know if it is advisable to make a change in business, in love and marriage.

WHOM SHALL I MARRY? HOW OFTEN SHALL I MARRY? SHALL I EVER BE DIVORCED? DOES ANOTHER SHARE THE LOVE THAT RIGHTFULLY BELONGS TO ME? IF SO, WHO? IS MY DISEASE CURABLE? WHEN SHALL I LEAVE HERE? AM I LIABLE TO ACCIDENT? SHOULD I INVEST MY MONEY? IN WHAT SHALL I INVEST? HAVE I ANY ENEMIES? CAN I TRUST MY FRIENDS? IN WHAT TOWN OR STATE WOULD I BE MOST SUCCESSFUL? HOW CAN I SELL PROPERTY? HOW CAN I HAVE GOOD LUCK? HOW CAN I SUCCEED IN BUSINESS? HOW CAN I MAKE MY HOME HAPPY? WHERE AND WHEN CAN I GET A GOOD POSITION? HOW CAN I MARRY THE ONE I CHOOSE? HOW CAN I MAKE ANYONE LOVE ME? HOW CAN I CONTROL ANY ONE?

The professor tells all of these things and many more. He is ever ready to help those with small capital to find a quick and sure investment. If your business is unsuccessful, if your health is not good, or if you are in trouble of any kind, you should see this truly gifted medium at once. He has helped thousands on the road to success, and he can and will help you.

Office hours: 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. Sunday, 1 to 4 p. m. Lady in attendance. The reception rooms, located just at the head of the stairs, are so arranged that you meet no strangers, and you can walk right up, not necessary to enquire at desk.

Notice: All diseases diagnosed astronomically and clairvoyantly. Come, all you sick people, and I will tell you exactly what sickness you have, and will also tell you where and when you can be cured.

READY FOR INSPECTION.

We beg to call the attention of the public to the fact that our annual shipments of trees are now coming in so that within a couple of weeks time we will have the entire assortment ready for your inspection. The constantly increasing patronage of our Nursery Yard has encouraged us to enlarge our already extensive assortment so that there is little chance of not being able to supply our patrons with everything that is well-adapted to the Umpqua Valley or Southern Oregon. We have all the standard commercial varieties of Apple, Pear, Prune, Peach and Cherry as well as an extensive assortment of varieties of these fruits for family use. We have all the best varieties of Nectarines, Apricots, Quinces, Almonds, Walnuts, Chestnuts, Pecans and Filberts. Fourteen varieties of Grapes. All kinds of Berry Vines, besides a large assortment of Shade and Ornamental trees and plants, Flower Bulbs, etc. Come and see for yourself that these are choice first-class stock. Also that the prices are right. You see before you buy, and our system of buying in large quantities enables us to furnish the best of stock at the same or less price than the same class of trees can be had elsewhere.
