From Oklahoma comes a striking tribute to the work of the Portland Commercial Club. A homeseecker there, who has his eyes fixed on the Pacific Northwest, writes as follows: "A number of us Oklahoma people wrote to various places in the West for information. Some that we received we doubted and some we disbelieved. We therefore wrote to the United States Department of Agriculture at Washington, D. C., asking where we could write to obtain absolutely accurate information about the Northwest. The reply said: 'For general information write to the Portland Commercial Club; for local

Accused of the crime of assault with intent to kill, Edward Lough, who resides on Deer Creek was brought here late last evening and lodged in the county jail. The complaint was preferred by his wife. According to the story told by neighbors Lough made a vicious attack on his wife early yesterday, knocking her to the ground and pulling handfuls of hair from her head. A 15-year-old daughter rushed to her mother's assistance with a stove shovel and struck her brutal father a blow over the head which laid open his scalp and rendered him unconscious. Lough was later brought to Roseburg and turned over to Sheriff George Quine. He was arraigned in the justice court this morning, and the hearing was set for Friday. Being unable to furnish bonds in the sum of $500 Lough will probably spend the next few days in the county jail. Lough has been drinking quite heavy of late and according to Mrs. Lough has consumed two gallons of whiskey since November 19. He has frequently threatened to kill his wife, and had it not been for the timely assistance of her daughter he would have probably made good his word in yesterday's melee.
