RECEPTION AND SMOKER FOR GOVERNOR AT THE UMPIQUA

More than a hundred of Roseburg's most substantial business and professional men met in the spacious and elegant lobby of the newly opened Umpqua hotel last night and tendered a reception and smoker to the governor of Oregon, Oswald West, on the occasion of his attendance here at the county fair, now in progress. By 8 o'clock the great corridors of this new pride of all the citizens of the city, was crowded with well groomed men whose appearance would have been a credit to any metropolitan gathering. At about nine the doors of the dining room were thrown open and the guests filed in taking their places at the tables, which had been arranged in the form of a square, at the head of which sat the guest of honor with prominent officials and citizens on either side. The tables were beautifully decorated and presented a brilliant appearance, and the managers of the hostelry had made every arrangement for the comfort and convenience of all that were seated.

A splendid ten course menu had been prepared that elicited continual praise from each one fortunate enough to have been present. Inasmuch as the hotel had such short notice of the event, and workmen were still engaged in making the final finishing touches to the interior, the remarkable ease and efficiency with which everything was managed, redounded greatly to the credit of the men in charge of this place. Every course was served, every duty performed with the speed and perfection of an old long established business. After coffee and cigars had been passed, and every one had settled back in their seats, Judge Rice, who acted as toastmaster, called first on Judge Hamilton who responded after certain legal pleasantries had been exchanged between them, much to the edification of the others. Everybody in Douglas county knows Judge Hamilton, and also know when he says anything it is something that will be well said and well worth hearing, and this was no exception. Governor West in his remarks next, did not attempt any regular set speech, but confined his after dinner talk to those things that one tells best to close old-time friends, and in that conversational manner that is pleasing on such occasions as this was intended to be. The longest speech of any was that made by Prof. Rebec, of Eugene, and was confined largely to university extension matters. These were very well received and the closest attention was given throughout the entire time. This ended the talks and the reception closed in time to allow the party to catch the train north.

ARMORY READY IN FALL.

Plans Be Prepared and Work Started—Another Year Before Completed.

Dr. Houck today received a letter from General Finzer concerning the armory to be built next year which reads as follows:

Portland, Or., Sept. 17, 1913. Captain George E. Houck, Roseburg, Oregon.

Dear Captain: At a meeting held by the general staff recently, it was declared to go ahead and complete the plans for the armory, asking for bids as soon as practical after they are finished. The idea is to go ahead and complete the foundation this fall and allow the contractor time enough to build the upper part of the building next spring. If he finds it necessary to do so.

We are anxious to have the work finished at the earliest possible date. I am writing Mr. Knighton today with reference to the matter. Very truly,

W. E. FINZER, Adjutant General.

Word was also received from Architect Knighton to the effect that the plans and specifications would soon be finished and sent here. The contract will then be let and the foundation completed.
